

Dear Senator Erpenbach,

The pay day loan industry is gouging consumers with interest rates of 500% and higher for short term loans. This predatory industry is growing rapidly in Wisconsin, from one pay day lender in the state in 1993, to almost 200 today. They exist in urban, rural and suburban areas, and are largely unregulated.

I urge you to support SB 96, which would cap interest rates at 36% for pay day lenders. The interest rate cap would force the industry to act responsibly and would protect consumers from an outrageous rip-off.

Please let me know your view on this important issue.

Dear Senator Erpenbach,

The pay day loan industry is gouging consumers with interest rates of 500% and higher for short term loans. This predatory industry is growing rapidly in Wisconsin, from one pay day lender in the state in 1993, to almost 200 today. They exist in urban, rural and suburban areas, and are largely unregulated.

I urge you to support SB 96, which would cap interest rates at 36% for pay day lenders. The interest rate cap would force the industry to act responsibly and would protect consumers from an outrageous rip-off.

This predatory industry is growing rapidly in Wisconsin, from one pay day lender in the state in 1993, to almost 200 today. They exist in urban, rural and suburban areas, and are largely unregulated.

I urge you to support SB 96, which would cap interest rates at 36% for pay day lenders. The interest rate cap would force the industry to act responsibly and would protect consumers from an outrageous rip-off.

The pay day loan industry is gouging consumers with interest rates of 500% and higher for short term loans. This predatory industry is growing rapidly in Wisconsin, from one pay day lender in the state in 1993, to almost 200 today. They exist in urban, rural and suburban areas, and are largely unregulated.

I urge you to support SB 96, which would cap interest rates at 36% for pay day lenders. The interest rate cap would force the industry to act responsibly and would protect consumers from an outrageous rip-off.

Please let me know your view on this important issue.

Dear Senator Erpenbach,

The pay day loan industry is gouging consumers with interest rates of 500% and higher for short term loans. This predatory industry is growing rapidly in Wisconsin, from one pay day lender in the state in 1993, to almost 200 today. They exist in urban, rural and suburban areas, and are largely unregulated.

I urge you to support SB 96, which would cap interest rates at 36% for pay day lenders. The interest rate cap would force the industry to act responsibly and would protect consumers from an outrageous rip-off.

Please let me know your view on this important issue.

Dear Senator Erpenbach,

The pay day loan industry is gouging consumers with interest rates of 500% and higher for short term loans. This predatory industry is growing rapidly in Wisconsin, from one pay day lender in the state in 1993, to almost 200 today. They exist in urban, rural and suburban areas, and are largely unregulated.

I urge you to support SB 96, which would cap interest rates at 36% for pay day lenders. The interest rate cap would force the industry to act responsibly and would protect consumers from an outrageous rip-off.

Please let me know your view on this important issue.

Dear Senator Erpenbach,

The pay day loan industry is gouging consumers with interest rates of 500% and higher for short term loans. This predatory industry is growing rapidly in Wisconsin, from one pay day lender in the state in 1993, to almost 200 today. They exist in urban, rural and suburban areas, and are largely unregulated.

I urge you to support SB 96, which would cap interest rates at 36% for pay day lenders. The interest rate cap would force the industry to act responsibly and would protect consumers from an outrageous rip-off.

Please let me know your view on this important issue.
