Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

Under current law, before preparing a supervised release plan, DHS must consult with a local law enforcement agency with jurisdiction over a prospective residential option.

This bill requires DHS to also notify, and upon their request, consult with the district attorney and local governmental unit containing a prospective residential option. DHS is also required to provide an explanation for why placement was not made at a residence previously proposed for placement of a person on supervised release. The cost of these requirements is indeterminate.

This bill creates the option for a district attorney or local governmental unit to submit a written report that provides information relating to the prospective residential option. The cost of this option is indeterminate.
