Reducing the amount of the estate tax imposed by the state

Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

Under current Wisconsin law, the estate tax for deaths occurring from October 1, 2002 through December 31, 2007, is equal to the federal credit allowed for state estate taxes in effect for deaths on December 31, 2000.

This bill would reduce the estate tax by 25% for deaths occurring in 2005, 50% for deaths occurring in 2006, and by 75% for deaths occurring in 2007. Assuming the estate tax is paid nine months after death, the estate tax for deaths occurring in 2005 will be collected in FY06 and FY07 and the estate tax for deaths in 2006 will be collected in FY07 and FY08. Similarly, the estate tax for deaths occurring in 2007 will be collected in FY08 and FY09.

It is estimated that the bill will reduce FY06 collections by $21 million attributable to the 25% reduction in the tax for deaths occurring in 2005. The bill will reduce FY07 collections by $52.5 million, $7.5 million attributable to the 25% reduction for deaths occurring in 2005 and $45 million attributable to the 50% reduction for deaths occurring in 2006. The bill will reduce FY08 collections by an estimated $89 million, $16 million attributable to the 25% reduction in the tax for deaths occurring in 2006 and $73 million attributable to the 75% reduction in the tax for deaths occurring in 2007. The bill will also reduce FY09 collections by an estimated $24 million, attributable to the 75% reduction in the tax for deaths occurring in 2007.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications

Under current law, for deaths after December 31, 2007, Wisconsin will conform to existing federal law and the state estate tax will equal the credit under federal law in effect at the time; under existing federal law there is no credit after 2005, so there would be no Wisconsin estate tax after 2007. This bill would reduce Wisconsin's estate tax collections for the three remaining years (2005 through 2007) in which Wisconsin does not conform to the current federal estate tax law. This bill will not affect treatment of deaths that occur in 2008 and thereafter. However, the federal estate tax changes are sunsetted, and in the absence of further changes, the federal estate tax law will be restored in 2011. If that sunset occurs, the Wisconsin estate tax will also be restored in 2011.
