Reed,

Attached above is the p2 draft of that Development costs for special plates bill. Aaron Gary over at LRB sent the reasons why he drafted the bill the way he did below. Please take a look at the bill and at Aaron's thoughts and let me know what you think.

Thank you again for looking all of this over.

I should have mentioned that the /P2 draft assumes that DOT will hit the $23,700 mark in Lions plate fees by June 30, 2016. Given the calculation below of 20 plates per month, this seems like a safe assumption.

Hi Tricia,

I redrafted this as a /P2. After talking this over with Jon Dyck and considering the DOT comments below, I believe that the approach taken in the /P1 draft is appropriate but I did tweak the provisions somewhat.

On the Lions plates, the funding mechanism makes this more complicated than what might appear at first blush. When DOT receives the Lions plate fees, it deposits them into the transportation fund until it receives $23,700, then they are deposited into the general fund. On page 3, line 1 of the /P1 draft, DOT has already deposited $9,025 into the transportation fund, so I cannot revise this number back to $6,580 and pretend that the extra $2,445 actually got deposited into the general fund, because that is water under the bridge and that did not happen. The draft has to be structured to accurately reflect to which fund moneys were deposited and to ensure that repayments are coming from the proper fund. I also see no need to amend the (eg) and (eh) appropriations.

You should have a /P2 draft shortly. I'm hoping that it will satisfy DOT and everybody else.

As I've said before, it is impossible to perfectly correct the funding mechanism at this point. DOT was appropriated the money to pay for plate development costs in the 2009 session, and that money has either been spent or lapsed. Drafting a bill for 2013, two biennia later, is not a technically effective way of having DOT "repay" the excess money it received, but it is the best we can do and fortunately the sums here are relatively small (for DOT that is, perhaps not for the charitable organizations).

I did not include a d-note on the /P2. Feel free to forward this email to DOT if you'd like.

- Line 1: Change plate development costs to $6,580 ($9,025 was the amount collected for Lions as of the end of May)

Section 3

- Line 8: Update the appropriation to 20.395(5)(eh) per Anna Richter and Mona Yee (OPBF).
- Line 14: Update the appropriation to 20.395(5)(eg) per Anna and Mona
- Line 15: DMV issues about 20 Lions plates a month, so the refund to Lions will be a difficult moving target to pin down. In lieu of assigning the amount of money to refund to Lions, we want to calculate that amount when the bill becomes effective. The Department will make a payment of any monies collected in excess of $6,580 as of the effective date of the bill.

Hi Anna,

A follow up question on this.

For the Lions Club plates, you and Mona said all the plate fee collections have been deposited in the general fund and are still there. (I realize a portion will be transferred back to the transportation fund later.) Were all of these moneys deposited and credited to the appropriation under s. 20.395 (5) (eg)? Or were they deposited but not yet credited to any appropriation?

Thanks. Aaron

1 AN ACT <sup>gen cat</sup> relating to: the Department of Transportation's initial costs of
2 production for special registration plates supporting the Lions Clubs of
3 Wisconsin and supporting motorcycle safety.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, as created in 2009 Wisconsin Acts 224 and 226, persons interested in supporting the Lions Clubs of Wisconsin or motorcycle safety may obtain special registration plates for certain vehicles, including automobiles. These special plates must, respectively, display a logo or image of the lion associated with the Lions Clubs International or display a bar and shield logo associated with Harley-Davidson, Inc., and the words "share the road." An applicant for these special plates must pay a $25 annual fee in addition to the regular vehicle registration fees. The $25 annual fee provides funds to the Wisconsin Lions Foundation, Inc., or for certain motorcycle safety activities, respectively. However, the Department of Transportation (DOT) may not provide funds to the Wisconsin Lions Foundation, Inc., or for these safety activities, until DOT has received $23,700 for the initial costs of production of each of these special plates.

This bill decreases the amount of revenues retained by DOT for the initial costs of production of these special plates, from $23,700 to $6,580 for Lions Club plates and from $23,700 to $16,100 for motorcycle safety plates.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

An applicant for these special plates must pay a $25 annual fee in addition to the regular vehicle registration fees. The $25 annual fee provides funds to the Wisconsin Lions Foundation, Inc., or for certain motorcycle safety activities, respectively. However, the Department of Transportation (DOT) may not provide funds to the Wisconsin Lions Foundation, Inc., or for these safety activities, until DOT has received $23,700 for the initial costs of production of each of these special plates.

This bill decreases the amount of revenues retained by DOT for the initial costs of production of these special plates, from $23,700 to $6,580 for Lions Club plates and from $23,700 to $16,100 for motorcycle safety plates.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
