 5 973.09 (2) (c) and 973.09 (6) of the statutes; relating to: creating a plea and 6 verdict of guilty but mentally ill in certain criminal cases.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, a person is not responsible for criminal conduct if at the time of such conduct the person was suffering from a mental disease or defect that resulted in the person lacking substantial capacity either to appreciate the wrongfulness of his or her conduct or to conform his or her conduct to the requirements of law. To raise this defense, a person who is charged with a crime pleads not guilty by reason of mental disease or defect. After a person pleads not guilty by reason of mental disease or defect, the court appoints at least one physician or psychologist to examine the person and to testify at trial concerning the person's ability to appreciate the wrongfulness of his or her conduct or to conform his or her conduct to the requirements of law at the time that the person committed the criminal offense charged. The person may also be examined by a physician, psychologist or other expert of his or her choice.

At a trial for a person who has pleaded not guilty by reason of mental disease or defect, the judge or jury first determines whether the person is guilty of the offense that is not available at the prison or jail charged. If the judge or jury finds the person guilty, the judge or jury then determines whether the person is not responsible for his or her criminal conduct due to mental disease or defect. If the judge or jury finds the person not responsible for his or her criminal conduct due to mental disease or defect, the person is not guilty by reason of mental disease or defect and is committed for treatment to the department of health and family services for a period of time not exceeding two-thirds of the maximum term of imprisonment that could be imposed for the crime charged. If the judge or jury finds the person responsible for his or her criminal conduct, the person is convicted of the offense and is sentenced for the offense by the judge.

Law

in a prison or jail

Also, under current law, any person who has been convicted and sentenced to imprisonment may be involuntarily committed for treatment in a state treatment facility if he or she is mentally ill, drug dependent or developmentally disabled, is a proper subject for treatment and is in need of treatment. ~~In addition, if the person is a jail inmate, he or she must be dangerous to himself, herself or others, and if the person is a prison inmate, the person must need treatment that cannot be provided at the prison.~~

ANALYSIS INSERT

To involuntarily commit for treatment a person who has been convicted and sentenced to imprisonment, a petition must be filed alleging that the person meets the criteria for involuntary commitment and, after an examination of the person, a hearing must be held before a judge or jury to determine whether the person meets the criteria for involuntary commitment. ~~If the person is committed for treatment, the initial commitment may not exceed 6 months and subsequent consecutive commitment orders may not exceed one year.~~

What this bill does

anal: title: sub-sub

This bill provides for a plea and verdict of guilty but mentally ill for persons charged with a homicide offense. Under the bill, a person charged with a homicide offense who pleads not guilty by reason of mental disease or defect may be found guilty but mentally ill after a trial if, after determining that the person is guilty of the homicide offense charged, a judge or jury determines that the person suffered from a mental illness at the time of his or her criminal conduct but the mental illness did not result in the person lacking substantial capacity either to appreciate the wrongfulness of his or her conduct or to conform his or her conduct to the requirements of law. ~~In addition, under the bill,~~ a person charged with a homicide offense who pleads not guilty by reason of mental disease or defect may change his or her plea to guilty but mentally ill after being examined by a physician or psychologist as provided under current law. The district attorney must consent to the person changing his or her plea, and the judge must find, after reviewing the examinations of the person and holding a hearing, that the person suffered from a mental illness at the time of his or her criminal conduct.

also provides that

Under the bill, a person charged with a homicide offense who is found guilty but mentally ill is convicted of the offense and is sentenced for the offense by the judge. If a judge sentences a person who has been found guilty but mentally ill to the custody of the department of corrections (DOC) by sentencing the person to prison or by placing the person on probation, the court must also order DOC to evaluate the person for treatment and provide or arrange for the provision of any necessary treatment, ~~and~~ the person may be required to receive treatment as a condition of probation ~~or parole.~~ Finally, a person found guilty but mentally ill and imprisoned or extended supervision

ASSEMBLY BILL 59

may also be committed to a state facility for treatment in the same manner as provided under current law for a person who has been convicted and sentenced to imprisonment.

Subject(s)

Criminal Law - procedure

1. JACKET the draft for introduction _____

in the Senate ____ or the Assembly 1 (check only one). Only the requester under whose name the drafting request is entered in the LRB's drafting records may authorize the draft to be submitted. Please allow one day for the preparation of the required copies.

2. REDRAFT. See the changes indicated or attached _____.

A revised draft will be submitted for your approval with changes incorporated.

3. Obtain FISCAL ESTIMATE NOW, prior to introduction _____.

If the analysis indicates that a fiscal estimate is required because the proposal makes an appropriation or increases or decreases existing appropriations or state or general local government fiscal liability or revenues, you have the option to request the fiscal estimate prior to introduction. If you choose to introduce the proposal without the fiscal estimate, the fiscal estimate will be requested automatically upon introduction. It takes about 10 days to obtain a fiscal estimate. Requesting the fiscal estimate prior to introduction retains your flexibility for possible redrafting of the proposal.

If you have any questions regarding the above procedures, please call 266-3561. If you have any questions relating to the attached draft, please feel free to call me.
