Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Currently, under the Wisconsin Constitution, an elector has one vote to cast jointly for the offices of governor and lieutenant governor. Under current law, an independent candidate for the office of governor or lieutenant governor may only have his or her name appear on the ballot if he or she files nomination papers that indicate the name of a running mate whose name is to appear on the ballot with that candidate's name. The failure of an elector who casts a write-in vote for the office of governor to cast a write-in vote for a candidate for lieutenant governor, or the failure of an elector who casts a write-in vote for the office of lieutenant governor to cast a write-in vote for a candidate for governor invalidates the elector's vote cast for the office of governor or lieutenant governor alone.

This bill permits an independent candidate for the office of governor or lieutenant governor to file nomination papers without a running mate, and permits an elector to cast a vote for that candidate or to write in the name of a candidate for the office of governor or lieutenant governor without voting for any candidate as the running mate of that candidate. Under the bill, any vote cast singly for a candidate for the office of governor or lieutenant governor is not cumulated with any other vote cast by another elector for the same candidate for the same office if that other elector indicates a choice for the running mate of that candidate, and any vote cast for a candidate for governor or lieutenant governor is not cumulated with any other vote cast by another elector for the same candidate for the same office if that other elector does not indicate the same choice for a running mate of that candidate.
