Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

The bill does not require intervention at any point by staff or other use of resources of the Board on Aging and Long Term Care. While there would likely be questions directed to Ombudsman staff of the agency about advance directives and their effect, it is not anticipated that these would significantly exceed the volume of questions related to this issue currently handled by the program.

It is impossible for this agency to accurately assess the impact of this proposal on local government agencies.
