CHAPTER 107.

AN ACT to amend section 171 of the statutes of 1898, relative to the salaries of judges and other officials.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 171 of the statutes of 1898, is hereby amended by inserting after the second line thereof, the following, to-wit: provided that no judge of any circuit court shall receive or be allowed to draw any salary for any Circuit judges to make affidavit that no cause submitted within ninety days remains undecided, before salary will be allowed.

No salaries of state officials payable in advance.

quarter unless he shall take and subscribe an affidavit before an officer entitled to administer oaths that no cause in his court remains undecided that has been submitted for decision for the period of ninety days, exclusive of the time that he shall have been actually disabled by sickness, which affidavit shall be presented to and filed with the officer whose duty it shall be to pay such salary, so that said section when amended shall read as follows: Section 171. The salaries of justices of the supreme court and of judges of the circuit courts shall be payable quarterly in advance, provided that no judge of any circuit court shall receive or be allowed to draw any salary for any quarter unless he shall take and subscribe an affidavit before an officer entitled to administer oaths that no cause in his court remains undecided that has been submitted for decision for the period of ninety days, exclusive of the time that he shall have been actually disabled by sickness, which affidavit shall be presented to and filed with the officer whose duty it shall be to pay such salary. No other officer, elective or appointive, nor any employe of the state shall draw any salary or compensation from the state treasury in advance, but all salaries (except those of such justices and judges), wages and compensation shall be payable monthly at the end of each month for the service rendered during such month, except that the same may be paid at the termination of such service.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.

Approved March 30, 1899.
