Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate This bill requires a circuit or municipal court, when entering judgment, to tell the defendant, or to notify the defendant if he or she is not present in court, that he or she should notify the court if she or he is unable to pay the judgment because of poverty. If the court determines that the defendant is unable to pay it must give the defendant the opportunity to pay the judgment in instalments based on the defendant's income. The bill also provides that if a suspension for failure to pay exists the court must terminate the suspension if the defendant is unable to pay because of poverty and substitute an instalment plan for the payment of the judgment if the defendant has not previously failed to comply with a court-ordered instalment plan. Most circuit and municipal courts already allow instalments plans for defendants who are unable to pay judgments because of poverty. This bill requires an additional notice to those defendants who do not appear in court. It is not known how often defendants do not appear but it is expected that the notice costs would have to be absorbed by local governments. For those defendants who are under a suspension for failure to pay and seek to terminate the suspension, additional hearings will be required by the courts to determine eligibility and indigency and to establish an instalment plan. It is not known how many terminations of suspensions will be requested.
