Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, a political subdivision may regulate places, structures, or objects with special character, historic interest, aesthetic interest, or other significant value. A political subdivision may also designate historic landmarks and establish historic districts and may regulate the historic landmarks or the properties within a historic district for historic preservation purposes.

Under this bill, a political subdivision may not designate a property as a historic landmark without the consent of the owner. Also under this bill, a political subdivision may not establish a historic district unless the political subdivision receives the consent of the owners of one-half of the land in area within the proposed district or the owners of one-half of the real property in assessed value within the proposed district.

For further information see the local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
