3 (a) 1., 84.30 (5r) (a) 2., 84.30 (5r) (a) 3., 84.30 (5r) (be), 84.30 (5r) (bs) and 84.30
4 (5r) (cm) of the statutes; relating to: outdoor advertising signs that do not
5 conform to local ordinances and that are affected by certain 6 transportation-related projects.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill revises the standards governing the treatment of outdoor advertising signs that do not conform to local ordinances (signs) and that are affected by certain transportation-related public projects.

Under current law, if a highway project of the Department of Transportation causes the realignment of a sign, the realignment does not affect the sign's nonconforming status under the ordinance. "Realignment" is defined as relocation on the same site. If DOT proposes the realignment of a sign in connection with a highway project, DOT must notify the municipality or county that adopted the ordinance to which the sign does not conform of the sign's proposed realignment. The municipality or county may then petition DOT to condemn the sign instead of realigning the sign, but must pay DOT for certain costs of condemnation if DOT succeeds in condemning the sign.

This bill expands the types of projects covered, eliminates the realignment provision, and creates provisions related to signs that are removed and signs whose visibility is reduced. Under this bill, if a transportation project for which DOT has allocated state or federal funds (state project) causes the removal of a sign, the sign's nonconforming status under the ordinance is not affected if the sign is repositioned or, if the sign cannot be repositioned, the sign is transferred to a parcel on the same highway or, if the sign cannot be transferred to a parcel on the same highway, to another parcel to which the sign owner and the municipality agree the sign may be transferred. If a state project reduces the visibility of a sign, the sign's nonconforming status under the ordinance is not affected if the sign is repositioned, or, if the sign cannot be repositioned, the sign face is raised, lowered, or rotated so as to provide substantially the same view of the sign from the roadway from which motorists are intended to view the sign as existed before the state project, or, if the sign cannot be repositioned and the sign face cannot be adjusted, the sign is transferred. "Reposition" under this bill means to remove a sign and erect the sign or a replacement sign on the same parcel and not more than 25 feet in either direction, measured parallel to the roadway, and not more than 660 feet, measured perpendicular to the roadway, from the location from which the sign is removed. "Transfer" under this bill means to remove a sign and erect the sign or a replacement sign within the same municipality.

Also under this bill:

1. If DOT proposes the repositioning or transfer of a sign in connection with a state project, DOT must notify the municipality or county that adopted the ordinance to which the sign does not conform of the sign's proposed repositioning or transfer. The municipality or county may then petition DOT to condemn the sign instead of repositioning or transferring the sign, but must pay DOT for certain costs of condemnation if DOT succeeds in condemning the sign.

2. If a sign is adjusted, repositioned, or transferred, DOT must pay to the sign owner the costs incurred by the sign owner in adjusting, repositioning, or transferring the sign.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
