Description Providing to a victim notification when an offender's extended supervision or parole is revoked

Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

Under current law, a victim of a crime has the right of notification when the offender has a hearing for release to parole or extended supervision, sentence adjustment, or conditional release.

Under this bill, a crime victim also has the right to be notified when an offender's release to parole or extended supervision is revoked for violating a condition of release.

Prosecutors do not expect there to be any fiscal impact on their offices should this bill be enacted.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications

Should this bill be enacted, no long-range fiscal impact is anticipated by prosecutors.
