CHAPTER 58.

[Published February 27, 1865.]

AN ACT concerning the custody of prisoners, in certain cases.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Prisoners may be removed to jail of a adjoining county.

SECTION 1. Whenever the county jail in any county shall be destroyed by fire or other casualty, or whenever the county jail of any county shall be insecure for the safe keeping of prisoners, it shall be lawful and proper for the sheriff of such county to remove and take any prisoner to the jail of an adjoining county, and the jailor of such adjoining county shall receive and keep such prisoner in the same manner as if he had been ordered, sentenced or delivered to him by any officer or court of his own county.

Authority to hold such prisoners.

SECTION 2. An indorsement on the back of the commitment by which any prisoner is held in custody, made by the sheriff in charge of such prisoner, directed to the jailor or sheriff of such adjoining county, shall be sufficient authority for such jailor or sheriff to hold such prisoner.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect immediately on its passage and publication.

Approved February 23, 1865.
