TO: The Honorable Governor Tommy G. Thompson
The Honorable Members of the Senate
The Honorable Members of the Assembly

FROM: J. Denis Moran
Director of State Courts

Pursuant to s. 758.19(5)(i), Wis. Stats., the information reported to the Director of State Courts under s. 758.19(5)(e), Wis. Stats., by Wisconsin's counties has been compiled and is herein submitted. Under s. 758.19(5)(e), Wis. Stats., each county is required to submit an annual report to the Director of State Courts which provides information on the actual amount expended in the previous calendar year for court costs relating to the circuit court support and the guardian ad litem payment programs.

Under the circuit court support payment program, counties received $16,489,618 during 1998 to be used to offset the following court costs incurred during the calendar year:

- Juror fees under s. 59.77(8), Wis. Stats.;
- Fees for expert witnesses called by the guardian ad litem under s. 767.045(6), Wis. Stats., if either or both parties are unable to pay those fees;
- Witness fees set under s. 814.68(1)(b)1 and (c), Wis. Stats., for witnesses called by the court on its own motion or called by, or subpoenaed at the request of, a district attorney, the state public defender or private attorney appointed under s. 977.08, Wis. Stats.;
- Fees for expert witnesses appointed under s. 907.06, Wis. Stats., by the court on its own motion or by the court at the request of the district attorney, the state public defender, or a private attorney appointed under s. 977.08, Wis. Stats., or by the court upon agreement of the district attorney, the state public defender or a private attorney appointed under s. 977.08, Wis. Stats.;

- Fees for witnesses or expert witnesses subpoenaed by the court at the request of the district attorney, coroner, or medical examiner under s. 979.06(1) and (2), Wis. Stats.;
- Salaries and fringe benefits for judicial assistants for circuit court judges;
- Any other court costs, except costs related to courtroom security, including security personnel, and costs related to rent, utilities, maintenance, rehabilitation, and construction of court facilities.

The guardian ad litem payment program allows counties to use payments to defray the costs of guardian ad litem compensation incurred under chs. 48, 55, 767, and 880. The Director of State Courts was appropriated $4,738,500 for state fiscal year 1998-99 to make these payments to counties.

The annual report from counties under this statute was due May 15, 1999 for calendar year 1998. As of October 1, 1999, all counties have submitted the annual report to the Director of State Courts. A county which does not meet the annual reporting requirement under s. 758.19(5)(e), Wis. Stats., is not eligible to receive its circuit court support payment for one year after the July 1st due date or until the annual report is submitted, whichever is earlier. In addition, a county that does not submit its annual report by the May 15th date will forfeit its July 1 guardian ad litem payment.

Circuit Court Support Payment Program. Attachment A is a compilation of the information provided by counties for calendar year 1998 on the actual costs incurred during the year in the allowable categories. Based on these annual reports, counties reported incurring $92,739,040 in these court costs throughout the calendar year. Specifically:

- salaries and fringe benefits for judicial assistants totaled $7,966,479;
- juror fees totaled $3,509,080;
- witness and expert witness fees totaled $1,313,065; and
- other court costs except court room security, rent, utilities, maintenance, rehabilitation, and construction of court facilities totaled $79,950,416.

The $7.97 million reported in salaries and fringe benefits for judicial assistants actually represents the cost of providing clerical assistance to circuit court judges. Many counties continue not to provide their circuit court judges with a position exclusively identified as a judicial assistant. As a result, these counties reported a portion of the salaries and fringe benefits of the county personnel who may perform one or more of the duties described in the judicial assistant job description developed by the Director of State Courts as required by s. 758.19(h), Wis. Stats. Consequently, the reported salaries and fringe benefits of judicial assistants may be a percentage of the salaries and fringe benefits for register in probate staff or clerk of circuit court staff who also provide clerical assistance to the judge.

Counties reported expending $3.5 million in juror fees during the past calendar year. Of this $3.5 million, slightly over 70 percent or $2.5 million relates to the daily fee paid to jurors for their attendance while the remaining fees relate to mileage and meal expenses paid for jurors. It also should be pointed out that the daily fees and mileage rates paid to jurors vary widely from county to county. According to s. 756.25(1), Wis. Stats., jurors are not to receive less than $16 for each day's actual attendance at circuit court and an amount equal to the mileage rate set under s. 20.916(8), Wis. Stats., which was 29¢ per mile during calendar year 1998. The data collected on the calendar year 1998 annual reports show the juror daily rate paid by counties to range from $16 to $45. The mileage rate counties used to reimburse jurors ranged from 24¢ to 33¢ per mile. As shown in Table 1, 22 counties reported paying less than 29¢ per mile during the calendar year.

For calendar year 1998 counties reported expending $1.3 million for witness and expert witness fees. Not all counties were able to provide the same level of detail on the annual report for these fees. However, from the information available, 46 percent of the witness and expert witness fees paid during calendar year 1998 relate to witnesses and expert witnesses called or subpoenaed by the district attorney while a little over three percent of the fees were paid to witnesses and expert witnesses of the state public defender.

Finally, counties reported incurring over $79 million in other eligible court costs under the circuit court support payment program. The comparability among counties of the information reported in this category is questionable. When reviewing the detail counties provided to support the amount reported as "other" court costs, it appears that they do not categorize them consistently. For example, some counties reported the total costs of the circuit court, clerk of court, register in probate, and the court commissioner(s) while other counties included costs of other areas as part of the county's court budget (i.e. costs associated with corporation counsel, family mediation/counseling, child support, etc.). Furthermore, counties do not typically include the same type of expenditures in court budgets which makes it difficult to compare court costs among counties. As an example, one county may have reported the cost of providing indigent counsel while another county may not because it was included in another county department's budget.

Guardian Ad Litem Payment Program. Counties were also required to report the costs of those guardian ad litem fees which are listed under s. 758.19(6), Wis. Stats. Attachment B provides the information counties were able to report for calendar year 1998. Of the $9,155,768 counties reported guardian ad litem services paid during 1998:

- $3,812,930 were for guardian ad litem services provided under Chapter 48 of the Wisconsin Statutes;
- $1,390,077 were for guardian ad litem services provided under Chapters 55 and 880 of the Wisconsin Statutes; and
- $2,599,295 were for guardian ad litem services provided under Chapter 767 of the Wisconsin Statutes.

The remaining $1,353,466 was reported as "other guardian ad litem services" mainly because counties could not identify easily the proper category where these costs belonged. Moreover, counties also reported that they recouped at least $1,731,000 in guardian ad litem fees from those parties which were provided the services.
