

2005 SENATE BILL 719

April 28, 2006 – Introduced by Senator BRESKE, cosponsored by Representatives MEYER, FRISKE, GARD and MURSAU. Referred to Committee on Agriculture and Insurance.

1 AN ACT to amend 90.20 (2) (intro.); and to create 90.21 (2) (d) and 95.55 (1) (c)
2 of the statutes; relating to: fenced areas of farm-raised deer that are located
3 both in this state and in an adjoining state.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, no person may keep any type of deer on a deer farm without being registered with the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP). To register with DATCP a deer farm owner who is keeping farm-raised deer other than white-tailed deer must comply with statutory requirements for the fencing of these deer (DATCP requirements). A deer farm owner who keeps farm-raised white-tailed deer must receive a fence inspection certificate from the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) before being registered with DATCP. To receive a fence certificate, the fence must be in compliance with DNR rules that establish fencing requirements for white-tailed deer.

Current law requires DATCP to promulgate rules establishing testing requirements for chronic wasting disease (CWD) in deer and authorizes, but does not require, DATCP to establish rules to be followed by persons keeping farm-raised deer to prevent the spread of disease.

This bill exempts the owner of a deer farm that exists on the date this bill becomes law and that is located in two states from having to have the entire area in this state fenced, if certain requirements are met. These include meeting the applicable fencing requirements of this state or the adjoining state, whichever are more stringent, as determined by DNR and complying with the disease prevention laws of this state or the adjoining state, whichever are more stringent, as determined by DATCP. Also, the deer farm owner must have any deer that dies from natural causes or harvesting on the deer farm tested for CWD and must have the results submitted to DATCP and to DNR. Moreover, a deer farm owner must report any incidents of deer escaping from the farm to DATCP and to DNR and may not release any deer from the farm into the wild in this state.
