2. In anticipation of, or in the event of, a public disaster resulting from the failure of an electronic computing device to process, transmit or receive date data from, into and between the 20th and 21st centuries, and during the years 1999 and 2000, and from leap year calculations, the governor may order into active service all or any portion of the national guard. If the governor is absent, or cannot be immediately communicated with, the commanding officers of any national guard company, battalion or regiment may, upon approval of the adjutant general, if the danger is great and imminent, order out that officer's command to respond to the public disaster. The order shall be delivered to the commanding officer, who shall immediately communicate the order to each, and every subordinate officer. Every company commander receiving an order under this paragraph shall immediately communicate the substance of that order to each member of the company, or if any member cannot be found, a notice in writing containing the substance of the order shall be left at the last and usual place of residence of the member with some person of suitable age and discretion, to whom its contents shall be explained. This paragraph does not apply after December 31, 2000.".
