Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, a pupil who is expelled from one school district and moves to another school district must be accepted by the latter school district for enrollment. This bill provides that no school district is required to enroll a pupil during the term of his or her expulsion from another school district. The bill also provides that, if an expelled pupil seeks to enroll in another school district, upon request the school board of the pupil's former school district must provide the other school district with a written explanation of the reasons why the pupil was expelled.
