Whereas, Marcia Anderson became the first African American woman to be given a second star as a general in the history of the United States Army and achieve the rank of Major General; and,

Whereas, born in Beloit, Wisconsin, Marcia attended kindergarten at Merrill Elementary School and Our Lady of the Assumption Catholic School for 1st grade, instilling in her the Wisconsin values of hard work and emphasis on family at an early age; and,

Whereas, Marcia was preceded by those in her family who opened doors to make opportunities for her, including her father, Rudy Mahan, who proudly served in the U.S. Army Air Force during the Korean War and her mother and grandmother who provided inspiration and a foundation for her strong character; and,

Whereas, while attending Creighton University in Omaha, her military career started when she joined the Reserve Officer Training Corps and received her Commission as a Second Lieutenant in 1979, beginning a career of service to our nation; and,

Whereas, she graduated from Rutgers University Law School in 1984 during which time she was a staff member at the Women's Rights Law Reporter; and,

Whereas, after fulfilling her 8 year military commitment, Marcia continued in the Army Reserve and during her time there, she travelled throughout the nation performing different jobs, achieving numerous promotions and honors along the way; and,

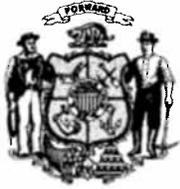

Whereas, throughout her time in the military, Marcia has achieved many milestones during her time in service, including becoming the first African-American female battalion commander in the 98th Institutional Training Division, United States Army Reserve, headquartered in Rochester, New York and the first African-American female brigade commander in the 95th Training Division, United States Army Reserve, headquartered in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; and,

Whereas, she moved to Wisconsin in 1998 and became the first African-American to be appointed Clerk of Court of the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Western District of Wisconsin; and,

Whereas, one recent assignment brought her to work on combining the Army's Human Resources Command under one roof from stations in Alexandria, Virginia; St. Louis, Missouri; and Indianapolis, Indiana at Fort Knox in 2010; and,

Whereas, Marcia and her husband Amos moved to Verona, Wisconsin in 2001 to continue their lives together; now therefore,

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, that the legislature hereby recognizes Major General Marcia Anderson for her lofty achievements and service to our nation; and, be it further
