Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate This bill creates a consumer privacy advocate in the department of justice to represent the consumer's interest in issues concerning consumer privacy. The advocate may intervene in civil actions and has the authority to appeal from administrative rulings to the courts. It is impossible to predict the amount of consumer privacy litigation that will result for the circuit courts under this bill. In light of the fact that the department of administration is required to assist the advocate in investigations and reports and that other state agencies must cooperate with the advocate it is expected that much of this litigation will be filed in Dane County circuit court. It is impossible to predict the actual increase in costs or if existing court personnel will be able to absorb the additional workload. Additional litigation increases both state and county costs for judge, court reporter, staff and juror time.
