Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill creates an enhanced penalty for persons who are convicted of a crime that a fact-finder determines to be gang-related. Under the bill, if a person is convicted of a violation of the criminal code or of a violation related to a controlled substance, and the violation was committed for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association with a criminal gang or committed with the intent to promote or otherwise assist any criminal conduct by criminal gang members, the term of imprisonment for the crime may be increased.

Under the bill, if the underlying offense is a misdemeanor, the court may increase the maximum term of imprisonment for the misdemeanor by up to six months. The court may increase the maximum term of imprisonment for a Class A to Class D felony by up to five years, for a Class E to Class G felony by up to four years, and for a Class H or Class I felony by up to three years.
