Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, unless specifically allowed by a statute, the common law doctrine of incompatibility prohibits a person from holding two or more public positions when the duties of each position might conflict, or when one position might be seen as superior to the other. This bill creates an exception to the doctrine of incompatibility that allows a school board member to act as a volunteer coach or as a supervisor for an extracurricular activity if the school board member does not receive compensation for coaching or supervising the extracurricular activity, the school board member agrees to abstain from voting on issues substantially and directly related to the activity he or she coaches or supervises, and the school board receives the results of a criminal background investigation of the school board member.
