Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill makes changes to current law regarding the process by which a county sells land it has acquired by a tax-deed for the enforcement and collection of delinquent property taxes. The changes include the following:

1. Under current law, a county board is authorized to engage licensed real estate brokers and salespersons to assist in selling tax-deeded land. Under the bill, the county may sell such lands by open or closed bid.

2. Under current law, when selling tax-deeded land, the county may give preference to the former owner or heirs of the former owner who wish to purchase the land. Under the bill, the county must give preference not only to the former owner or heirs but also to the beneficiaries of the former owner who wish to purchase the land.

3. Except for counties with a population of 750,000 or more, current law prohibits the sale of tax delinquent real property acquired by a county unless the sale and appraised value of the property has first been advertised by publication of a class 3 notice. However, a county that enacts an ordinance giving preference to the former owner or the heirs of the owner who wish to purchase the property is exempt from the requirement that the sale must first be advertised by publishing a notice, if the net proceeds from the sale are sufficient to pay all special assessments and special charges on the property, including interests.

Under the bill, this exemption applies if the net proceeds from the sale are equal to or exceed the amounts owed the county as delinquent taxes, interest, penalties, and amounts associated with selling the property. The exemption also applies to a county that enacts an ordinance that includes giving preference to the beneficiaries of the former owner who wish to purchase the property and the net proceeds from the sale are equal to or exceed the amounts owed the county as delinquent taxes, interest, penalties, and amounts associated with selling the property.

4. In addition, under the bill, except for counties with a population of 750,000 or more, before the sale of tax-deeded property, the county must advertise the sale by publishing on the county's website and either by publishing a class 1 notice or by advertising on a multiple listing service, no later than 240 days after the county acquires the property or, beginning in 2026, no later than 180 days after the county acquires the property.

5. Under the bill, a county with a population of 750,000 or more, must advertise the sale by publishing on the county's website and either by publishing a class 1 notice or by advertising on a multiple listing service, no later than 36 months after the county acquires the property, if the property meets certain criteria, including being a vacant lot or subject to a raze order.

6. Under current law, the net proceeds from the county's sale of the property are determined by subtracting certain amounts from the sales price, such as the amount of real estate agent or broker fees paid for selling the property. The bill modifies current law by allowing the subtraction of reasonable and customary real estate agent or broker fees or other actual costs paid for selling the property.

7. Under current law, if the county is unable to locate the former owner within five years following the mailing of the notice, the former owner forfeits the right to any remaining equity in the property. The bill replaces this provision with a requirement that any remaining equity not claimed within one year be considered unclaimed funds and disposed according to that process.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:
