Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

SUMMARY OF BILL -This bill will increase the recycling tipping fee for solid waste disposed of at a landfill or other waste disposal facility from the current $0.30 per ton to $2.00 per ton. Certain high volume industrial wastes remain exempt from this fee under the bill.

FISCAL IMPACT - This bill will increase revenues to the recycling fund by $10,370,000 annually, reversing a projected deficit, and increase costs to local governments by an estimated $1.9 million annually.

State

Based on 1998 data, the Department assumes that 6.1 million tons of solid waste (excluding high volume industrial waste) will be disposed of in landfills annually. Increasing the tonnage fee by $1.70 will generate an additional $10,370,000 in revenue to the state (6.1 million x $1.70), reversing a deficit in the Recycling Fund projected under the current $0.30 per ton fee.

Local

Again based on 1998 data, the Department assumes that this bill will increase costs to local governments by approximately $1.9 million annually. In 1998, local governments or their service contractors disposed of 1.1 million tons of solid waste--or 18% of the total. The Department assumes that local governments will continue to account for 18% of the total amount of solid waste disposed of in landfills, and will therefore account for 18% of the increased revenue under this bill--or approximately $1.9 million ($10,370,000 x 18%). The remaining $8.5 million raised by the fee increase proposed in this bill would be paid by commercial businesses (approximately $6.5 million) and out-of-state generators using Wisconsin disposal facilities (approximately $2 million).

Long-Range Fiscal Implications

None.
