(b) No CAPCO, either alone or acting in aggregate with its affiliates, may submit applications under par. (a), the cumulative amount of the investments which exceeds the amount available for certification by the department as specified in par. (e).

1. If a CAPCO submits applications under par. (a), the cumulative amount of the investments which exceeds the amount available for certification by the department as specified in par. (e), the department shall, notwithstanding s. Comm 111.04 (2) (g), prorate the amount of the individual applicants' investments to reduce the cumulative amount of the investments to the amount available for certification by the department as specified in par. (e).

2. These amounts may be subject to further proration under s. Comm 111.04 (2) (g).

(c) Applications for certification of certified capital investments shall be accepted by the department beginning on a date specified by the department. The amount requested in the application shall be subject to the limits provided for under par. (f).

(d) Investments shall be certified by the department in the order of the date received, not later than 15 business days after application. (f) Prior to August 1, 2000, the department may not certify an investment under this subsection if, after the certification, the investor, together with all affiliates of the investor, would have more than $10,000,000 in certified capital investments.

(g) If, as a result of the limitations under par. (e) or (f), the department may not certify the full amount requested in applications for certified capital investments submitted under par. (a), the department shall allocate the amounts available for certification in order of priority based on the date on which the application was filed and not rejected or withdrawn.

1. If the amounts available for certification are insufficient to certify the full amount of all applications for certified capital investments that are submitted on the same day, the department shall prorate the available amount on the basis of the amount, up to $10,000,000, prior to August 1, 2000, that the investor has committed to invest in the CAPCO under par. (a).

2. The pro rata amount certified for any one applicant shall be the product of a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount of the investment such person requested to be certified and the denominator of which is the total amount of the investments for which applications were filed on the same day, multiplied by the amount of investments that may be certified under s. 560.32 (2) (b), Stats., after giving effect to all investments that have been certified or applications that have been filed with the department prior to such day.

Note: Section 560.32 (2), Stats., was repealed by 2007 Wis. Act 20.

(h) A CAPCO shall provide the department with evidence that it received an investment of the certified capital in cash within 5 business days after the department notifies the person that the investment has been certified. In the event that a CAPCO does not receive an investment of capital equaling the amount of investment certified to that investor within 5 business days of the CAPCO's receipt of notice from the department, the CAPCO shall so notify the department by overnight common carrier delivery service and the certified capital investment shall be forfeited. The forfeited certified capital investment amount shall be reallocated by the department to investment applications received on the same date as the forfeited investment application.

(3) LIMITATION OF CERTIFIED INVESTOR INVESTMENT. A certified investor may not, individually, or with or through one or more affiliates, own 10% or more of the equity securities in, be a general partner or manager of, or otherwise control the investment decision of the CAPCO. This subsection does not preclude a certified investor from exercising its legal rights and remedies, including interim management of a CAPCO, in the event that a CAPCO is in default of its statutory or contractual obligations to the certified investor.

1. The request for the exemption shall be made in writing to the department and outline the specific conditions of the request.

2. The department shall respond to the written request for an exemption within 30 business days after receipt of the written request. If the department fails to respond affirmatively to the exemption in writing, it may be presumed that the exemption is acceptable.
