Information

State of Wisconsin
Department of Natural Resources
November 30, 1992

To the Honorable the Legislature:

Enclosed is a report, Nitrogen Oxide Emissions in Wisconsin, prepared under s. 144.389(3)(e), Stats. of the 1985 Acid Rain Control Act 296. This Nitrogen Oxide Report contains an assessment of the effects of nitrogen oxide emissions and the costs of reducing such emissions, and includes recommendations for action by the Governor and the Legislature.

The only controversial recommendation is to continue the Acid Deposition Research Council beyond its 1996 sunset date along with the research funding provision of 1985 Act 296 (an assessment collected from the state's Utilities) and to expand the role of the Council to include other regional problems. The Council has played a valuable role in the past in overseeing acid deposition research and monitoring activities and that role should be continued and expanded.

The Utilities individually and through their association have expressed strong opposition to this recommendation and the Acid Deposition Research Council failed to endorse it because of the Utilities' opposition. The Department feels that there is a need for such action to assure that monitoring of and research on the effects of nitrogen oxide reductions be continued to the final implementation date (year 2005) for the acid rain control provisions of the Clean Air Act.

Please also note that the submittal date of the enclosed report should have been January 1, 1989 as required in the 1985 Acid Rain Control Act. It was delayed for two reasons. First, the cost study could not be completed on time because of contractor tardiness and other technical reasons. Second, the 1985 Act required a report recommending ways to coordinate the Wisconsin law with the federal Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990. The coordination recommendations were included in a companion report which was submitted to you in May 1991, Coordination of 1985 Wisconsin Act 296 with the Federal Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990 in the Matter of Acid Deposition Control.

I have enclosed copies of the Nitrogen Oxide Emissions Report for distribution to the appropriate standing committees of the Legislature. If there are any questions, please contact Julian Chazin in the Bureau of Air Management at (608) 266-1902.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
C. D. Besadny
Secretary

Referred to committee on Urban Affairs,
Environmental Resources and Elections.
