Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate This bill would increase the number of persons facing certain penalties for intoxicated driving. Without this bill, these persons would face lesser penalties. This would tend to increase the number of persons who would seek a trial rather than plead and thus would increase the workload of district attorneys. Data are not available with which to determine the actual number of additional trials that would result.
Long-Range Fiscal Implications The actual increase, if any, in trials should be carefully monitored to determine if additional prosecutorial resources are needed.
