7 understanding. The court may obtain the services of a court-appointed special 8 advocate program that has been recognized by the chief judge of the judicial 9 administrative district. A chief judge of a judicial administrative district may 10 recognize a court-appointed special advocate program by entering into a 11 memorandum of understanding with the court-appointed special advocate program 12 that specifies the responsibilities of the court-appointed special advocate program 13 and of a court-appointed special advocate designated under s. 48.236 (1). The 14 memorandum of understanding shall specify that the court-appointed special 15 advocate program is responsible for selecting, training, supervising and evaluating 16 the volunteers and employees of the program who are authorized to provide 17 court-appointed special advocate services as provided in pars. (b) to (d), that, in 18 addition to any other activities specified in the memorandum of understanding, a

11 any person whose provision of those services might pose a risk, as determined by the 12 court-appointed special advocate program, to the safety of any child.

13 2. On receipt of an application from a prospective court-appointed special 14 advocate, the court-appointed special advocate program, with the assistance of the 15 department of justice, shall conduct a background investigation of the applicant. If 16 the court-appointed special advocate program determines that any information 17 obtained as a result of the background investigation provides a reasonable basis for 18 further investigation, the court-appointed special advocate program may require 19 the applicant to be fingerprinted on 2 fingerprint cards, each bearing a complete set 20 of the applicant's fingerprints. The department of justice may provide for the 21 submission of the fingerprint cards to the federal bureau of investigation for the 22 purposes of verifying the identification of the applicant and obtaining the applicant's 23 criminal arrest and conviction record. The court-appointed special advocate 24 program shall keep confidential all information received from the department of 25 justice and the federal bureau of investigation under this subdivision.

1 (c) Training. A court-appointed special advocate program shall require a 2 volunteer or employee of the program selected under par. (b) to complete a training

17 performance evaluations of those volunteers and employees. A court-appointed 18 special advocate program shall provide its staff and volunteers with written 19 guidelines describing the policies, practices and procedures of the program and the 20 responsibilities of a volunteer or employee of the program who is authorized to provide 21 court-appointed special advocate services.

18 the court-appointed special advocate of a copy of the order. A court-appointed 19 special advocate that obtains access to a report or record described in this paragraph 20 shall keep the information contained in the report or record confidential and may 15 shall also disclose that information to all parties to the proceeding.

16 (c) Exercise any other authority that is consistent with the memorandum of 17 understanding entered into under s. 48.07 (5) (a).
