

CHAPTER 101.

[Published March 19, 1862.]

AN ACT to amend chap. [chapter] 362 of the gen. [general] laws of 1860, entitled "an act relating to the Milwaukee county court."

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Trials to be removed from county to circuit court, in certain cases.

SECTION 1. Section five of chapter three hundred and sixty-two of the general laws of 1860, entitled "an act relating to the Milwaukee county court," is hereby amended so as to read as follows: "Whenever the place of trial of any action in said county court shall be changed on account of the prejudice of the judge thereof, or because he shall be interested or have been counsel therein, the place of trial shall be changed to the circuit court of said county, unless it shall be made to appear at the time of the application for such change of the place of trial, by the affidavit of one of the parties to the action, that one of the aforesaid objections exists to trying such action before the judge of the said circuit court, in which case the place of trial shall be changed to a county in another judicial circuit; and whenever, for any such reason, a change of the place of trial shall be granted in any action pending in said circuit court, the place of trial shall be changed to the said county court, if the action be one of which the county court has jurisdiction, according to the provisions of this act, unless it shall be made to appear by the affidavit of a party to the action, at the time of the application for such change of the place of the trial, that one of the aforesaid objections exists to trying such action before the judge of the said county court, in which case the place of trial shall be changed to a county in another judicial circuit."

Trials removed from circuit to county court, in certain cases.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved March 15, 1862.
