Description Authorizing the town of Madison to reduce the territory of an environmental remediation tax incremental district

Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

Under current law, a city, village, town, or county may create an environmental remediation tax incremental financing district (ERTIF). When an ERTIF is created, the Department of Revenue establishes a base value for the district. The property taxes on all value above the base are used to pay off the ERTIF district's project costs.

Under the bill, a town may, on a one time basis, subtract territory from an ERTIF district for which the Department of Revenue certified the base value before January 2, 2001, if all of the following apply:

- 1) Before October 2, 2006, the town adopts an amendment to the ERTIF district's plan that specifies the parcel to be removed from the district.
- 2) The remaining parcels are contiguous.
- 3) The joint review board approves the amendment.

The bill allows the Town of Madison in Dane County to remove territory from an existing ERTIF district. If the town uses this authority, the lifespan of the ERTIF district may be extended since the tax increment used to pay project costs will be determined on a smaller number of parcels. The time period during which overlying taxing jurisdictions are unable to receive revenue from the value increment would also be extended.

The Department of Revenue's costs for administering the bill will be absorbed within the agency's budget.
