Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, the Higher Educational Aids Board (HEAB) administers various student loan programs under which certain percentages of the loans are forgiven for each year that a loan recipient is employed in certain professions after the completion of the recipient's program of study. Those programs include programs under which loans are forgiven after the recipient has been employed as a nurse in this state, as a teacher in the Milwaukee Public Schools, as a teacher of visually impaired pupils or as an orientation and mobility instructor in this state, and as a teacher in a school district in this state in which minority students constitute at least 29 percent of the membership of the school district.

This bill creates a loan program, to be administered by HEAB, to defray a portion of the cost of tuition, fees, and expenses for persons who are enrolled at an accredited school of veterinary medicine in this state in a curriculum leading to a doctor of veterinary medicine degree and who agree to engage full time in this state for not less than six years in a veterinary medicine practice in which not less than 75 percent of the revenue produced by the loan recipient is derived from providing veterinary medical services to animals that are raised to produce food for human consumption (food-producing animal veterinary practice).
