Description eliminating immunity for public campus administrators from liability for violations of individual expressive rights under the declaration of rights in the Wisconsin Constitution

Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

This bill eliminates immunity for certain campus administrators from liability for violations of certain individual expressive rights.

Under the bill, a person may bring a claim against a campus administrator if the individual feels that she was deprived of her Constitutional rights under article I of the Wisconsin Constitution. It prohibits the respondent from using as a defense to the claim rights under statutory immunity, statutory limits on damages, that any claims under either Constitution were not established at the time of the conduct, or that the campus administrator acted in good faith.

Court Operations and Consolidated Court Automation Program (CCAP) may have to determine the procedure and program any changes necessary to process these claims, including CCAP history event codes, and potentially a new case class code. In addition, Judges will require additional education to understand the requirements of the court in hearing and providing for injunctive relief. Judges hearing civil cases will have additional cases added to their case load if one of these actions was filed.

It is not possible to project the number of claims that would need to be processed by the Courts.
