

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair; (D) Russell Decker; (R) Gwendolynne Moore; (D) Kevin Shibilski; (D) Kimberly Plache; (D) Robert Wirch; (R) Alberta Darling; (R) Robert Welch

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question.

Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Michael Schlicher

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair; (D) Russell Decker; (R) Gwendolynne Moore;
(D) Kevin Shibilski; (D) Kimberly Plache; (D) Robert Wirch; (R) Alberta Darling; (R)
Robert Welch

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question.

Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Deb Skell

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair; (D) Russell Decker; (R) Gwendolynne Moore;
(D) Kevin Shibilski; (D) Kimberly Plache; (D) Robert Wirch; (R) Alberta Darling; (R)
Robert Welch

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question.

Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth Mangen, MSW, CSW

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

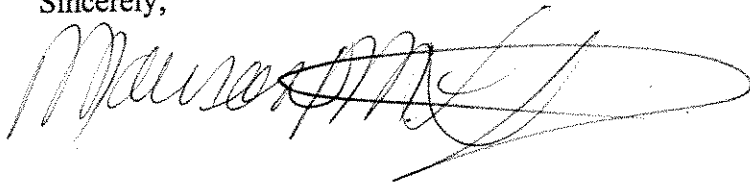

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair; (D) Russell Decker; (R) Gwendolynne Moore;
(D) Kevin Shibilski; (D) Kimberly Plache; (D) Robert Wirch; (R) Alberta Darling; (R)
Robert Welch

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question.

Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Maura [unclear]", written in dark ink. The signature is fluid and somewhat stylized, with a large loop at the end.

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair; (D) Russell Decker; (R) Gwendolynne Moore;
(D) Kevin Shibilski; (D) Kimberly Plache; (D) Robert Wirch; (R) Alberta Darling; (R)
Robert Welch

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question.

Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Margaret DiCesti

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair; (D) Russell Decker; (R) Gwendolynne Moore;
(D) Kevin Shibilski; (D) Kimberly Plache; (D) Robert Wirch; (R) Alberta Darling; (R)
Robert Welch

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question.

Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Kim Henner". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned below the word "Sincerely,".

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you, our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Maureen Deen, BSW, CSW

BMCW Social Worker

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

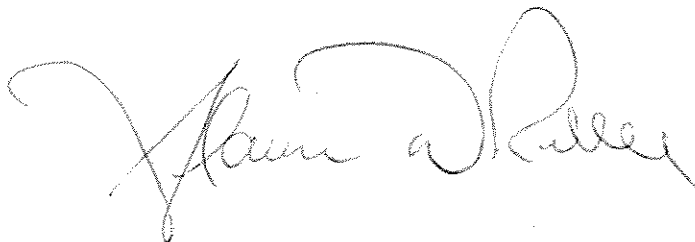

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Brian Burke". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned below the "Sincerely," text.

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Ann Manion, BSW

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Bureau of Milwaukee Child Welfare

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "John Smith", written in black ink.

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question.

Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Rebel

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Anne M. Parkers, CSW

Ongoing Case Manager
Innovative Family Partnerships

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "R. J. J.", written in a cursive style.

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Sen. Guye

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Jennifer Brum". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned below the word "Sincerely,".

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Olaszewski

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Kellie Sponseller

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Jennifer A. Stark MSW, CSW
Ongoing case manager
Site 3

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Bridget Chypowski
Ongoing Case Mgr
Innovative Family Partnerships, Inc.
Bmc13

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Lucyena H. Jackson, BSW, CSW
BMCW/ DHFS, Initial Assessment Social Worker

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Jonai A. Hader", with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Nardo Amoreas, BSW
engaging case manager

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

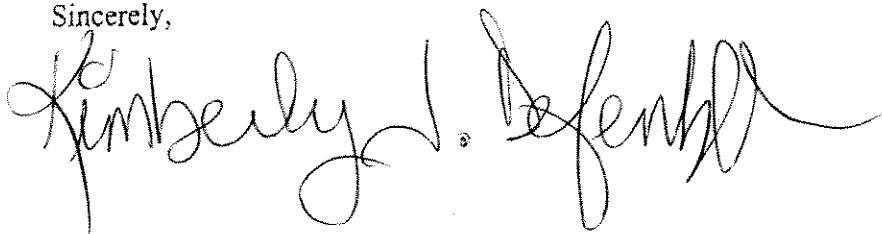

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Kimberly J. Defenbaugh". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned above the typed name.

Kimberly J. Defenbaugh BSW, CSW
Ongoing Case Manager

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Brigid Burns

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Barbara HoBerry, CSW, I.A.
Bureau of Milwaukee Child Welfare
Site 3
6111 No. Teutonia Avenue
Milwaukee, WI 53209

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Jennifer Rejcha". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned below the word "Sincerely,".

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Carol Mearns". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned below the word "Sincerely,".

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Jyl Steffens - case manager

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Jill Kravarek - case manager

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

4/19/01

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Christi Haacke

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Mark A Jensen

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Michelle Garnette, MS.

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Robbin Bone".

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

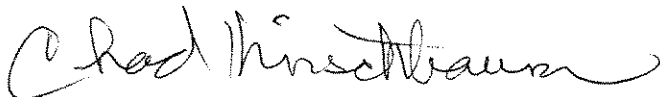

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Marla Seay

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

*Shoshana Holub Hay MSW
ongoing case manager*

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Kathy Gurneecki MSE, BSW
Ongoing Case Manager

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Natalie Mattson

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

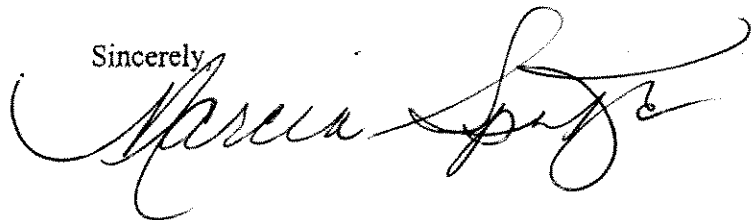

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Maria Lopez". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned below the word "Sincerely".

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

 OGCM
Paul A. Hassler

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you, our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "John Petrussek". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned to the right of the word "Sincerely,".

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

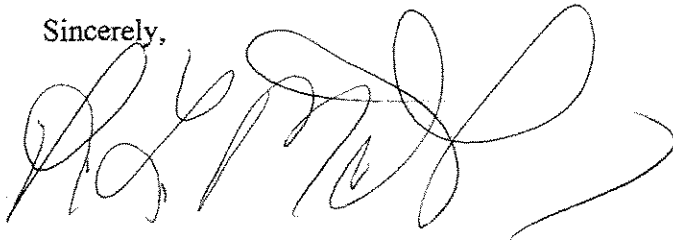

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be a stylized name, possibly "A. Darling" or similar, written over a horizontal line.

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

Attn:

Senator (D) Brain Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,

Tammy Rogen

April 19, 2001

Joint Committee on Finance

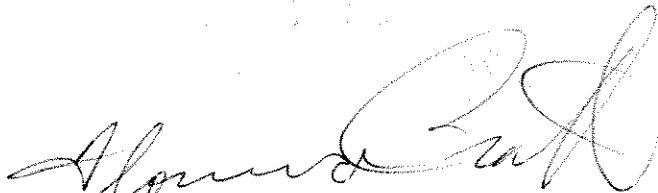

Attn:

Senator (D) Brian Burke, Senate Chair

Senator (R) Alberta Darling

Senator (D) Gwendolynne Moore

We, Social Workers, which happen to work for agencies that are contracted by the State of Wisconsin to provide protective services for the children in this great state are immensely concerned by the increasing reduction in funding to our agencies. We often find ourselves working on a minimal budget with minimal staff having to perform enormous tasks. We must vanguard the rights of the child in this state; however, the funding for the services we provide to the families is continuously in question. Lack of funds does more long-term damage to the families in the community than anything. The negative ramifications of reduced funds not only effect the families in question, but the larger society as well. We, the workers that stand the line to protect this state's children and families, plead with you; our honorable elected officials, to increase funding to help make our children safe.

Sincerely,