Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill provides that, if the legislature has not passed the biennial budget bill before July 1 of the odd-numbered year, no member of the legislature may receive any instalments of his or her salary or be paid any expenses to which the member is entitled for food and lodging for each day that he or she is in Madison on legislative business or for work as a member of a committee until the legislature has passed the biennial budget bill. Under the bill, upon passage of the biennial budget bill, the members of the legislature are to be paid all salary instalments and all expenses that were withheld during the period before passage of the biennial budget bill. If the legislature has not passed the biennial budget bill before the end of the legislative session, however, the members of the legislature are to be paid all salary instalments and all expenses on the last day of the session that were withheld during the session.
