Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

This bill would require additional legal review work by prosecutors on certain traffic cases to determine their proper legal status, more court time including trials and more time by prosecutor handling the misdemeanor appeals work that would result. The exact amount of additional work is not clear at this time.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications

If this bill is enacted, then its actual workload impact on district attorneys' offices must be closely monitored to determine if additional prosecutorial resource are needed.
