Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

CONCLUSION

1. $11,540 one-time cost for modifications to DMV automated systems.
2. An indeterminable ongoing workload cost and revenue increase for DMV and local government agencies from additional Operating While Intoxicated (OWI) convictions.

BASIS FOR CONCLUSION

- 1a. The bill makes a variety of technical, non-substantive changes to the state's drunk driving (OWI) law, mostly to resolve inconsistencies between statutory definitions, case law/common law, and statutory language.

Current DOT forms are affected by these changes including the "Informing the Accused" and "Notice of Intent to Revoke". We estimate no fiscal impact for these forms as we anticipate incorporating the changes through routine form revision and reorder efforts.

These changes result in fiscal impact for DMV to modify automated systems that use these definitions in carrying out statutory revocation and suspension requirements.

It requires courts to suspend / revoke offenders who tamper with ignition interlock devices under the Operating After Revocation (OAR) law for 6 to 9 months. Under current law courts may suspend / revoke for 0 to 6 months. This change will require modifications to the DMV license withdrawal system to allow this new time period.

15 days @ $577/day = $8,655

- 1b. It allows credit for time served on an occupational license in cases where an offender is convicted of refusing a sobriety test and an OWI from the same offense. This change will require modifications to eligibility criteria logic in the automated occupational licensing system.

5 days @ $577/day = $2,885

- 2a. The bill broadens enforcement of OWI to include "any premises". This may result in an indeterminable increase in OWI arrests, convictions, revocations, occupational licenses, license reinstatements, and crash reporting... and a corresponding ongoing workload cost and revenue increase for DMV and local government agencies.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications

None
