Policy Problem Addressed by the Rule
GED Testing Service changed its passing score for the general educational development test pursuant to guidance issued on January 19, 2016. Therefore, the state superintendent wishes to align this rule to the new passing score.
Summary of Rule's Economic and Fiscal Impact on Specific Businesses, Business Sectors, Public Utility Rate Payers, Local Governmental Units and the State's Economy as a Whole (Include Implementation and Compliance Costs Expected to be Incurred)
Local: The change in the passing score for the GED test will increase the number of GED recipients.
State: None.
Benefits of Implementing the Rule and Alternative(s) to Implementing the Rule
The proposed rule will make any necessary changes to PI 5 to align the rule with the recommendation of GED Testing Service. Without this change, the rule will not be aligned with current agency practice.
Long Range Implications of Implementing the Rule
PI 5 governs the issuance of high school equivalency completion credentials by the State Superintendent, which includes the certificate for completion of the General Educational Development (GED) Test and the High School Equivalency Diploma (HSED). This rule change is designed to align the rule, with respect to the cut score for the GED Test, with the recommendation of GED Testing Service.
