Yes – I thought there was some specific designation of an “on premises” sign or some such but the effect is as you describe.

yes, this is OK

Tim, I got your message. Is this what you want (at p. 4, line 8-10):

"but also includes any sign that is attached to a building or similar structure, that is within 100 feet of a highway right-of-way, and that advertises activities conducted on the property on which it is located."

Give me a call and let me know if this is OK or, if not, how you want it changed. Aaron
