The first instruction in ARC Amendment 303 (31) states that the statutes should specify that, in determining whether a majority of the local units in the region have adopted resolutions recommending dissolution, each city, village, town and county in the region have equal status. I believe that current law already requires this, and the relevant statute makes no distinction in the weight to be given a resolution adopted by any city, village, town or county in a region. ~~S. 66.945 (15)~~ ^{Section} requires the governor to issue a certificate of dissolution of the commission upon receipt of resolutions recommending the dissolution of a RPC "adopted by the governing bodies of a majority of the local units in the region . . ." Consequently, I did not amend s. 66.945 (15) to implement this instruction because I can't think of any way to make current law any clearer on this point.
