1 AN ACT to amend 27.01 (15) of the statutes; relating to: electric receptacles at
2 campsites in state parks.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, the ratio of campsites in state parks that have electric receptacles as compared to all campsites in state parks must be equal to or less than the ratio which existed on April 26, 1988. This bill changes this ratio to a maximum of 50%. Therefore, under the bill not more than 50% of the campsites that are located in state parks may have electric receptacles. The bill defines "state park campsite" to be one that is accessible by a vehicle.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:
