SENATE BILL 389

1 landscape architects, professional engineers, designers and land surveyors
2 (suggested as remedial legislation by the department of regulation and
3 licensing).

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill makes various remedial changes to statutes concerning: 1) private detectives, private detective agencies and private security persons; 2) the examining board of architects, landscape architects, professional engineers, designers and land surveyors; and 3) miscellaneous other requirements.

Private detectives, private detective agencies and private security persons

Under current law, the department of regulation and licensing (DORL) issues private detective and private detective agency licenses and private security permits to persons who satisfy certain requirements. With certain exceptions, a person may not act as a private detective, private detective agency or private security person without a license or permit. One of the requirements for a private security permit is that a private detective agency that employs an applicant for the permit must provide a recent photograph and the fingerprints of the applicant. Under this bill, the applicant for the permit, rather than the applicant's employer, must provide a recent photograph and his or her fingerprints.

Also under current law, DORL is required to promulgate rules relating to the carrying of dangerous weapons by persons who are issued private detective licenses and private security permits. The rules must meet minimum requirements under a federal law regarding the reciprocity of state licenses for certain employees of armored car companies. Under current law, this state does not have licensing requirements for such employees. This bill eliminates the requirement that DORL's rules for private detectives and private security persons meet the federal law's requirements for armored car company employees.

The bill also makes nonsubstantive changes to the provisions under current law regarding private detective and private detective agency licenses and private security permits.

Examining board of architects, landscape architects, professional engineers, designers and land surveyors

Under current law, DORL and any board in DORL, including the examining board of architects, landscape architects, professional engineers, designers and land surveyors (examining board) may take disciplinary action against a person credentialed by DORL or a board if a complaint is filed against the person. Current law also contains specific provisions that allow the different sections of the examining board to take the same action. This bill eliminates these specific provisions that deal only with the examining board.

Also under current law, a credential that is issued by a board in DORL, including the examining board, may be suspended or revoked upon a vote by two-thirds of the voting members of the board. Current law also contains specific provisions that allow the land surveyor section of the examining board to take disciplinary action, including suspending or revoking a credential, or to reinstate a credential, upon a vote of three of the five members of the section. This bill eliminates these specific provisions that deal only with the land surveyor section. The bill also eliminates provisions under current law that specify that the designer section of the examining board may take disciplinary action upon a two-thirds vote by its five members.

The bill also eliminates the requirement under current law that the examining board prepare a roster of all engineers-in-training and land surveyors that are credentialed by the board. The bill does not affect a requirement under current law that each board in DORL, including the examining board, maintain a register of the names and addresses of all persons who are credentialed.

Other changes

Under current law, a person is not allowed to use a title related to audiology or speech-language pathology, or practice audiology or speech-language pathology, unless he or she is granted a license by the hearing and speech examining board. Prior to July 1, 1993, such persons were granted certificates of registration by the hearing and speech examining board. This bill eliminates all outdated references to audiology and speech-language pathology certificates of registration.

Under current law, a person may not fit or sell hearing aids unless he or she is granted a license by the hearing and speech examining board to practice as a hearing instrument specialist. “Hearing aid” is defined as a device that aids or compensates for impaired hearing. In addition, certain requirements apply to the fitting and sale of hearing aids by a person who is licensed by the hearing and speech examining board. This bill replaces the term “hearing aid” with the term “hearing instrument”, which the bill defines to have the same meaning as “hearing aid” under current law.

This bill eliminates outdated references in state law to transitional appraiser licenses. Under current law, no transitional appraiser license granted by DORL is valid after January 1, 1996.

Under current law, the medical examining board grants licenses and certificates that allow a person to engage in the following professions: occupational therapist, occupational therapy assistant, physician, physician assistant, podiatrist and respiratory care practitioner. A license or certificate is not required for a person who assists a respiratory care practitioner in practice under the direct, immediate and on-premises supervision of the respiratory care practitioner.

This bill exempts a person from the requirement to be licensed or certified by the medical examining board if he or she assists an occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant in practice under the direct, immediate and on-premises supervision of the occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant.

Under current law, a physician or podiatrist must renew his or her certificate of registration by November 1 of each odd-numbered year. When a physician or podiatrist applies for renewal, he or she must submit proof that he or she attended and completed at least 30 hours of continuing education courses within the two calendar years preceding the calendar year for which his or her certificate of registration is effective.

This bill requires a physician or podiatrist to attend and complete the courses within the two-year period preceding the date of his or her application for renewal, instead of within the two calendar years preceding the calendar year for which his or her certificate of registration is effective.

Also, under current law, a certificate that allows an optometrist to use therapeutic pharmaceutical agents or remove foreign bodies from an eye expires on January 1 of each even-numbered year. An optometrist who applies for renewal of this certificate must satisfy continuing education requirements established in rules promulgated by the optometry examining board. The rules may not require an optometrist to complete more than 30 hours of continuing education courses within the two calendar years immediately preceding the expiration date of the certificate.

This bill requires an optometrist who applies for renewal of the certificate to complete the continuing education courses within the two years immediately preceding the date of his or her application for renewal, instead of within the two calendar years immediately preceding the expiration date of the certificate.

Under current law, the accounting examining board regulates both public accountants and certified public accountants. A person may not practice as a public accountant unless he or she holds both a certificate of authority as a public accountant that is issued by the accounting examining board and a license. A person may not practice as a certified public accountant unless he or she holds a certificate as a certified public accountant that is issued by the accounting examining board and a license. The accounting examining board may issue a certificate of authority as a public accountant only to a person who applied for the certificate before December 1, 1935. This bill eliminates the certificate of authority as a public accountant.

Current law also provides that a person who applied for a certificate as a certified public accountant before July 1, 1968, must satisfy certain education and experience requirements. This bill eliminates these requirements.

13 client or the client's personal representative or assignee, to anyone other than one
14 or more surviving partners or new or successor partners of such accountant.

NOTE: SECTIONS 12, 14, 16, 17, 23 to 26, 33 to 35, and 62 to 82 eliminate obsolete references in current law relating to public accountants. First, the bill repeals statutes that provide that the accounting examining board may grant a certificate of authority to practice as a public accountant only to a person who applied for the certificate of authority before December 1, 1935. The accounting examining board is no longer able to grant certificates of authority to practice as a public accountant, and there are no longer any public accountants practicing public accounting under a certificate of authority.

Second, a provision in current law specifies that a person who applies for a certificate as a certified public accountant before July 1, 1968, must satisfy certain education and experience requirements. This provision is now obsolete.

15 SECTION 83. 443.10 (4) (title) of the statutes is repealed and recreated to read:

16 443.10 (4) (title) RECORDS.

17 SECTION 84. 443.10 (4) (a) of the statutes is repealed.

18 SECTION 85. 443.10 (4) (b) of the statutes is renumbered 443.10 (4).

19 SECTION 86. 443.10 (6) of the statutes is repealed.

SENATE BILL 389

NOTE: SECTIONS 83 to 86 of this bill repeal provisions in current law relating to the use of annual printed rosters of professionals regulated by the examining board of architects, landscape architects, engineers, designers and land surveyors. According to the department of regulation and licensing, these provisions are obsolete because the department uses computerized lists instead of printed rosters.

1 SECTION 87. 443.11 (3), (4) and (5) of the statutes are repealed.

2 SECTION 88. 443.12 (1) of the statutes is renumbered 443.12.

3 SECTION 89. 443.12 (2), (3) and (4) of the statutes are repealed.

4 SECTION 90. 443.13 of the statutes is amended to read:

5 443.13 Disciplinary proceedings against designers of engineering
6 systems. The examining board may limit, suspend or revoke a permit or reprimand
7 the permittee if the permittee is guilty of fraud or deceit in obtaining the permit,
8 gross negligence, incompetency or misconduct in practice, signing documents not
9 prepared by the permittee or under the permittee's control, knowingly aiding or 10 abetting unauthorized designing of engineering systems as stated in s. 443.07 (3) by 11 persons not granted permits under this chapter or conviction of a felony, subject to 12 ss. 111.321, 111.322 and 111.335, or adjudication of mental incompetency by a court
13 of competent jurisdiction. ~~If, after a hearing conducted under the rules promulgated~~
14 ~~under s. 440.03 (1) before the designers' section of the examining board, two-thirds~~
15 ~~of the members of the section vote in favor of sustaining the charges, the examining~~ 16 ~~board shall reprimand the permittee or limit, suspend or revoke the permit. The~~
17 ~~action of the examining board is subject to review under ch. 227.~~

NOTE: SECTIONS 87 to 90 of this bill repeal provisions in current law that set forth disciplinary proceedings against professionals regulated by the examining board of architects, landscape architects, engineers, designers and land surveyors. Because general statutes in ch. 440, stats., establish complaint and disciplinary proceedings that apply to all examining boards, the department of regulation and licensing states that the specific provisions in ch. 443, stats., are redundant and should be repealed.

18 SECTION 91. 448.03 (2) (L) of the statutes is created to read:

SENATE BILL 389SECTION 91

1 448.03 (2) (L) Any person assisting an occupational therapist or occupational
2 therapy assistant in practice under the direct, immediate, on-premises supervision
3 of the occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant.

NOTE: SECTION 91 of this bill permits an occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant to utilize an assistant if the assistant is under the direct, immediate, on-premises supervision of the occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant. According to the department of regulation and licensing, this change provides parity for occupational therapists with respiratory care practitioners, physicians and podiatrists, who are permitted to use unlicensed health care aides, providing the aides act under the direct supervision of the credentialed professional.

4 SECTION 92. 448.13 (1) (a) of the statutes is amended to read:

5 448.13 (1) (a) Each physician shall, in each 2nd year at the time of application

7 completion of continuing education programs or courses of study approved for at 8 least 30 hours of credit by the board within the 2 calendar years immediately
9 preceding the calendar year for which the registration is effective date of his or her
10 application for a certificate of registration. The board may waive this requirement
11 if it finds that exceptional circumstances such as prolonged illness, disability or other
12 similar circumstances have prevented a physician from meeting the requirement.

NOTE: SECTION 92 of this bill corrects terminology in the statute that requires physicians to submit proof of attendance at and completion of continuing education programs. Under the bill, a physician must submit proof that at least 30 hours of courses have been completed during the 2 years immediately preceding the date of the physician's application for renewal. The current statute reads that the proof must be submitted within 2 calendar years immediately preceding the calendar year for which the registration is effective.

13 SECTION 93. 449.18 (7) of the statutes is amended to read:

14 449.18 (7) The examining board shall promulgate rules requiring applicants
15 for renewal under sub. (4) to attend continuing education courses approved by the 16 examining board. The rules shall establish criteria for the approval of such courses
17 and may not require an applicant for renewal to attend more than 30 hours of courses

SENATE BILL 389

1 within the 2 calendar years immediately preceding the expiration date specified in
2 sub. (4) of his or her application for renewal.

NOTE: SECTION 93 of this bill corrects terminology in the statute that requires optometrists to submit proof of attendance at and completion of continuing education programs. Under the bill, an optometrist must submit proof that at least 30 hours of courses have been attended during the 2 years immediately preceding the date of the optometrist's application for renewal. The current statute reads that the proof must be submitted within 2 calendar years immediately preceding the calendar year for which the registration is effective.

4 SECTION 95. 458.09 (2) (intro.) of the statutes is amended to read:

6 458.08 (3) ~~or (5) (a)~~ or for renewal of that certificate under s. 458.11 is an assessor,
7 all of the following apply:

NOTE: SECTIONS 94 and 95 of this bill remove obsolete provisions from the statutes that provide that transitional licenses for real estate appraisers expire on January 1, 1996.

10 examination or representation made by a hearing instrument specialist in
