

CHAPTER 108.

[Published April 16, 1867.]

AN ACT for the relief of the families of citizens of Wisconsin who served in the naval service of the United States.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows :

SECTION 1. Every citizen of this state who enlisted and served as a non-commissioned officer, seaman, ordinary seaman, marine or landsman in the naval service of the United States during the late civil war, or any part thereof, and who, during the time of such service, had a family dependent on him for support, who was credited to the state of Wisconsin upon its quota under any call of the president of the United States for men to serve in said civil war, and the families of those who died in said service, shall receive the same extra pay as was given to enlisted or drafted men under the provisions of chapter 117 of the general laws of 1864, and chapter 416 of the general laws of 1865, under the same conditions, restrictions and limitations as provided in said chapters; and all the provisions of said chapters shall apply to and be construed to include non-commissioned officers, seamen, ordinary seamen, marines and landsmen in the naval service aforesaid, excepting sections 12, 13, 14 and 15 of chapter 117 of the general laws of 1864 aforesaid: provided, that the families of those who died in said service referred to in this act, shall receive no more extra pay than is provided in section 6 of chapter 117 of the general laws of 1864, and under the same restrictions and provisions.

Persons in naval service entitled to extra pay.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.

Approved April 10, 1867.
