

1997 ASSEMBLY BILL 100

February 12, 1997 - Introduced by COMMITTEE ON FINANCE, by request of Governor Tommy G. Thompson. Referred to Committee on Finance.

- 1 AN ACT relating to: state finances and appropriations, constituting the 2 executive budget act of the 1997 legislature, and making appropriations.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

INTRODUCTION

This bill is the "executive budget bill" under section 16.47 (1) of the statutes. It contains the governor's recommendations for appropriations from the general fund and from segregated funds for the 1997-99 fiscal biennium.

The bill repeals and recreates the appropriation schedule in chapter 20 of the statutes, thereby setting the appropriation levels for the 1997-99 fiscal biennium. The descriptions that follow relate to the most significant changes in the law proposed in the bill. In most cases, changes in the amounts of existing spending authority and changes in the amounts of bonding authority under existing bonding programs are not discussed.

For the fiscal impact of this bill refer to the publication Budget in Brief issued by the department of administration.

For additional information concerning this bill, see the department of administration's executive budget books, the legislative fiscal bureau's summary document and the legislative reference bureau's drafting files that contain separate drafts on each policy item. In most cases, the policy item drafts contain a more detailed analysis than is printed with this bill.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100*GUIDE TO NONSTATUTORY MATERIAL

As is the case for all other bills, the SECTIONS of the budget bill treating statutory material are displayed in the ascending numerical sequence of the statute units affected. In some parts of the bill, not all consecutive SECTION numbers are used.

Treatments of prior session laws (styled "laws of [year], chapter ..." from 1848 to 1981, and "[year] Wisconsin Act ..." beginning with 1983) are displayed next by year of original enactment and by act number.

Following this material, the remaining nonstatutory material is displayed in this order:

9101 to 9156: Nonstatutory provisions; entity name.

9201 to 9256: Appropriation changes; entity name.

9400 to 9456: Effective dates; entity name.

In each of the 4 categories, there is a separate SECTION number for every entity. In that number, the last 2 digits correspond to the entities as shown below. For example, for miscellaneous nonstatutory provisions affecting the historical society, see SECTION 9124. The entities are listed in alphabetical sequence by key word, but for any entity not yet assigned a 2-digit identification number, see number "56" (other) in each category.

AGRICULTURE

Currently, under the agricultural chemical cleanup program, this state reimburses certain persons for a portion of the costs incurred in cleaning up discharges of agricultural chemicals. The reimbursement is generally equal to 75% of the costs that exceed $7,500 for a person required to have a license related to fertilizer or pesticides, or that exceed $3,000 for any other person, but that do not exceed $100,000. If the cleanup requires groundwater remediation, the person also receives 80% of the costs that exceed $100,000 but that do not exceed $300,000.

This bill increases the amount of reimbursement provided under this program. Under the bill, the reimbursement is generally equal to: 1) 80% of the costs that exceed $7,500 for a person who is required to have a license related to fertilizer or pesticides, a person with more than 25 employees or a person with annual sales of more than $2,500,000; or 2) 80% of the costs that exceed $3,000 for any other person, but that do not exceed $400,000.

The bill divides various existing fees related to pesticides, fertilizer and soil and plant additives into fees and surcharges. The surcharges are used to fund the agricultural chemical cleanup program. The bill suspends the surcharges for 2 years. The bill also modifies some of the fees.

This bill authorizes the department of agriculture, trade and consumer protection (DATCP) to seek the reform of federal milk marketing orders and other dairy pricing policies for the benefit of Wisconsin dairy farmers and to assist organizations for the same purpose.

Current law authorizes DATCP to make grants to encourage the use of sustainable agriculture if the legislative standing committees on agriculture approve DATCP's proposal for a funding source for those grants. This bill eliminates the requirement that the committees approve DATCP's proposal for a funding source and authorizes sustainable agriculture grants to be funded from the general fund.

Under current law, the public service commission (PSC) and DATCP administer a program to assist farmers with problems caused by stray voltage. The stray voltage program is funded by fees charged to farmers and an assessment on electric utilities that is collected by the PSC. This bill, in addition, requires DATCP to impose a fee on rural electric cooperatives to pay a portion of the costs of the stray voltage program.

COMMERCE AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT*BUILDINGS AND SAFETY

Under current law, housing that is ready for occupancy after September 30, 1993, consisting of 3 or more dwelling units (covered multifamily housing) is required to be accessible to persons with disabilities. This bill raises to 4 the number of dwelling units that multifamily housing must have to be subject to the accessibility laws.

Under current law, no person may design or construct covered multifamily housing unless that housing has at least one entrance for each building that is accessible to persons with disabilities. Current law also requires all other entrances at grade level to be accessible to the greatest extent feasible. This bill eliminates the requirement that all other entrances at grade level be accessible to the greatest extent feasible.

Under current law, a renter may request, at no cost to the renter, that lever door handles be installed on all doors and single lever controls be installed on all plumbing fixtures used by the renter. This bill shifts the expense of installing those door handles and controls to the renter if the expense does not exceed market rates.

Current law requires the department of commerce to establish minimum accessibility requirements for multilevel covered multifamily housing without elevators (townhouses). This bill eliminates townhouses from the coverage of the accessibility laws.

Under current law, plans and specifications for a proposed, covered multifamily housing project or for a remodeling project must be submitted to the department for approval prior to commencing work on the project. Currently, the department may grant a variance from the exterior accessibility requirements if meeting those requirements would be impractical because of the terrain or unusual characteristics of the site. Current law requires the department, in granting a variance, to have a minimum goal of exterior accessibility of 50% of the dwelling units of covered multifamily housing at one site. This bill lowers to 20% the minimum goal of exterior accessibility of dwelling units of covered multifamily housing when granting a variance.

Current law applies accessibility requirements to covered multifamily housing that is being remodeled, regardless of when the housing was first intended for occupancy, based on the percentage of interior square footage that is being remodeled and the type of alterations being made. This bill eliminates the percentage requirements and requires instead that, when covered multifamily housing is remodeled, that part of the housing that is to be remodeled must be made accessible. The bill also requires the path of travel to the remodeled area and the toilet rooms, telephones and drinking water serving the remodeled area to be made accessible, unless the cost of remodeling the path of travel exceeds 20% of the cost of the entire remodeling project.

COMMERCE

This bill requires financial institutions doing business in this state to participate in a financial record matching program. Under this program, a financial institution is required to match information about delinquent child support obligors, provided by the department of industry, labor and job development (DILJD), with financial records of the financial institution. The matching requirement also applies to family support and court-ordered payment of past support and medical or birth expenses. The financial institution is required to identify any accounts of delinquent obligors and to notify DILJD of the obligor's account number and the balance in the account at the time that the record match is made. The bill provides that a financial institution is not liable to any person for disclosing financial records to a child support agency attempting to establish, modify or enforce a support obligation, or for disclosures of account information, seizures of assets or other actions taken in good faith in participating in the financial record matching program. (See also HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, SUPPORT, PATERNITY AND OTHER FAMILY MATTERS.)

Currently, under the petroleum storage remedial action program (commonly known as PECFA) owners are reimbursed for a portion of the cleanup costs of discharges from petroleum storage systems. Current law also directs the department of commerce to inspect petroleum products brought into this state to ensure that the products meet minimum product grade specifications. The department of revenue (DOR) imposes and collects a petroleum inspection fee for these inspections, and the revenue from the petroleum inspection fees funds several programs, including PECFA.

This bill provides that any person who purchases in this state aviation fuel on which the petroleum inspection fee has been imposed is eligible for an allowance of 2 cents for each gallon of aviation fuel purchased in excess of 1,000,000 gallons per month. The allowance is obtained by filing a claim with DOR. A person who purchases aviation fuel for resale is not eligible for the allowance.

Under current law, a person who sells liquefied petroleum gas (LP gas) using a meter that measures the gas in liquid form must comply with certain requirements to ensure the accuracy of the measurements done by the meter and the price charged the purchaser.

Under this bill, a person using this type of meter to sell or deliver LP gas must have the meter inspected at least annually by an independent meter testing company. Under the bill, the company must file a report with the department of agriculture, trade and consumer protection (DATCP) on the condition of the meter, and must pay a fee to DATCP for each meter for which a report is filed.

The bill also authorizes DATCP to inspect these meters. Under the bill, a seller must pay a fee to DATCP if the amount of LP gas delivered is less than the amount measured by the meter or if the meter has not been inspected within the last year.

The bill also raises the fees for licenses for commercial scales that weigh vehicles and for licenses for persons who install, test or service weights and measures.

Current law restricts the transmittal of unsolicited documents by facsimile machine. These restrictions prohibit the transmittal of unsolicited documents that are more than one page and the transmittal of unsolicited documents to persons with whom the person sending the documents has not had a prior business relationship. The current definition of "facsimile machine" under this law includes specified types of transmitting media used to transmit copies of documents. These media include telephone lines, microwaves, satellites and cellular radio transmittal. This bill expands the definition of "facsimile machine" to include a machine that uses any type of radio transmittal.

Under current law, the public service commission (PSC) may require a party to certain hearings to pay the cost of producing a transcript. In all other hearings and investigations for which a transcript is produced, the PSC must provide free copies of transcripts upon request. In addition, the PSC may charge a reasonable price for a copy of an audiotape or videotape that is received into evidence. Under this bill, the PSC may require any party to any hearing or investigation to pay the cost of producing a transcript, audiotape or videotape. In addition, the PSC may charge a reasonable price for a copy of a transcript that is requested.

This bill changes the name of the division of savings and loan in the department of financial institutions (DFI) to the division of savings institutions.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100*ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Under current law, some of the mining tax revenue which the state collects is deposited in the badger fund and the rest is deposited in the investment and local impact fund, which is used to benefit communities affected by mining. The interest on the badger fund may be expended for school aids and certain recreational purposes. The badger board administers the fund. However, on June 30, 1997, the balance in the badger fund lapses to the general fund. This bill discontinues the badger fund and the badger board and provides that all mining tax revenue is deposited in the investment and local impact fund.

This bill creates a mining economic development grant and loan program. Under the program, the department of commerce may award a grant or loan to a business, community-based organization, local development corporation, city, village, town or county located in an area affected by mining for various specified purposes, such as start-up or expansion costs, developing an economic diversification plan, conducting a local economic development project or establishing a revolving loan fund to finance businesses that will create long-term employment opportunities. An area affected by mining is defined as an area in which public and private infrastructure are or were provided to support mining activity, public funds are or were expended for costs associated with mining activity, construction of a mine has begun and economic diversification is necessary to reduce dependence on mining activity. The bill specifies factors that must be considered in awarding the grants and loans and places limits on the amounts that may be awarded for each type of project. The program is funded from the investment and local impact fund.

This bill authorizes the department of commerce to award a grant to a person for the redevelopment of brownfields and associated environmental remediation activities. The bill defines brownfields as abandoned, idle or underused industrial or commercial facilities or sites that are adversely affected for expansion or redevelopment because of actual or perceived environmental contamination. The party actually responsible for the environmental contamination must be unknown or unable to be located, and a person receiving a grant must make a cash or in-kind contribution to the project. The bill sets out criteria for the department to use in making grants, and the relative weight that the department must give to each of the criteria. Before the department awards a grant, however, it must consider the recommendations of the department of administration (DOA) and the department of natural resources (DNR). The department is required to award at least 7 grants for projects that are located in municipalities with a population of less than 30,000. A total of $20,000,000 in grants may be awarded. The maximum amount that may be awarded for a grant is $5,000,000. The grants are funded from the recycling fund.

The bill also requires the department of commerce, DOA and DNR to enter into a memorandum of understanding addressing various issues related to the responsibilities of the 3 departments with respect to brownfields redevelopment programs, including a conflict resolution mechanism.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, the Wisconsin Housing and Economic Development Authority (WHEDA) guarantees repayment of loans from the Wisconsin development reserve fund (fund) for the recycling, stratospheric ozone protection, clean air, small business, business improvement, targeted development, nonpoint source pollution abatement and agricultural chemical cleanup, agricultural production, farm assets reinvestment management, agricultural production drought assistance, agricultural development and cultural and architectural landmark loan guarantee programs. The total outstanding principal amount of loans that WHEDA may guarantee under any of these loan guarantee programs is limited to a specified amount under each program.

This bill combines 6 of the loan guarantee programs for which repayment is guaranteed from the fund (the stratospheric ozone protection, clean air, small business, business improvement, targeted development and nonpoint source pollution abatement and agricultural chemical cleanup loan guarantee programs), into a new, more broadly based loan guarantee program, called the small business development loan guarantee program. Under the program, WHEDA may guarantee a portion of the principal of a loan to the elected governing body of an American Indian tribe or band or to a business if the business owner is actively engaged in the business, the business does not employ more than 50 employees on a full-time basis and the business owner is not delinquent in the payment of child support or maintenance (spousal support). The portion of the principal of a loan that may be guaranteed may not exceed 80% of the principal of the loan or $200,000, whichever is less. The loan proceeds may be used for expenses related to the expansion or acquisition of a business or for expenses related to the start-up of a day care business. The use of the loan proceeds must be likely to have a positive impact on job retention or creation. Loan proceeds may not be used for entertainment expenses, expenses related to a community-based residential facility or expenses related to the production of an agricultural commodity. Loans to a single borrower that are guaranteed under the program may not exceed $750,000. The total outstanding guaranteed principal amount of all loans that WHEDA may guarantee under the program may not exceed $28,750,000.

The bill also creates another new loan guarantee program, beginning on July 1, 1998, called the brownfields redevelopment loan guarantee program. Under the program, WHEDA may guarantee up to 80% of the principal of a loan that is made to a business in this state for the purpose of redeveloping brownfields and related environmental remediation activities. The total outstanding principal amount of all loans that WHEDA may guarantee under this program is $500,000.

Under current law, WHEDA is required to ensure that the cash balance in the fund is maintained at a ratio of $1 of reserve funding to $4 of outstanding principal that WHEDA may guarantee under all of the programs guaranteed from the fund. This bill changes the ratio at which WHEDA must maintain the fund to $1 of reserve funding to $4.50 of outstanding principal that WHEDA may guarantee under all of the programs, except for the cultural and architectural landmark loan guarantee program, which remains at $1 of reserve funding to $4 of outstanding guaranteed principal.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, WHEDA may issue bonds and notes to finance certain economic development projects, including economic development projects involving sports and entertainment home stadiums. This bill eliminates the authority to issue bonds and notes for this purpose.

Under current law, WHEDA may issue up to $10,000,000 in bonds and notes for its beginning farmer program, which assists beginning farmers in purchasing agricultural land and improvements. This bill raises the limit on total bonds and notes that WHEDA may issue under the program to $17,500,000.

This bill authorizes the department of tourism to award grants to statewide organizations that represent counties. An organization must use the grant proceeds to promote international trade, business and economic development in the state.

This bill gives the department of tourism the exclusive right to license the commercial use of certain state symbols and certain representations that are designed by the state or that are affixed to state property for the purpose of manufacturing or marketing any article of merchandise on which is affixed such symbols or representations. The department may enter into contracts for the manufacture or marketing of any article of merchandise on which is affixed any state symbol or representation and may market or sell such merchandise itself. The department is required to enter into contracts for the marketing or sale of such merchandise with one or more statewide organizations that represent counties. Moneys received by the department from contracts, license fees or the sale of merchandise, and moneys received by statewide organizations from the sale of merchandise, must be used for tourism promotion and for grants to one or more statewide organizations that represent counties for international trade, business and economic development.

This bill authorizes the department of tourism to acquire excess or surplus state property from DOA and from the department of transportation (DOT) and to sell the property to any person at a price determined by the department of tourism. The department of tourism is required to enter into contracts for the marketing or sale of such property with one or more statewide organizations that represent counties. Moneys received by the department of tourism from the sale of such property, and moneys received by statewide organizations from the sale of such property, must be used for tourism promotion and for grants to one or more statewide organizations that represent counties for international trade, business and economic development.

Under the current rural economic development program, which is administered by the department of commerce, the rural economic development board may award a grant or loan to a business that has fewer than 25 employees and that is located in a rural municipality (a city, village or town that has a population of 4,000 or less or that is located in a county with a population density of less than 150 persons per square mile). The program has 2 parts. Under the first part, the recipient business must use the grant or loan, which may not exceed $30,000, for start-up costs. Under the 2nd part, a business that received a grant or loan under the first part of the program may receive a loan, which may not exceed $25,000, for working capital, fixed asset financing or employe relocation costs. The total amount of the loans awarded in a fiscal biennium under the 2nd part of the program may not exceed 20% of the total amount appropriated for the program in that fiscal biennium. Under both parts of the program, the recipient business may be required by the board to contribute a portion of the cost of the project in cash or in-kind services.

This bill makes a number of changes to this program. The definition of rural municipality is changed to include a city, village or town with a population of 6,000 or less. An eligible business must have fewer than 100, rather than 25, employes. A business need not have received a grant or loan under the first part of the program in order to be eligible for an award under the 2nd. The first part, under which the board may award a grant or a loan, is changed so that only grants may be awarded and the maximum amount of an award is changed from $30,000 to $15,000. Under the 2nd part, the board may award grants and loans instead of only loans and the maximum amount of an award is changed from $25,000 to $100,000. The limit on the awards under the 2nd part is eliminated. In addition, a recipient of any award under the program is required to contribute cash from a nonstate source in an amount that equals at least 25% of the total cost of the project.

The bill provides that under each of the 2 parts, the board must award for purposes related to agricultural businesses not less than 25% nor more than 50% of the total amount awarded under that part in a fiscal biennium. The department of commerce and DATCP must designate staff to evaluate applications and make recommendations for grants or loans for purposes related to agricultural businesses.

The bill also authorizes the department to award a grant, not exceeding $50,000, to a person or a business proposing to start up, modernize or expand a dairy farm or other agricultural business in the state. The person or business must own the dairy farm or other agricultural business and use the grant proceeds to pay for services related to the start-up, modernization or expansion of the dairy farm or other agricultural business or for management assistance continuing after completion of the start-up, modernization or expansion project. The total amount of grants that may be awarded in a fiscal year for this purpose may not exceed $200,000.

This bill makes a number of changes to the minority business development program, under which the department of commerce and the minority business development board make grants and loans for business development projects to minority group members and businesses that are at least 51% owned, controlled and actively managed by a minority group member or members. The business development projects are of 2 general types: projects that involve the planning stages of a business (early planning projects) and projects that involve the start-up, expansion or acquisition of a business (development projects). The department may award grants for early planning projects and the board may award grants or loans for development projects. In addition, the board may award a grant or loan to a local development corporation, defined as the governing body of a federally recognized

American Indian tribe, or a business created by such a governing body, or a nonprofit corporation promoting economic development in a specific geographic area that is at least 51% controlled and actively managed by minority group members. The local development corporation must in turn use the grant or loan proceeds to make grants or loans to minority group members or minority businesses for development projects.

Under current law, the department may award for early planning projects no more than 10% of the moneys appropriated for the entire minority business development program. This bill changes this limit to 25%.

The bill also permits the board to award a grant or loan to a local development corporation for the creation, expansion or continuation of a revolving fund program that is operated by the corporation and that benefits or will benefit minority businesses or minority group members. A corporation that receives a grant or loan for this purpose must contribute, in cash, at least 50% of the cost of the project.

Under current law, the board may not award more than $100,000 in a fiscal biennium to any one recipient for any one development project and a local development corporation that receives a grant or loan from the board may not award more than $100,000 in a fiscal biennium to any one recipient or for any one development project. This bill removes that limit on awards that a local development corporation may make in a fiscal biennium and, instead, provides that a corporation may not make a grant or loan that exceeds $50,000 to an eligible recipient for development project costs. This new limit does not apply, however, to grants or loans that a corporation may make under a revolving fund program. The bill provides, in addition, that the board is prohibited from awarding more than $200,000 in a fiscal year to any one local development corporation.

Under current law, the board must consider a number of specified factors related to a development project for which a local development corporation intends to make a grant or loan before the board may award a grant or loan to the local development corporation. This bill changes this requirement so that the board no longer considers the factors in relation to a development project for which a local development corporation intends to make a grant or loan. Instead, a local development corporation must use factors that are similar to those specified factors when making a grant or loan for a development project or under a revolving fund program.

Under the current community-based economic development programs, the department of commerce awards grants to political subdivisions and community-based organizations for various purposes related to promoting economic development at the community level. Under one of the programs, the department may make a grant of up to $10,000 to a political subdivision to enable the political subdivision to develop a plan for diversifying its economy. Also under that program, the department may make a grant of up to $20,000 to a community-based organization to provide assistance to entrepreneurs or businesses that will provide jobs or to conduct a local economic development project. This bill revises this program by increasing the grant limit to $30,000 for either of the specified purposes and by authorizing the department to make a grant to a community-based organization, as well as to a political subdivision, to develop a plan for diversifying the local or regional economy. In addition, the bill requires the purpose of the plan to include attracting new businesses and jobs and promoting economic development.

The bill also creates another community-based economic development program. Under this program, the department may make a grant to a community-based organization or private nonprofit organization for the purpose of a venture capital development project that assists entrepreneurs or businesses in obtaining funding for the start-up or development of a business. The project must be likely to stimulate investment, promote economic development or create or retain jobs in the state. An applicant must submit a plan related to the project, and the plan must be approved by the secretary of commerce. An applicant must also provide at least 50% of the cost of the project through cash or in-kind contributions. The department may not award more than $75,000 in grants under the new program in any fiscal year.

This bill creates a new program, to be funded by the Wisconsin development fund and called the manufacturing assessment grant program, under which a grant of up to $2,500 may be made to a business with 500 or fewer employees to fund a management assessment and plan. The assessment and plan must be likely to assist the business in adopting and implementing new manufacturing processes and technologies and to help make the business more competitive. Total grants under the program may not exceed $750,000 in a fiscal biennium.

The bill eliminates the research grant and loan program, funded by the Wisconsin development fund, under which grants and loans may be made to a business with 250 or fewer employees to fund research having a potential commercial application. A similar program under current law, the technology development grant and loan program, provides grants and loans to businesses of any size to fund technical research intended to result in the development of a new or improved industrial product or process.

The bill also authorizes the department of commerce to charge a grant or loan origination fee of up to 1.5% of a grant or loan that exceeds $200,000 and that is awarded under either of 2 programs funded by the Wisconsin development fund, the major economic development projects program or the customized labor training grants and loans program. Revenue from the fees is used for the costs of underwriting grants and loans paid from the Wisconsin development fund and for administering the grant and loan programs funded by the Wisconsin development fund.

Under the current development zone program, after the department of commerce designates an area as a development zone, a person or corporation that conducts or intends to conduct economic activity in the designated zone may be certified by the department as eligible for certain tax credits. The designation of an area as a development zone is effective for 84 months, but this period may be extended for 12 months up to 3 times. When the department designates a development zone, the department allocates to the development zone a portion of $28,155,000, which is the total amount of tax credits that may be claimed under the program. Current law authorizes the department to increase the original amount of tax credits that were allocated to a development zone at its designation by up to $500,000.

This bill changes the total amount of tax credits that may be claimed under the program to $33,155,000. The bill removes the limit on any increase in the original amount of tax credits that were allocated to a development zone. Finally, the bill allows the designation of a development zone to be extended for 12 months up to 5 times.

CORRECTIONAL SYSTEM*ADULT CORRECTIONAL SYSTEM

Under current law, a person serving a sentence of imprisonment to a state prison usually has 3 possible ways of being released on parole: discretionary parole granted by the parole commission (for which a person is usually eligible after serving 25% of the sentence or 6 months, whichever is greater); mandatory release on parole (usually granted automatically after the person serves two-thirds of the sentence); or special action parole release by the secretary of corrections (a program designed to relieve prison crowding).

However, current law also provides different parole eligibility provisions for certain serious felony offenders. If a serious felony offender has one or more prior convictions for a serious felony, a judge may set a discretionary parole eligibility date for the offender that is later than 25% of the sentence or 6 months but not later than the mandatory release date of two-thirds of the sentence. In addition, certain serious felony offenders need not be automatically released when they reach their mandatory release dates. Instead, the parole commission may deny mandatory release to such offenders in order to protect the public or because an offender refuses to participate in counseling or treatment. The serious felony offenders covered by these parole provisions include persons convicted of serious violations such as homicide, battery, sexual assault, mayhem, kidnapping, taking hostages, arson, armed burglary, armed robbery, carjacking, assault by a prisoner, crimes against children and unlawful manufacture, sale or possession of controlled substances (dangerous drugs).

This bill increases the maximum term of imprisonment for certain felonies (see CRIMES) and changes the structure of sentences imposed for felony offenses. Under the bill, if a court chooses to sentence a felony offender to a term of imprisonment in state prison for a felony committed on or after July 1, 1998, the court must do so by providing a bifurcated sentence that includes a term of confinement in prison followed by a term of community supervision. The offender is not eligible for any type of parole. A bifurcated sentence imposed under the bill must be structured as follows:

1. The total length of the bifurcated sentence may not exceed the maximum term of imprisonment allowable for the felony.

2. The court must set the term of confinement in the prison portion of the sentence to be at least one year but not more than 40 years for a Class B felony, 20 years for a Class BC felony, 10 years for a Class C felony, 5 years for a Class D felony, or 2 years for a Class E felony. If the person is being sentenced for a felony that is not in one of these classes, the term of confinement in prison portion of the sentence must be at least one year but not more than 75% of the total length of the bifurcated sentence.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

3. The term of community supervision must equal at least 25% of the length of the term of confinement in prison.

After the person completes the term of confinement in prison portion of the sentence, he or she serves the term of community supervision in which he or she is subject to conditions set by both the court and the department of corrections (DOC) and is subject to supervision by DOC. If a person violates a condition of community supervision, community supervision may be revoked and the person may be returned to serve a period of time in prison.

Under current law, a person serving a life sentence usually must serve 20 years minus time calculated under the mandatory release formula before he or she is eligible for release on parole. If the person does not receive extensions due to violations of prison rules, he or she reaches parole eligibility after serving 13 years, 4 months. However, a judge may set a parole eligibility date for a person serving a life sentence that is later than the usual parole eligibility date or may provide that the person is not eligible for parole. Also, if a person has 2 convictions for any of certain serious felonies and is then convicted a 3rd time for another serious felony, he or she must be sentenced to life without parole (the so-called "3 strikes, you're out" law). No person serving a life sentence is entitled to mandatory release.

This bill provides that a person sentenced to life imprisonment for a crime committed on or after July 1, 1998, is not eligible for parole. Instead, the bill requires a judge who is sentencing a person to life imprisonment to do one of the following: 1) provide that the person is eligible for community supervision after serving 20 years; 2) set a date on which the person becomes eligible for community supervision, as long as that date requires the person to serve at least 20 years; or 3) provide that the person is not eligible for community supervision. If the court provides that the person is eligible for community supervision, the person may petition the sentencing court for release to community supervision on or after the community supervision eligibility date. A person sentenced to life who is released to community supervision is on community supervision for the remainder of his or her life and, like a person on community supervision under a bifurcated sentence, may have his or her community supervision revoked and be returned to prison if he or she violates a condition of community supervision. The bill does not affect persons sentenced to life imprisonment without the possibility of parole under the "3 strikes, you're out" law.

Under current law, DOC may enter into contracts with other states or political subdivisions of other states for the transfer and confinement of Wisconsin prisoners. If the contract involves the transfer of more than 10 prisoners in any fiscal year to any state or to any one political subdivision of another state, DOC may enter into the contract only if it is approved by the legislature by law or by the joint committee on finance (JCF). This bill authorizes DOC to enter into contracts with private persons for the transfer and confinement of Wisconsin prisoners in another state. JCF approval is not necessary.

Under current law, no more than 3 private businesses may lease space in the state prisons or correctional institutions operated by DOC and employ prison or institution residents to manufacture products or components or to provide services for sale on the open market. This bill increases the number of such private businesses to 11.

Current statutory text provides that “[The department may select a business or enter into a lease under this paragraph only with the approval of the joint committee on finance.]”. The bracketed language is included in a statutory unit that was created in 1995 Wisconsin Act 27, section 6384, but the text in the brackets was vetoed by the governor. However, 1995 Wisconsin Act 27, section 6385, amended the same statutory unit and the language in the brackets was not vetoed by the governor (the text appears in SECTION 6385 as plain text in an amended statutory unit). This bill removes this bracketed language from the statutes.

Under current law, DOC must promulgate rules providing limits on the number of prisoners at all state prisons. The rules must generally provide systemwide prisoner population limits and limits for each state prison. DOC is also authorized to provide, by rule, procedures allowing DOC to exceed any systemwide or institution limit in an emergency situation. This bill eliminates this rule-making requirement and, instead, requires DOC annually to submit a report to JCF and to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature establishing the statewide operating capacity of state prisons and of each state prison and reporting on the number of prisoners in each state prison.

This bill requires DOC to create a criminal gang data bank and to provide correctional authorities and law enforcement agencies with access to the criminal gang data bank. Under the bill, DOC must determine what information the criminal gang data bank will contain. If a correctional authority identifies a person in its custody to be a criminal gang member, or if a law enforcement agency identifies a person it has arrested to be a criminal gang member, the correctional authority or law enforcement agency must provide that information to DOC. If the person is already listed on the criminal gang data bank, the correctional authority or law enforcement agency must provide any updated information that the data bank does not already include. A correctional authority or law enforcement agency may provide information to DOC using either forms provided by DOC or a direct data entry system established by DOC.

The bill also requires DOC to: a) establish a method to confirm criminal gang membership and to ensure the timely and accurate entry of information into the criminal gang data bank; b) conduct reviews of correctional authorities and law enforcement agencies that enter information directly into the criminal gang data bank; and c) notify all correctional authorities and law enforcement agencies that may benefit from the criminal gang data bank of the existence of the criminal gang data bank.

Finally, the bill requires the department of justice (DOJ) to allow correctional authorities and law enforcement agencies to use the transaction information for management of enforcement (TIME) system to get access to the criminal gang data bank. The TIME system is a statewide computerized data base administered by DOJ that is used by law enforcement agencies to share information and to get access to information held by state agencies, including DOC and DOJ.

Under current law, DOC is required to establish certain correctional institutions. This bill requires DOC to utilize a previously authorized facility in the city of Racine as a medium security correctional institution for persons 15 to 23 years of age who have been placed in a state prison. The bill names the facility the "Racine Youthful Offender Correctional Facility".

Under current law, DOC is authorized to purchase or accept a gift of land and an existing facility for a suitable site selected by the building commission for an additional secured juvenile correctional facility. Currently, the site selected by the building commission for that facility is located at Prairie du Chien in Crawford County. This bill authorizes DOC, until July 1, 1998, to operate the secured juvenile correctional facility at Prairie du Chien as a state prison for young adult prisoners.

Under current law, a person who is on probation or parole and who engages in conduct that may result in the revocation of his or her probation or parole may be given the option to participate in a program that is designed as an alternative to the revocation of probation or parole. This bill authorizes DOC to require a probationer or parolee, who has engaged in conduct that may be the basis for revocation of probation or parole, to participate in a program that is designed as an alternative to the revocation of probation or parole.

Under current law, DOC assesses supervision fees to probationers and parolees who are under the supervision of DOC. This bill provides that DOC, after first deducting any fees based on inaccurate assessments, may collect unpaid supervision fees by asking the attorney general to bring a civil action against the probationer or parolee who owes the fees after he or she has been discharged from supervision. The bill also requires DOC to notify a probationer or parolee who owes unpaid supervision fees at the time of discharge that he or she owes those fees and is responsible for paying them.

Also, under current law, a person who is on probation may have the period of his or her probation extended by a judge if: 1) the probationer has not made a good faith effort to discharge court-ordered payment obligations, including restitution; 2) the probationer and the person to whom restitution is owed agree that community service work to be performed by the probationer during an extended period of probation will satisfy the restitution ordered; or 3) the probationer agrees to the extension of supervision and the court finds that extension would serve the purposes for which probation was imposed. This bill provides that a court may extend a probationer's period of probation if the probationer fails to pay supervision fees assessed by DOC. A probationer is entitled to a hearing on the issue of unpaid supervision fees before a court may extend the probationer's period of probation. If, after a hearing, a court finds that a probationer owes supervision fees but the court does not extend the period of probation, the court's findings may be entered as a civil judgment against the probationer for the fees owed, which DOC may use to collect the unpaid fees. Finally, the bill allows a court to modify the terms and conditions of probation or to revoke probation if a probationer fails to pay supervision fees assessed by DOC.

Under current law, a probationer or parolee may be placed under administrative supervision or minimum supervision by DOC. Administrative supervision requires that a minimum of one face-to-face contact occur every 6 months between the probationer or parolee and a representative of DOC and that the probationer or parolee submit a monthly report to DOC. Minimum supervision requires that a minimum of one face-to-face contact occur every 90 days between the probationer or parolee and a representative of DOC and that the probationer or parolee submit a monthly report to DOC. DOC must charge a fee to any probationer or parolee who is under administrative supervision or minimum supervision. The fee must cover the cost of supervision.

Current law also provides that DOC may contract with public, private or voluntary vendors for the supervision of probationers and parolees who are under minimum supervision or administrative supervision. The contract must authorize the vendor to charge a fee to probationers and parolees sufficient to cover the cost of supervision and administration of the contract.

This bill eliminates the current requirements for administrative supervision and minimum supervision and provides, instead, that DOC must establish the requirements by rule.

In addition, the bill provides that DOC may decide not to charge a fee to cover the cost of administrative supervision or minimum supervision of any probationer or parolee if the probationer or parolee demonstrates that he or she is unable to pay the fee, and requires that any contract with a vendor must permit DOC to prohibit a vendor from charging a fee to any probationer or parolee if the probationer or parolee demonstrates that he or she is unable to pay the fee, because:

1. The probationer or parolee is undergoing treatment approved by DOC and is unable to work.
2. The probationer or parolee has a statement from a physician certifying to DOC that the probationer or parolee should be excused from working for medical reasons.

JUVENILE CORRECTIONAL SYSTEM

Under current law, if a court of criminal jurisdiction (adult court) imposes a sentence or places a person on probation, the adult court must impose a crime victim and witness assistance surcharge of $50 for each misdemeanor offense or count and

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

$70 for each felony offense or count. This bill requires a court assigned to exercise jurisdiction under the juvenile justice code (juvenile court) to impose, in addition to any other disposition imposed, a delinquency victim and witness assistance surcharge of $20 on a juvenile who has been adjudicated delinquent.

Under current law, DOC operates juvenile secured correctional facilities for the placement of juveniles who have been adjudicated delinquent or convicted of a crime and placed in such facilities. Under current law, a juvenile who commits assault or battery while placed in a juvenile secured correctional facility is subject to the criminal penalties specified for those crimes, including imprisonment in an adult prison. This bill permits DOC to transfer a juvenile from a juvenile secured correctional facility to the Racine Youthful Offender Correctional Facility if the juvenile is 15 years of age or over and the office of juvenile offender review (OJOR) in DOC determines that the juvenile's conduct in the juvenile secured correctional facility presents a serious problem to the juvenile or others. Under the bill, the factors that OJOR may consider in making that determination must include whether and to what extent the juvenile's conduct in the juvenile secured correctional facility is violent and disruptive, the security needs of the juvenile secured correctional facility and whether and to what extent the juvenile is refusing to cooperate or participate in the juvenile's treatment programs in the juvenile secured correctional facility.

Under current law, a county may establish a secure detention facility for holding in secure custody juveniles who meet certain criteria. This bill permits a county to contract with DOC for the use of a juvenile secured correctional facility operated by DOC for holding in secure custody juveniles who meet the criteria for being held in a county-operated secure detention facility. Under the bill, a county may use a juvenile secured correctional facility for holding a juvenile in secure custody only if: 1) there is no county-operated secure detention facility approved by DOC within 75 miles of the county seat; or 2) there is no bed space available in a county-operated secure detention facility approved by DOC within 75 miles of the county seat.

Under current law relating to community youth and family aids (generally referred to as "youth aids"), various state and federal funds are allocated to counties to pay for state-provided juvenile correctional services and local delinquency-related and juvenile justice services. DOC charges counties for the costs of services provided by DOC. This bill imposes new per person daily cost assessments upon counties for juvenile placements during the 1997-99 fiscal biennium as follows:

	7/1/97	1/1/98	1/1/99
	to	to	to
Placement	12/31/97	12/31/98	6/30/99

Departmental corrective sanctions services	$77.75	$69.16	$62.81
Departmental aftercare	$15.55	$15.25	$14.96

Under current law, DOC must provide a corrective sanctions program to serve an average daily population of 105 juveniles, or more than 105 juveniles if the appropriation and positions authorized for that program are increased. Under the corrective sanctions program, DOC places a program participant in the community, provides intensive surveillance of the participant and purchases community-based treatment services for the participant. Current law specifies that a contact worker under the program must have a caseload of approximately 10 juveniles and that a corrective sanctions agent must have a caseload of approximately 15 juveniles. This bill increases from 105 to 119 in fiscal year 1997-98 and to 161 in fiscal year 1998-99 the average daily population of juveniles that the corrective sanctions program is required to serve and provides that the corrective sanctions program must serve more than those average daily populations if the appropriation and positions authorized for that program are increased or if funding and positions to serve a greater average daily population are available (by reallocating other funding and positions within DOC). The bill also eliminates the caseload size requirements specified under current law.

Under current law, DOC administers a program under which it distributes moneys to counties for early intervention services for first offenders and for intensive community-based intervention services for seriously chronic offenders (community intervention program). This bill transfers administration of the community intervention program from DOC to the department of health and family services (DHFS). The bill also eliminates requirements that the early intervention services be provided only for first offenders and that the intensive community-based intervention services be provided only for seriously chronic offenders.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Current law requires DOC to establish fees for juvenile correctional services provided by DOC. Current law also requires DHFS to include DOC's fees in DHFS' uniform system of fees and requires DHFS to collect the fees owed to DOC. This bill makes DOC responsible for establishing its own uniform system of fees and for collecting the fees owed to DOC for the juvenile correctional services provided by DOC.

COURTS AND PROCEDURE

Currently, the clerk of circuit court collects a justice information system fee from persons who are required to pay certain other specified fees, such as fees for the commencement of a civil action for review of an administrative decision or for a garnishment, wage earner, small claims or forfeiture action. Under current law, the fee is $5, 80% of which is used for the development and operation of automated justice information systems. This bill increases the fee to $7 and changes the percentage to be used for the automated justice information systems from 80% to four-sevenths.

Currently, a sheriff receives a fee of $50 for all of his or her activities related to the sheriff's sale of real estate under an order of a court. Twenty-five dollars of the $50 must be prepaid to the sheriff and is nonrefundable. This bill changes that fee to $150. Seventy-five dollars of the fee must be prepaid and is nonrefundable.

Currently, the director of state courts is required to establish and charge fees to certain court-related agencies for the provision of data processing services. This bill removes that requirement. In addition, the bill removes the requirement that the fees charged by the director of state courts for providing copies of certain documents and reports equal the fees charged by other state agencies.

CRIMES

Current law provides penalties for felonies, which are crimes punishable by imprisonment of more than one year. A felony created in the criminal code is placed in one of 6 classes (Class A, B, BC, C, D or E) and each class has a specific maximum term of imprisonment and a maximum fine. The maximum terms of imprisonment under current law for the classes of felonies (other than Class A felonies, which are punishable by life imprisonment) are as follows:

Class B	40 years
Class BC	20 years
Class C	10 years
Class D	5 years
Class E	2 years

This bill increases the length of sentences for the classes of felonies created in the criminal code, other than those punishable by life imprisonment, that are committed on or after July 1, 1998. The maximum terms of imprisonment for the classes of felonies under the bill are as follows:

Class B	60 years
Class BC	30 years
Class C	15 years
Class D	10 years
Class E	5 years

The bill also increases penalties for felony violations relating to controlled substances (dangerous drugs), motor vehicles, taxation and hazardous waste management. The bill increases the maximum term of imprisonment for these felonies by 50% or one year, whichever is greater.

The bill also changes the structure of sentences imposed for felony offenses. (See CORRECTIONAL SYSTEM, ADULT CORRECTIONAL SYSTEM.)

Current law provides various penalties for the crimes of theft, issuing worthless checks and criminal damage to property (including graffiti vandalism). In some circumstances, the penalty for these crimes is based on the value of the property stolen or damaged or the amount of the worthless checks. If the value or the amount is $1,000 or less, the crime is a misdemeanor, which is punishable by a fine or imprisonment of less than one year or both. If the value or the amount is more than $1,000, the crime is a felony, which is punishable by a fine or imprisonment of one year or more or both. This bill increases from $1,000 to $1,500 the threshold for determining whether misdemeanor or felony penalties apply in those cases in which penalties depend on the value of the property stolen or damaged or the amount of the worthless checks.

Current law prohibits forgery, which includes: 1) falsely making or altering certain legal or commercial writings, public records or official certifications with intent to defraud; or 2) passing off such a writing, record or certification as genuine knowing that it is falsely made or altered. A person convicted of either of these kinds of forgery may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than 10 years or both. This bill changes the penalty for either of these kinds of forgery by providing that the current penalty applies only if the value or purported value, whichever is greater, of the writing, record or certification is more than $1,500. Under the bill, if the value or purported value, whichever is greater, is $1,500 or less, the person may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than 9 months or both.

EDUCATION*PRIMARY AND SECONDARY EDUCATION

Under current law, a school district may admit a pupil who resides in another school district if the pupil's parents pay tuition. In addition, a pupil may attend a public school located outside his or her school district of residence if the 2 school boards agree, the state superintendent of public instruction approves and the school district of residence pays tuition.

This bill creates an interdistrict school choice program. Beginning in the 1998-99 school year, the bill provides that a pupil may attend any public school located outside his or her school district of residence if the pupil's parent complies with certain application dates and procedures, and requires the school district of residence to pay tuition or an amount agreed to between the 2 school districts. The school district of residence continues to count the pupil in enrollment for state aid purposes.

The school board of attendance may reject an application if there is no space available in the school or the program in which the pupil wishes to enroll, the pupil is involved in a disciplinary proceeding, or the pupil has been suspended or expelled from school in the current or 2 preceding school years. A school district may prohibit a resident pupil from attending school in another school district if the pupil is involved in a disciplinary proceeding. A school district must prohibit a resident pupil from attending a school in another school district if allowing such attendance would violate a voluntary or court-ordered plan to reduce racial imbalance in the school district. In addition, in the 1998-99 school year, a school district may limit the number of resident pupils attending public school in other school districts to 3% of its enrollment. In each of the 7 succeeding school years, that percentage increases by one.

The parent of a pupil whose application is rejected or who is prohibited from attending school in another school district by the school district of residence may appeal the decision to the state superintendent, whose decision is final.

Beginning in the 1998-99 school year, this bill also creates an interdistrict enrollment options program under which a pupil enrolled in a public school may attend a public school in another school district to take one or 2 courses under certain circumstances. The school board of the other school district must determine that there is space available; if the course is offered in the high school grades, the school board of the resident school district must determine that the course satisfies high school graduation requirements; and the pupil must meet all of the prerequisites for the course.

Acceptance and rejection criteria and procedures for the interdistrict enrollment options program are identical to the acceptance and rejection criteria and procedures for the interdistrict school choice program.

The school board of the school district of residence must pay to the school board of the other school district an amount equal to the cost of providing the course to a nonresident pupil under the program, as determined by the state superintendent.

This bill creates, in the office of the governor, a standards development council consisting of the lieutenant governor, a representative of the department of public instruction (DPI), legislators and one public member. The bill directs the governor to submit to the council pupil academic standards in mathematics, science, reading and writing, geography and history. The council must review the standards and may modify them. By September 15, 1997, the council must transmit its recommended standards to the governor. By October 15, 1997, the governor must approve or disapprove the standards. If the governor approves the standards, he or she must issue them as an executive order.

The bill also directs each school board, by August 1, 1998, to adopt pupil academic standards. If the governor has issued approved standards, the school board may adopt those standards. In addition, DPI must develop a high school graduation examination designed to measure whether pupils meet the standards approved by the governor. Each school board must adopt a high school graduation examination designed to measure whether pupils meet the standards adopted by the school board. If the school board has adopted the standards approved by the governor, it may satisfy this requirement by adopting the high school graduation examination developed by DPI.

Beginning in the 1999-2000 school year, the bill directs each school board to administer the high school graduation examination adopted by the school board. Beginning on September 1, 2001, a school board may not grant a high school diploma to any pupil unless the pupil has passed the high school graduation examination. A school board must provide a pupil with at least 4 opportunities to take the examination in grades 9 to 12.

Under current law, a charter school is a school operated by an individual (or group) who has entered into a contract with a school board. The school board is responsible for overseeing the operation of the charter school and may revoke the charter school contract under certain circumstances. A charter school is exempt from most laws governing public schools.

This bill permits the city of Milwaukee, the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee (UW-Milwaukee) and the Milwaukee area technical college (MATC) to establish and operate charter schools or to contract with an individual or group to operate charter schools. These charter schools must be located in the Milwaukee public school district (MPS) and only pupils who reside in MPS may attend them. The city of Milwaukee, UW-Milwaukee and MATC are responsible for either operating or overseeing the operation of their respective charter schools and may revoke their charter school contracts under certain circumstances.

For each pupil attending one of these charter schools, the bill directs DPI to pay to the operator of the charter school an amount equal to MPS's shared cost per member (the amount of MPS's school expenditures for which state aid is payable under the general equalization aid formula divided by the MPS enrollment) in the previous school year. DPI must reduce the general equalization aid to which MPS is entitled by the same amount.

Under current law, a charter school may be established either by school board initiative or by a written petition signed by: 1) at least 10% of the teachers employed by the school district; or 2) at least 50% of the teachers employed at one school of the school district. Within 30 days after receiving such a petition, the school board must hold a public hearing on the petition. After the hearing, the school board may grant the petition. The MPS board, however, must either grant or deny a petition within 30 days after the required public hearing. If the MPS board denies a petition, the person seeking to establish the charter school may appeal the denial to DPI. DPI's decision is final and is not subject to a court's review. In addition, a contract to operate a charter school may be for any term not exceeding 5 school years and may be renewed for one or more terms not exceeding 5 school years.

This bill eliminates the requirement that a petition be signed by a certain percentage of teachers, unless the charter school replaces a public school in whole or in part. If a school board is petitioned to establish a charter school it must either grant or deny the petition within 30 days following the required public hearing. If a school board denies the petition, the person seeking to establish the charter school may appeal the denial to DPI. DPI's decision is final and is not subject to a court's review. The bill also provides that a contract to operate a charter school may be for any term and may be renewed for any term.

Current law provides that a charter school is an instrumentality of the school district in which it is located and the school board of that school district must employ all personnel for the charter school. This provision does not apply to charter schools located in MPS. This bill requires the MPS board to determine whether a charter school located in MPS and under contract with the MPS board is an instrumentality of MPS. If the MPS board determines that the charter school is an instrumentality of MPS, then the MPS board must employ all personnel for the charter school; if the MPS board determines that the charter school is not an instrumentality of MPS, then the MPS board may not hire any personnel for the charter school. The bill also provides that a charter school established by the city of Milwaukee, UW-Milwaukee or MATC is not an instrumentality of MPS and that the MPS board may not hire any personnel for that charter school.

Current law requires school boards to administer certain statewide examinations to pupils and to ensure that instructional staff of public and charter schools hold licenses and permits issued by DPI. Under this bill, the city of Milwaukee, UW-Milwaukee and MATC are required to assume these responsibilities for their respective charter schools. Current law limits the increase in the total amount of revenue that a school district may receive from general school aids and property taxes unless the electors in the school district approve a higher limit by referendum. In each school year, the maximum allowable increase per pupil is $206. The limit is based on the difference between the average number of pupils enrolled in the 3 previous school years and the average number of pupils enrolled in the current and 2 preceding school years. This bill provides that, beginning in the 1998-99 school year, the number of pupils enrolled for MPS excludes pupils attending the charter schools established by the city of Milwaukee, UW-Milwaukee or MATC in the 3 previous school years.

Under current law, the number of pupils enrolled for determining MPS revenue limits excludes the number of pupils attending private schools under the Milwaukee parental choice program, under which eligible pupils in MPS may attend certain private schools at state expense. Beginning in the 1997-98 school year, this bill provides that for MPS the number of pupils enrolled excludes pupils attending private schools under the Milwaukee parental choice program in the 3 previous school years, resulting in less of a decrease in the revenue limit for MPS.

Under current law, several exceptions to the revenue limit exist, including an exception for a school district with a per pupil base revenue for the previous school year that is less than the statutorily prescribed revenue ceiling of $5,600 per pupil. Such a school district is allowed to increase its per pupil revenue up to this ceiling without holding a referendum. This bill changes the revenue ceiling to $5,800 per pupil for the 1997-98 school year and to $6,000 per pupil in subsequent school years.

Under the current enrollment options program, a public school pupil enrolled in the 11th or 12th grade may enroll in an institution of higher education (a UW campus, a technical college or a private, nonprofit institution of higher education located in this state) to take one or more courses under certain circumstances. If the course is taken for high school credit and is not comparable to a course offered in the pupil's school district of residence (as determined by the school board of that school district), the school board must pay the institution of higher education the cost of the pupil's tuition, fees and books. If the pupil is taking a course for postsecondary credit or a course that is comparable to a course offered in the school district, the pupil is responsible for the tuition and fees.

This bill renames the enrollment options program the "youth options program" and makes a number of other changes, including:

1. The bill treats attendance at a technical college differently from attendance at a UW campus or a private college. Under the bill, a pupil may attend a technical college under the youth options program if he or she has completed the 10th grade, is in good academic standing and is not a child at risk (a child who is behind his or her age group in the number of high school credits attained or in basic skill levels and who is a dropout, habitual truant, parent or adjudicated delinquent). The technical college must admit the pupil (unless the pupil has a record of disciplinary problems) and must ensure that the pupil's program meets the high school graduation requirements.

2. The bill removes from the program, for technical colleges as well as for other institutions of higher education, all references to comparability of courses. Under the bill, if a pupil attends a UW campus, the school board must pay the UW an amount equal to the cost of tuition, fees and books for the course. If a pupil attends a private institution of higher education, the school board must pay the institution the cost of tuition, fees and books, or an amount equal to the statewide average cost per high school credit multiplied by the number of credits for which the pupil is attending, whichever is less. If a pupil attends a technical college for less than 7 credits, the school board must pay the technical college the cost of tuition, fees and books. If the pupil attends a technical college for 7 credits or more, the school board must pay the technical college the school district's average cost per pupil for regular instruction and instructional support services multiplied by an amount equal to the number of credits taken by the pupil divided by 15. The bill specifies that the pupil is not responsible for any portion of the tuition and fees for the course, regardless of whether the course is comparable to a course offered in the school district and regardless of whether the pupil takes the course for high school or postsecondary credit.

Under current law, each school board must provide access to an education for employment program approved by the state superintendent of public instruction. This bill requires each school board to provide, instead, access to a school-to-work program that has been approved by the department of industry, labor and job development (DILJD). (See EMPLOYMENT.) The bill also transfers 13 positions associated with school-to-work programs from DPI to DILJD.

Under current law, each school board must establish a technical preparation program in each high school in cooperation with a technical college district board. The program must consist of a sequence of courses, approved by the technical college system (TCS) board, that are designed to allow high school pupils to gain advanced standing in the technical college district's associate degree program upon graduation from high school. This bill provides that the program must integrate applied academic and technical competency-based curricula and be designed to provide high school juniors and seniors with both high school and technical college credit or with advanced standing in a postsecondary institution upon graduation from high school. The bill directs the state superintendent, DILJD and the TCS board to assist school districts in developing their programs.

Current law directs DPI, the department of administration (DOA) and the legislative fiscal bureau (LFB) to jointly certify to the joint committee on finance (JCF) an estimate of the amount necessary to appropriate as general school aid to ensure that the sum of state school aids and the school levy tax credit equals 66.7% of the sum of state school aids and property taxes levied for schools. The amount appropriated as school aid is a sum sufficient equal to the amount determined by JCF.

This bill eliminates this process. The bill provides that, beginning in the 1997-98 school year, the amount appropriated is a sum certain determined through the biennial budget process. Beginning in 1999, the bill directs the governor, by February 15 of each odd-numbered year, to submit to JCF an estimate of the amount necessary to appropriate as general school aid in each of the following 2 school years to ensure that the sum of state school aids and the school levy tax credit in each of those school years equals two-thirds of the sum of state school aids and property taxes levied for schools.

Under current law, a school board may apply to DPI for a grant to fund one or more prevention and intervention programs, including a families and schools together program, an after-school and summer school program and several alcohol and other drug abuse programs. This bill transfers administration of these grant programs from DPI to the department of health and family services (DHFS).

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, referenda are required or authorized to be held by school districts in order to incur debt or exceed the revenue limits, or to exceed the levy rate limit for a school construction fund that is applicable only to the Milwaukee Public Schools. Currently, these referenda are required or authorized to be held at special elections when no offices appear on the ballot.

This bill provides that such referenda must be held concurrently with the spring election (held in each year) or the general election (held in each even-numbered year) or on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November in odd-numbered years.

The 1995-97 biennial budget act (1995 Wisconsin Act 27) made a number of changes with respect to the powers of the state superintendent of public instruction and the name and structure of DPI. The act:

1. Changed the name of DPI to the department of education (DOE).
2. Created an 11-member education commission, including the state superintendent as chairperson, to function as the policy-making unit for DOE.
3. Vested the administrative powers and duties of DOE in a secretary of education, to be appointed by the governor with senate confirmation.
4. Assigned all duties and powers of the state superintendent to the secretary of education and DOE.
5. Created an office of the state superintendent attached to DOE.

On March 29, 1996, the Wisconsin Supreme Court held that all of the provisions of 1995 Wisconsin Act 27 relating to the above items were unconstitutional and therefore void. Thompson v. Craney, 199 Wis. 2d 674.

This bill revises the statutes, including those sections of the statutes that relate to the constitutional issues but that were not specified by the court, to make them consistent with the court's decision. The bill also reenacts certain provisions of the statutes that were voided by the court but that were unrelated to the constitutional issues before the court. (See OTHER EDUCATIONAL AND CULTURAL AGENCIES.)

Current law requires each school board to obtain the advice and consent of the state superintendent of public instruction when determining the course of study and the minimum standards for admission to high school and requires the state superintendent to preapprove summer school courses and to prescribe procedures, conditions and standards for early admission to kindergarten and first grade.

This bill eliminates these requirements, requires the state superintendent to promulgate rules governing preapproval of summer school courses and requires each school board to prescribe its own procedures, conditions and standards for early admission.

Current law directs DPI annually to convene a convention composed of the representative from each school board in a cooperative educational service agency (CESA), which provides services to school districts. The convention must be held on the day of the annual organizational meeting for the CESA. The convention must establish bylaws for governing the agency. This bill eliminates the involvement of DPI in the calling of the convention.

Current law requires each CESA to provide to each member school board, every 3rd year, an accountability plan that addresses both the efficiency and effectiveness of agency programs and services. In addition, every 3rd year each CESA must submit to DPI for its approval an evaluation of agency programs and services. This bill eliminates these requirements.

Current law authorizes DPI to maintain an administrative leadership academy to enhance the knowledge and skills of mid-career school district administrators and principals. This bill eliminates this provision.

HIGHER EDUCATIONTechnical college system

This bill directs the TCS board to assist secondary schools in the development and implementation of school-to-work programs. The bill authorizes the TCS board to contract with school boards to provide school districts with school-to-work services. (See EMPLOYMENT.)

The bill also provides that if a technical college district board contracts with a school board to provide youth apprenticeship instruction to pupils enrolled in the school district, the district board may not charge, for each pupil receiving such instruction, an amount that is greater than the school district's average instructional cost per pupil.

Current law authorizes a TCS district board to charge a fee, in addition to the program fee established by the state TCS board, for certain court-approved alcohol or other drug abuse education programs.

This bill also allows an additional fee for the following:

1. A short-term, professional development, vocational-adult seminar or workshop offered to individuals who are employed in a related field.
2. With the approval of the state TCS director, a vocational-adult course intended to improve an individual's skills beyond the entry level if the course is required by law, rule or regulation, or by a professional organization, to maintain licensure or certification in the individual's field of employment.

The additional fee may not exceed an amount equal to the full cost of the course less the program fee established by the state TCS board.

Current law directs the TCS board annually to establish uniform fees for students who are not residents of this state based on 100% of the statewide cost per full-time equivalent student for operating the programs in which they are enrolled.

This bill provides that the TCS state director may authorize a TCS district board to charge a nonresident who is enrolled in a course provided through the use of distance education a fee that is less than the fee described above, although not less than would be charged a resident student.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100University of Wisconsin System

Under current law, the maximum salaries for all of the following positions at the University of Wisconsin (UW) System are established in the compensation plan: the president of the UW System, the chancellors of the UW-Madison and UW-Milwaukee, the vice presidents, the chancellors of the UW System campuses at Eau Claire, Green Bay, La Crosse, Oshkosh, Parkside, Platteville, River Falls, Stevens Point, Stout, Superior and Whitewater, the chancellors of the UW-Center System and the UW-Extension, the vice chancellor for health sciences of the UW-Madison and the vice chancellor who is serving as a deputy at each UW campus and the UW-Center System and the UW-Extension.

This bill authorizes the board of regents of the UW System to set the salary of a new appointment to any of these positions at an amount that exceeds the maximum amount established in the compensation plan if the board submits to the secretary of administration a report that identifies the competitive factors that necessitate the establishment of such a salary and the secretary of administration approves the salary. In addition, the bill provides that the board of regents may not establish the salary of a new appointment to any of these positions, regardless of the amount of the salary, without the approval of the secretary of administration.

Under current law, the board of regents is authorized to increase the salaries of the positions identified above by an amount that is greater than that authorized in the compensation plan, if the salary increase is granted "to correct a salary inequity or to recognize competitive factors". The cost of any such salary increase must be paid from the appropriation or appropriations that are used to fund the position of the person who is granted the salary increase. This bill provides that if the cost of any salary increase "to correct a salary inequity or to recognize competitive factors" would otherwise be chargeable to a general purpose revenue appropriation to the board of regents, the cost may instead be paid from academic student fee revenue. In addition, the bill provides that any such salary increase is subject to the approval of the secretary of administration.

Under current law, the board of regents is authorized to increase the salaries of faculty and academic staff by an amount that is greater than that provided in the proposal governing salary increases for faculty and academic staff that is approved by the joint committee on employment relations if the salary increase is granted "to correct a salary inequity or to recognize competitive factors". The cost of any such salary increase must be paid from the appropriation or appropriations that are used to fund the position of the person who is granted the salary increase. This bill provides that if the cost of any salary increase "to correct a salary inequity or to recognize competitive factors" would otherwise be chargeable to a general purpose revenue appropriation to the board of regents, the cost may instead be paid from academic student fee revenue. These salary increases are not subject to the approval of the secretary of administration.

Under current law, promotional appointments to vacant positions in the state classified service must be made only according to merit and fitness and are generally based on competitive examination and filled from promotional registers. This bill provides that for a promotional appointment to a vacant position in the classified service at the UW System, the appointing authority is not required to base the appointment on competitive examination or to fill the position from a promotional register when the position is to be filled by a person who, at the time of appointment, is employed in a permanent position at the UW System. This bill does not affect the requirement that promotions in the classified service at the UW System must be made only according to merit and fitness.

Currently, the board of regents of the UW System may set academic student fees. The board is appropriated, from revenues generated by academic student fees, a specified amount for degree credit instruction, plus an amount equal to not more than the amount by which the expenditure estimate for the appropriation (as submitted by the board to the secretary of administration and approved by the secretary) exceeded actual expenditures from the appropriation in the previous fiscal year.

This bill authorizes the board of regents to spend for degree credit instruction, in addition to the amounts described above, an amount equal to 5% of the amount appropriated for that purpose, if sufficient revenues are available.

In addition, in the 2nd fiscal year of a fiscal biennium, the bill authorizes the board of regents to spend for degree credit instruction, in addition to the amounts described above, an amount equal to 5% of the sum of the amount appropriated for this purpose and the 5% amount determined in the previous fiscal year, if sufficient revenues are available.

Current law authorizes the board of regents of the of the UW System to transfer moneys in program revenue appropriations to other program revenue appropriations. The moneys must be repaid before the end of the fiscal year in which the transfer was made.

This bill allows the board of regents, upon the request of the UW-Extension or any institution or center within the system, to transfer surplus moneys from the program revenue appropriation for auxiliary enterprises (such as housing facilities, dining halls and parking facilities) to a newly created program revenue appropriation for the one-time, fixed-duration costs of any student-related activity. The moneys need not be repaid.

Current law prohibits the board of regents of the UW System from accumulating any auxiliary reserve funds from student fees unless the fees and the reserve funds are approved by the secretary of administration and JCF. This bill eliminates this provision.

Current law requires the board of regents of the UW System to charge a $28 fee for each application for admittance to the UW System except that the board must charge a $38 fee for each application to a graduate school, law school or medical school within the system. This bill increases the fees to $35 and $45, effective with applications for admittance in the fall of 1998.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Current law authorizes the board of regents of the UW System, in the 1993-94 to 1996-97 academic years, to exempt from nonresident tuition up to 200 juniors and seniors enrolled at the UW-Parkside in programs with surplus capacity and up to 150 students enrolled at the UW-Superior in programs with surplus capacity. This bill extends the tuition award program through the 1998-99 fiscal biennium.

Current law also directs the board of regents to charge a student who is exempt from nonresident tuition under the tuition award program either the resident tuition charged at the institution in which the student is enrolled or the resident tuition charged by the public, 4-year institution closest to the student's permanent residence. This bill eliminates this provision. The bill also eliminates the requirement that the board of regents submit an annual report to the secretary of administration regarding the proposed tuition level for each student who is exempt from nonresident tuition under the program.

Under current law, moneys for degree credit instruction at the UW System are provided to the board of regents of the UW System in a single, sum certain appropriation. This bill creates a separate appropriation for credit outreach instruction sponsored by the UW-Extension under which the board is permitted to spend without limitation any revenue collected from that instruction.

Currently, with certain exceptions, no position may be created or abolished unless authorized by law, by JCF or, for positions funded from federal revenue, by the governor. Current law allows the board of regents of the UW System to create or abolish positions funded from certain appropriations. This bill allows the board of regents to create or abolish positions funded from the newly created appropriation for UW-Extension credit instruction.

OTHER EDUCATIONAL AND CULTURAL AGENCIES

Currently, the educational technology board (ETB) awards state "pioneering partners" grants and approves state trust fund loans and loan interest subsidies to certain local governments for the purpose of implementing, expanding or participating in educational technology projects or distance education projects (projects involving the use of communications equipment to facilitate long-distance instruction).

This bill eliminates the ETB and the pioneering partners program. The bill retains state trust fund loans for educational technology and distance education projects (although eliminating ETB involvement) and extends until the 2002-03 fiscal year the reserve of $15,000,000 for such loans to school districts, counties, municipalities and consortia of certain local governments. Currently, the reserve applies only through the 1999-2000 fiscal year.

The bill creates a technology for educational achievement in Wisconsin board (TEAWB) composed of the state superintendent of public instruction, the secretary of administration and 7 other members, one of whom must be a member of the board of regents of the UW System and one of whom must be a member of the TCS board.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

The bill authorizes the governor to appoint an executive director of the TEAWB outside the classified service and authorizes the executive director to appoint subordinate staff, subject to authorization of positions for the TEAWB.

The bill directs the TEAWB to promote the efficient, cost-effective procurement, installation and maintenance of educational technology by school districts, CESAs, technical college districts and the UW System. The TEAWB is specifically directed to support the development of courses and, with the consent of DOA, enter into cooperative purchasing agreements whereby school districts and CESA's may contract for courses to be provided to professional employees concerning the effective use of educational technology.

The bill creates a subsidized educational technology infrastructure loan program. Under the program, the state is authorized to issue general obligation bonds in a total amount not to exceed $50,000,000 before July 1, 1998, and $100,000,000 thereafter. The term of this debt may not exceed 10 years. The proceeds of these bonds are used to make subsidized educational technology infrastructure loans to school districts. The loans may be used for the purpose of upgrading electrical wiring of existing school buildings and installing and upgrading computer network wiring. The application procedures, terms and conditions for the loans are set primarily by rules to be promulgated by the TEAWB, except that the interest rate is to be set based on the state's interest expenses and the expenses of providing reserves against default. The bill directs DOA to provide or contract for the provision of building construction services on behalf of school districts for the installation or maintenance of electrical and computer network wiring, at the expense of the school districts, if the districts finance that installation or maintenance with loans from the TEAWB. The repayment of the loans is subsidized so that school districts only pay 50% of the total debt service on the loans.

The bill appropriates moneys to the TEAWB to award grants to CESAs and school districts for educational technology purposes. The bill also appropriates to the TEAWB moneys from the common school fund to be distributed to school districts for educational technology purposes.

The bill also permits DOA to accept orders from the TEAWB on behalf of school districts, CESAs, technical college districts and the UW System for the purchase of educational technology materials, supplies, equipment and contractual services. The bill permits school districts, CESAs and public educational institutions to lease educational technology equipment from the TEAWB with an option to purchase the equipment.

The bill appropriates moneys to the board of regents of the UW System to carry out educational technology projects, including the student information system, the development of curricula to train students enrolled in the schools of education in the use of educational technology in primary and secondary schools, to provide faculty with educational technology and to train faculty in its use.

The bill appropriates moneys to the TCS board to award grants to district boards for faculty development programs in the use of emerging technologies in curriculum and instruction.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

The bill requires the public service commission (PSC), in consultation with the TEAWB and DOA, to establish an educational telecommunications access program under which school districts are provided with high-speed data transfer lines (data lines) or 2-way interactive video links (video links). Under the program, DOA contracts with telecommunications providers for the data lines and video links and charges a school district not more than $250 per month per data line or video link. Any costs incurred by DOA that exceed $250 per month are paid from the universal service fund, which is a state segregated fund that consists of contributions made by certain telecommunications service providers and that is used to promote universal access to telecommunications services.

Under current law, the educational communications board (ECB) funds distance education projects by making matching grants to school boards, CESAs, technical college district boards, or institutions or centers within the UW System, individually or collectively. This bill eliminates the funding of distance education projects by the ECB.

The 1995-97 biennial budget act (1995 Wisconsin Act 27) eliminated the higher educational aids board (HEAB), which was an independent agency, and transferred its responsibilities for administering the state's student financial aid system to the newly created department of education (DOE). 1995 Wisconsin Act 27 also eliminated the educational approval board (EAB), which was attached to the TCS board, and transferred its responsibilities for approving veterans' education and training programs and regulating private vocational and technical schools to DOE. On March 29, 1996, the Wisconsin supreme court held that the creation of DOE was unconstitutional and therefore void. Thompson v. Craney, 199 Wis. 2d 674. In its opinion, the court did not explicitly address the elimination of HEAB and EAB and the transfer of their functions to DOE.

This bill recreates HEAB and EAB, and restores the powers and duties of these boards to those that existed prior to their elimination, except that the bill attaches EAB to HEAB instead of to the TCS board. (See PRIMARY AND SECONDARY EDUCATION.)

Under current law, this state has entered into a student reciprocity agreement with the state of Minnesota. For residents of either state attending public postsecondary institutions in the other state, the agreement provides a nonresident tuition waiver for enrollment in vocational schools and a reciprocal fee structure for enrollment in other higher education institutions. The reciprocal fee is the average academic fee that would be charged the student at a comparable higher education institution in his or her state of residence.

This bill allows the agreement to provide a different reciprocal fee for Wisconsin residents enrolled in the University of Minnesota Law School. For these students, the different reciprocal fee may be the same fee that a Minnesota resident is charged for enrollment in the University of Minnesota Law School.

This bill permits the state historical society to charge a fee for research services that the historical society provides to nonresidents who are not present when the services are being performed. The historical society may not charge a fee unless it has established a fee schedule and submitted it to JCF for its review.

EMPLOYMENT

Under current law, each school board in the state must provide access to an education for employment program approved by the state superintendent of public instruction. Also, under current law, the department of industry, labor and job development (DILJD) provides a school-to-work program under the federal school-to-work opportunities act. This bill merges the education for employment programs provided by school boards into the school-to-work program provided by DILJD. Under the bill, DILJD may award grants to school boards that provide local school-to-work programs. The bill requires a school-to-work program to link school-based and work-based learning, academic and technical education and secondary and postsecondary education and to include work-based learning opportunities for high school students, a system of career guidance activities for high school students and the coordination of high school courses with technical college system and University of Wisconsin courses for the purpose of providing postsecondary credits for high school students.

The bill also permits DILJD to award a grant to a nonprofit organization that provides an innovative school-to-work program for children at risk, that is, children who are behind their age group in the number of high school credits attained or in basic skill levels and who are dropouts, habitual truants, parents or adjudicated delinquents, in a county having a population of 500,000 or more (Milwaukee County) to assist those children in acquiring employability skills and occupational-specific competencies before leaving high school.

Under current law, DILJD may award grants to nonprofit corporations and public agencies for the provision of career counseling centers throughout the state. This bill requires DILJD to allocate in each fiscal year $600,000 in program revenues received from interest and penalty payments under the unemployment compensation program to provide grants for career counseling centers.

Under current law, DILJD awards grants to nonprofit organizations and public agencies that are responsible for the training of youth apprentices. A nonprofit organization or public agency that is awarded a youth apprenticeship grant must use the funds to award training grants to employers who provide on-the-job training and supervision for youth apprentices. Currently, a training grant may not exceed 50% of a youth apprentice's hourly wage or $4 per hour, whichever is less, and may not be awarded for more than 500 hours of work per youth apprentice in any school year. This bill permits DILJD to award training grants directly to employers who provide at least 180 hours of training for each youth apprentice during a school year. The bill also eliminates the current caps on a training grant and instead limits a training grant to $500 per youth apprentice per school year and to 2 school years per youth apprentice.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law affecting members of a police department of a 1st class city (currently, only the city of Milwaukee), if the representative of a collective bargaining unit consisting of the members of the police department and the representative of the city reach an impasse, either party may petition the employment relations commission to appoint an arbitrator to determine the wages, hours and working conditions of the employes in the collective bargaining unit. Under current law, in determining the proper compensation to be received by the employes, the arbitrator must utilize both of the following factors:

1. The most recently published U.S. bureau of labor statistics "Standards of Living Budgets for Urban Families, Moderate and Higher Level".

2. The average annual increases in the consumer price index since the last adjustment in compensation for the employes.

This bill eliminates the requirement that the arbitrator utilize the 2 factors specified above and instead requires that the arbitrator consider all of the following factors, with the first factor being given the greatest weight and each successive factor being given less weight than the one that precedes it:

1. Comparison of all of the items of compensation of the employes with such items of compensation of other municipal law enforcement officers in the metropolitan area in which the city is located.

2. Comparison of the respective crime rates, and workloads of and risks of injury to law enforcement officers, in the city and any other jurisdiction in the metropolitan area in which the city is located.

3. The increase in the cost of living during the term of the predecessor collective bargaining agreement.

4. Comparison of all of the items of compensation of the employes with such items of compensation of other municipal law enforcement officers in comparable communities in this state.

5. Comparison of all of the items of compensation of the employes with such items of compensation of other protective service employes in the city.

For the purposes of this bill, the items of compensation include base wages; longevity pay; health, accident and disability insurance programs; pension programs, including amount of pension, relative contributions and all eligibility conditions; the terms and conditions of overtime compensation and compensatory time; vacation pay and vacation eligibility; sickness pay amounts and sickness pay eligibility; life insurance; uniform allowances; and any other similar item of compensation.

Under current law, the Wisconsin conservation corps (WCC) board classifies its enrollees as corps members, assistant crew leaders, crew leaders and regional crew leaders. Under current law, the normal period of enrollment of a crew leader who is not a regional or assistant crew leader is 2 years. Under this bill, the WCC board may extend the enrollment period by up to an additional 2 years.

The bill also raises the maximum of a tuition voucher awarded to an enrollee in the WCC from $2,400 to $2,600.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current state law governing the WCC, no WCC enrollee is eligible for unemployment compensation benefits by virtue of his or her employment in the WCC. Under current state law governing the unemployment compensation program, employees of state agencies are potentially eligible for benefits. However, an individual serving in a position receiving work relief or work training as a part of a work-training or work-relief program assisted or funded by a state agency is not eligible for benefits based on such service except as the agency otherwise elects with the approval DILJD.

This bill provides that any individual who serves as a WCC member or assistant crew leader in the WCC is not eligible for unemployment compensation benefits based on such service, irrespective of whether the individual is participating in a work-relief or work-training program, and irrespective of any election by the WCC board.

ENVIRONMENT*WATER QUALITY

The federal Safe Drinking Water Act was amended in 1996 to provide funding to states for revolving loan programs to fund projects that will facilitate compliance with national drinking water regulations or otherwise further the health protection objectives of the act.

This bill requires the department of natural resources (DNR) and the department of administration (DOA) to administer a safe drinking water loan program under which this state accepts the federal funding made available under the Safe Drinking Water Act, issues general obligation bonds to provide the required state matching funds and makes loans to local governmental units for projects to protect or improve drinking water quality. The loans are at 55% of market interest rate for most local governmental units and at 33% of market interest rate for local governmental units that meet financial eligibility criteria established by DNR, except that the joint committee on finance (JCF) may change the interest rates at the request of DNR and DOA. DNR must establish funding lists for eligible projects, with priority given to projects that address the most serious risks to human health, that are necessary to ensure compliance with the Safe Drinking Water Act and that assist local governmental units that are most in need on a per household basis.

This bill creates a program to guarantee loans for projects to improve the quality of drinking water provided by certain water systems that are not owned by local governmental units. The Wisconsin housing and economic development authority (WHEDA) guarantees the loans and DNR establishes the eligibility requirements and determines whether loans are eligible for guarantees. Federal funds provided under the Safe Drinking Water Act are used to guarantee the loans and the bill requires the eligibility requirements for loan guarantees to be consistent with federal requirements.

This bill authorizes DNR, with DOA's approval, to use up to 27% of the funds provided under the Safe Drinking Water Act for other purposes related to drinking water quality, including making loans for projects to protect the quality of the source waters for drinking water systems. The bill also authorizes the governor to transfer a portion of the federal funds provided under the Safe Drinking Water Act to the clean water fund program, which provides funding primarily to sewage treatment projects, or to transfer a portion of the federal funds provided for the clean water fund program to the safe drinking water loan program. These transfers are authorized by federal law.

The Safe Drinking Water Act authorizes a state to have primary enforcement authority over drinking water matters if the state satisfies certain requirements. Currently, this state has primary enforcement authority. A federal law enacted in 1996 requires a state to have authority to impose administrative penalties for safe drinking water violations in order to maintain primary enforcement authority. This bill authorizes DNR to impose forfeitures (civil monetary penalties) for safe drinking water violations.

Under current law, DNR, in conjunction with the department of agriculture, trade and consumer protection (DATCP), the land and water conservation board (LWCB) and local governmental units, administers a program to provide financial assistance for measures to reduce water pollution from nonpoint (diffuse) sources. Currently, under the nonpoint source program, DNR biennially recommends watersheds to the LWCB for designation as priority watersheds and the LWCB designates priority watersheds. DNR is required to complete the process of the planning nonpoint source projects in all priority watersheds by December 31, 2015.

This bill requires DNR to prepare a list of the watersheds in this state in order of the level of impairment of the waters in each watershed caused by nonpoint source pollution and to submit the list to the LWCB no later than January 1, 1998. The bill requires the LWCB to identify priority watersheds based on the list and recommendations by DNR and DATCP. DNR and DATCP must limit the number of watersheds that they recommend to the number that they determine will enable DNR to comply with the December 31, 2015, planning deadline.

Under this bill, a governmental unit may request funding for a nonpoint source project in a particular year by submitting an application to the LWCB no later than July 15 of the preceding year. DNR must use criteria approved by the LWCB to score each proposed project. Then, before November 1, the LWCB must select the projects for funding in the next year.

Under current law, the LWCB may authorize the transfer of funds appropriated to DNR for the nonpoint source program to DATCP for grants to certain farmers for animal waste management facilities. The grants may be made only for facilities that will be located in priority watersheds. This bill eliminates this requirement.

Under current law, persons who discharge pollutants to the waters of this state from a point source, such as a factory, must obtain a permit from DNR. This bill requires DNR to administer at least one pilot project to evaluate the trading of water pollution credits. A pilot project may authorize a person required to obtain a water pollution permit to increase the discharge of pollutants above levels that would otherwise be authorized in the permit if the person reaches an agreement with another person under which the other person agrees to reduce the amount of pollution that the person causes or reaches an agreement with DNR or a local governmental unit under which the person pays money to DNR or the local governmental unit and DNR or the local governmental unit uses the money to reduce water pollution.

Under the clean water fund program, this state provides financial assistance for projects to control water pollution, including sewage treatment plants. The budget act for each fiscal biennium establishes the present value of the subsidies that may be provided under the clean water fund during that fiscal biennium. This bill sets the present value of the clean water fund subsidies that may be provided during the 1997-99 fiscal biennium at $82,400,000.

Current law provides 3 interest rates for clean water fund loans, 2 subsidized rates plus the market interest rate, depending on the type of project to be funded by the loan. Under current law, DNR establishes the subsidized interest rates by rule, except that the joint committee on finance (JCF) may change the interest rates at the request of DNR and DOA.

This bill establishes 3 clean water fund loan interest rates for projects that are eligible for a subsidized interest rate, ranging from 55% to 70% of the market interest rate, depending on the type of project, except that JCF may change the interest rates at the request of DNR and DOA.

Current law requires DNR and DOA to prepare a biennial finance plan for the clean water fund program. This bill eliminates the requirements that the plan include projections of wastewater treatment needs and financial assistance to be provided beyond the next fiscal biennium and that the plan describe the extent to which the clean water fund will be maintained in perpetuity.

Current law requires each person who generates solid or hazardous waste to pay, in addition to other fees, a well compensation fee of one cent per ton for each ton of solid or hazardous waste disposed of by that generator. This bill increases the well compensation fee paid by generators of solid or hazardous waste from one cent per ton to 4 cents per ton.

HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES AND ENVIRONMENTAL CLEANUP

This bill authorizes DNR and DOA to administer a land recycling loan program under which this state provides loans to cities, villages, towns and counties (political subdivisions) for projects to remedy environmental contamination at sites owned by political subdivisions where the environmental contamination has affected, or threatens to affect, groundwater or surface water. The loans are made from the revolving loan fund used to fund the clean water fund program. The loans are at 55% of market interest rate. Under the program, DNR must establish funding lists for eligible projects with rankings based on the potential of projects to reduce environmental pollution and threats to human health and, for sites that are not landfills, the extent to which projects will prevent the development of undeveloped land by making land available for redevelopment after a cleanup is conducted. The bill prohibits a political subdivision from selling a site for which a loan was provided, while the loan is outstanding, for less than fair market value. If a political subdivision sells a site, it must use the proceeds to pay any outstanding loan balance, but may retain a portion of the proceeds after paying the balance.

This bill eliminates a program under which DNR is authorized to use the proceeds of general obligation bonds to make grants to political subdivisions for investigations and cleanups of contaminated sites owned by political subdivisions.

Current law generally requires a person who possesses or controls a hazardous substance that is discharged or who causes the discharge of a hazardous substance to restore the environment to the extent practicable and to minimize the harmful effects of the discharge on the environment. Under current law, a local government that acquires land through tax delinquency or bankruptcy proceedings, or from another local government that acquired land by such means, is exempt from requirements relating to correcting discharges of hazardous substances on that land.

Under this bill, this exemption does not apply to a local government that fails to take certain actions directed by DNR to reduce to acceptable levels any substantial threat to public health or safety posed by the land when put to its intended use or if the discharge is a discharge of a hazardous substance from a federally regulated underground storage tank.

Under current law, a money lender that acquires land through enforcement of a security interest is not liable for a discharge of a hazardous substance on that land if, in addition to meeting other requirements, the lender conducts a DNR-approved environmental assessment of the land within 90 days after acquiring the land. This bill allows environmental assessments conducted before the lender acquired the land to be used to satisfy this condition. However, if the prior assessment is conducted more than one year before the lender acquires the land, the prior assessment may not be used unless, within 90 days after acquiring the land, the lender visually inspects the land to verify the accuracy of the environmental assessment, submits the assessment and inspection results to DNR, corrects the assessment's inadequacies and reimburses DNR for the cost of its review.

Under current law, DNR has a lien upon land for unrecovered expenses incurred by DNR to contain, remove or dispose of abandoned containers of hazardous substances. This bill eliminates DNR's liens upon such land.

Under current law, a landowner who acquired land after a hazardous substance was discharged on the land is exempt from absolute requirements to restore the environment and minimize the harmful effects of the discharge, if the purchaser, in a manner approved by DNR, investigates and restores the environment, minimizes the harmful effects of the discharge and thereafter maintains and monitors the land. The exemption continues to apply even if changes to the law would impose greater responsibilities on the purchaser, or if it is subsequently discovered that the purchaser's efforts failed to fully restore the environment, failed to minimize the harmful effects of the discharge or that the contamination was more extensive than anticipated. The exemption is transferable to subsequent owners who continue to monitor and maintain the property as approved by DNR.

This bill provides that any person who did not cause the discharge, who did not control the hazardous substance prior to its discharge and who did not participate in the management, control or ownership of a business or entity that caused the initial release of the hazardous substance on the property, is eligible for this exemption.

With certain limitations, the bill also exempts such a person from the following:

1. Minimum standards for operation, monitoring and maintenance of solid waste facilities.
2. Certain corrective action orders issued by DNR.
3. Liability for repayment of costs incurred by this state for environmental repair to the land.
4. Environmental repair fees and surcharges paid by waste generators.
5. Licensing and certification requirements for the treatment, storage and disposal of hazardous waste on the land.

The bill allows DNR to issue a certificate indicating approval of restoration efforts that eliminated the harmful effects of a discharge from only part of the affected land. The certificate exempts a person from liability only with respect to the portion of the land that was successfully restored. The bill also makes these exemptions available to a person who owned the land when the hazardous substance was first released and makes these exemptions available regardless of who investigates the land, when the investigation is conducted and who restores the land.

The bill provides that a person who owns land contaminated by a hazardous substance is not required to respond to that hazardous substance if the hazardous substance migrated from land owned by another and if the person did not cause the original discharge. The bill also authorizes DNR to issue a written determination that the person is not required to respond to the hazardous substance if the person agrees to cooperate with DNR's efforts to respond to the hazardous substance and to avoid taking actions that worsen the problem.

The bill authorizes DNR to enter into an agreement containing a schedule for conducting a cleanup of a hazardous substance discharge required by the current law if the discharge does not endanger public health. If a person violates such an agreement, DNR may refer the matter to the department of justice for enforcement.

The bill authorizes a person who discovers a discharge of a hazardous substance on his or her property as a result of conducting an environmental investigation of the property to delay conducting a cleanup required by current law if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

1. The person gives a summary of the environmental investigation to DNR.
2. DNR determines that the discharge does not pose an immediate and direct threat to human health or the environment.
3. The person does not make the discharge worse.
4. Within 3 years (or 6 years under certain circumstances) the person enters into an agreement with DNR containing a schedule for conducting the cleanup.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

The bill provides that a tax-exempt economic development corporation that owns land on which a hazardous substance has been discharged is not required to restore the environment or minimize the harmful effects of the discharge if the corporation acquired the property for economic development purposes and the corporation did not cause the discharge.

The bill provides that a person who investigates property to determine the existence of a discharge of a hazardous substance or to get information about a discharge is not considered to possess or control the hazardous substance or cause the discharge of the hazardous substance as the result of conducting the investigation. This provision does not apply, however, if the person who conducts the investigation physically causes a discharge or exacerbates an existing discharge.

Under current law, a person who provides assistance or advice in handling problems in emergency or potential emergency situations relating to the discharge of a hazardous substance or the threat of such a discharge is immune from civil liability for acts or omissions in providing the assistance or advice. The immunity does not extend to persons who are paid for their advice and assistance, who cause and are liable for the hazardous substance discharge, or whose acts or omissions are grossly negligent or involve reckless, wanton or intentional misconduct.

This bill creates immunity from any civil liability related to a hazardous substance that was released on land before the person claiming the immunity took title to, or possession or control of, the land. The immunity is available only to specified persons who by their actions qualify for other immunities from liability relating to discharged hazardous substances. The bill does not provide immunity from a claim arising under a contract.

Under the current stewardship program, DNR may provide grants to local units of government to acquire land for urban green space, for local parks and for the preservation or restoration of urban rivers or riverfronts. DNR also may provide grants to nonprofit conservation organizations to acquire land for trails as well as for these 3 purposes. This bill requires that DNR give higher priority in awarding these grants to projects related to brownfields redevelopment. A "brownfield" is an idle or underused industrial or commercial facility or site that is adversely affected with respect to expansion or redevelopment by actual or perceived environmental contamination.

Under current law, the department of commerce administers a program to reimburse owners of certain petroleum product storage tanks for a portion of the costs of cleaning up discharges from those tanks. This program is commonly known as PECFA. This bill requires the department of commerce to give priority in paying PECFA awards to claims for cleanups at brownfields.

This bill authorizes DNR to provide assistance to any person concerning the investigation and cleanup of environmental pollution of properties and the determination of who is liable for that pollution. The bill authorizes DNR to charge fees to offset the costs of providing this assistance.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Currently, DNR contracts for construction work related to hazardous substance spills or environmental repair are exempt from most state procurement requirements. DNR must award the contracts on the basis of competitive bids or competitive sealed proposals. However, the governor may waive this requirement in an emergency. This bill allows the governor to waive these bidding requirements if DNR desires to use innovative or patented technology that is available from only one source and that in the judgment of DNR would provide the best practicable hazardous substance spill response or environmental repair.

Under current law, DNR administers a financial assistance program to assist with costs related to operating recycling programs and for complying with the prohibition on disposing of yard waste in landfills. The amount of financial assistance under the program is generally the lesser of 66% of eligible net costs or $8 per person. In 1998, the percentage rate for reimbursement of recycling program capital costs and yard waste disposal costs is reduced from 66% to 50%. In 1999, the rate is further reduced from 50% to 25%, while the reimbursement rate for other eligible expenses is reduced from 66% to 50%. The program ends on January 1, 2000. This bill eliminates the scheduled changes to the funding formula and continues the current formula used to determine financial assistance under the program until January 1, 2000.

Under current law, the owner of a solid waste disposal facility (landfill) or a hazardous waste disposal facility is required to maintain proof of financial responsibility for the costs of closing the facility and of caring for the facility after it is closed (for example, monitoring groundwater quality). Current law authorizes several methods for providing proof of financial responsibility, including providing a bond or a letter of credit. A business or utility may provide proof of financial responsibility by satisfying specified financial tests, including measures of net worth and creditworthiness.

This bill establishes a fiscal capacity method for cities, villages, towns and counties (political subdivisions) to establish proof of financial responsibility related to the ownership of a landfill or hazardous waste facility. A political subdivision may provide proof of financial responsibility under this method by satisfying tests related to the amount of its indebtedness; the property tax levy that would be required to pay for closure and long-term care; and the political subdivision's bond ratings.

If a political subdivision that uses the fiscal capacity method of providing proof of financial responsibility fails to comply with closure, long-term care or corrective action requirements, this bill requires DOA to collect the amounts necessary to pay for compliance by deducting those amounts from any state payments due to be paid to the political subdivision.

Under current law, generators of hazardous waste are generally required to pay an annual environmental repair fee. Certain kinds of waste are exempted from the fee, including household hazardous wastes that are collected in a program administered by a municipality to collect household hazardous wastes, often called a clean sweep program. This bill exempts from the environmental repair fee agricultural hazardous wastes that are collected in a program administered by a county to collect agricultural hazardous wastes, often called an agricultural clean sweep program.

LEAKING PETROLEUM STORAGE TANKS

Under current law, the department of commerce administers a program to reimburse owners of certain petroleum product storage tanks for a portion of the costs of cleaning up discharges from those tanks. This program is commonly known as PECFA. The department generally determines the amount of a PECFA award by subtracting a specified deductible from the amount of the eligible costs.

Under this bill, if a claimant includes certain ineligible costs in a PECFA claim, the department determines the amount of the PECFA award by subtracting the amount of those ineligible costs, as a penalty, in addition to the deductible, from the amount of the eligible costs. The bill requires the department to promulgate a rule identifying the ineligible costs that will be subtracted.

The bill provides that PECFA reimbursement for interest costs incurred by a PECFA claimant may not exceed the prime rate, as determined by the department of commerce. Currently, there is no limit on PECFA reimbursement for interest costs.

The bill authorizes the department of commerce to promulgate rules under which it may require 2 or more owners of petroleum storage tanks to use the same service providers to conduct cleanups of discharges from those tanks as a condition of receiving PECFA reimbursement. The bill also authorizes the department of commerce to promulgate rules under which the department may select service providers to provide investigation or remedial action services in specified areas. The rules may deny PECFA reimbursement for a service performed by a person other than a selected provider or limit PECFA reimbursement to the amount that the selected provider would have charged for the service.

Under current law, the owner of an underground petroleum product storage tank that meets state or federal standards for new underground petroleum product storage tanks or that has been upgraded to meet state or federal standards for upgrading existing underground petroleum product storage tanks is generally not eligible for PECFA reimbursement for discharges from that tank. This bill provides that the owner of an aboveground petroleum product storage tank that meets state standards for new aboveground petroleum product storage tanks or that has been upgraded to meet state standards for upgrading existing aboveground petroleum product storage tanks is generally not eligible for PECFA reimbursement for discharges from that tank.

Current law specifies situations in which an owner is ineligible for a PECFA award, including when the owner has been grossly negligent in maintaining the storage tank. This bill provides that the owner of a petroleum product storage tank is also ineligible for a PECFA award if the discharge is caused by someone who provided services or products to the owner.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, PECFA reimburses the owner of an underground tank for compensation paid to 3rd parties for property damages caused by a discharge. This bill provides that PECFA reimbursement for property damages does not cover the loss of fair market value resulting from a discharge.

Under the bill, if a person who receives a PECFA award sells equipment or supplies that were eligible costs for which the PECFA award was issued, the person must pay the proceeds of the sale to this state.

The bill requires the department of commerce to specify the information that must be submitted by a person who requests a hearing to contest a PECFA determination, such as the amount of a PECFA award. If a person fails to submit the required information, the department may deny the person a hearing.

Under current law, the owner of a storage tank is generally ineligible for a PECFA award for the cleanup of a discharge from the tank if the owner has received a PECFA award for an earlier discharge from that tank. This bill eliminates that ineligibility.

Under the bill, if an owner of a storage tank receives a PECFA award but the cleanup activities for which that award is granted fail to remedy the discharge, the owner may receive additional financial assistance for other activities to remedy the discharge. The amount of the original award plus the additional financial assistance may not exceed the maximum allowable PECFA award.

Under current law, a PECFA claimant must receive a written determination from the department of commerce or from DNR, depending on the severity of the contamination, that the cleanup restored the environment to the extent practicable and minimized the harmful effects from the discharge to the environment. This bill authorizes DNR to specify methods of showing that the cleanup restored the environment to the extent practicable and minimized the harmful effects from the discharge to the environment, other than a written determination by the department of commerce or DNR.

Current law limits PECFA awards for discharges from home heating oil tanks to $500,000 per fiscal year. The law limits PECFA awards for school district heating oil tanks to 5% of the amount appropriated for PECFA awards in each fiscal year. This bill limits PECFA awards for school district heating oil tanks plus home heating oil tanks to 5% of the amount appropriated for PECFA awards in each fiscal year.

OTHER ENVIRONMENT

Under current law, DNR issues various kinds of permits and licenses, such as water pollution discharge elimination permits, air pollution control permits and landfill operation licenses. Some facilities are required to obtain several of these licenses and permits.

This bill requires DNR to administer a pilot program to evaluate innovative environmental regulatory methods. Under the pilot program, DNR may enter into not more than 10 cooperative agreements with persons who own or operate facilities that are required to be covered by licenses or permits issued by DNR under current law. A cooperative agreement may replace a license or permit identified in the cooperative agreement and provisions in a cooperative agreement may supercede provisions in a license or permit.

A cooperative agreement must require the participant in the pilot program to implement an environmental management system under which the participant evaluates the effects that the covered facility has on the environment and makes measurable or noticeable improvements in those effects through planning and changes in the facility's operations. The bill requires a cooperative agreement to contain pollution limits that are at least as stringent as the pollution limits under current law and requires participants to involve interested members of the public in planning and in monitoring performance under a cooperative agreement.

The bill authorizes DNR to grant variances from requirements in current environmental laws to participants in the program if those variances promote the reduction in overall levels of pollution or reduce the administrative burden on state agencies or participants while providing the information needed to ensure compliance with environmental requirements.

The bill requires participants in the program to conduct systematic reviews of their environmental performance. If a review reveals violations of environmental requirements, a participant must report the violations to the department. The participant must correct the violations within 90 days of the report or within a longer period specified in a compliance schedule that must be approved by DNR. If a participant corrects reported violations within the required period, this state may not collect forfeitures (civil monetary penalties) for the violations unless the violations present an imminent threat to public health or the environment, the violations may cause serious harm to public health or the environment or DNR discovers the violations before they are reported.

This bill requires DNR to establish a permit guarantee program. Under the program, DNR refunds application fees paid by persons applying for certain licenses or permits if DNR fails to make a determination on the licenses or permits within a time period established by DNR. The bill requires DNR to include specified types of licenses and permits in the program, including air pollution control permits and permits relating to navigable waters, and authorizes DNR to include other environmental licenses and permits in the program.

The bill also allows DNR to promulgate a rule to charge an additional fee for applications for permits for various projects that affect wetlands or that affect navigable waters, such as the placement of structures or deposits in lakes and rivers. DNR may charge this fee if an applicant requests that DNR make a determination whether to grant the permit in a shorter time than the time period established by DNR by rule and if DNR can comply with the request.

Current law prohibits mining for metallic minerals without a mining permit issued by DNR. DNR is required to issue a mining permit if it makes certain findings, including that the proposed mine will comply with all applicable air, water and solid and hazardous waste laws.

This bill requires that DNR also find: 1) that proven technology exists to ensure that the proposed mine will not pollute groundwater or surface water from acid drainage or from the release of heavy metals; and 2) that the proposed mine will use that technology.

Current law requires DNR to promulgate rules relating to nonmetallic mining reclamation. "Nonmetallic mining" is the extraction of nonmetallic substances such as stone and gravel. The rules must include the text of a nonmetallic mining ordinance. Counties are generally required to enact ordinances in strict conformity with the text of the ordinance. This bill eliminates the requirement that DNR promulgate the text of a nonmetallic mining ordinance by rule. The bill generally requires counties to enact ordinances that comply with DNR's nonmetallic mining reclamation rules.

Under current law, nonmetallic mining reclamation standards and a local nonmetallic mining reclamation ordinance apply to portions of a nonmetallic mining site that were mined before the ordinance took effect as well as to portions of a site that are mined after that date, but the standards that apply to portions of a site that were mined before the effective date are not as stringent. Under this bill, nonmetallic mining reclamation standards and ordinances only apply to areas that are used for nonmetallic mining, or for purposes related to nonmetallic mining, on or after the date on which the bill becomes law. Under the bill, there are no longer different reclamation standards for areas depending on when they are mined.

Current law authorizes a landowner to register land that has an economically viable nonmetallic mineral deposit with the register of deeds. Once land is registered, a local governmental unit may not, by zoning, rezoning or other official action, permit the erection of structures on the land, or permit other uses of the land, in a manner that would permanently interfere with the extraction of the mineral deposit. This does not prohibit a use of the land that is permissible under the zoning in effect when the land is registered. A registration may not be rescinded.

Under this bill, land may be registered only if it has a marketable nonmetallic mineral deposit, as determined by a registered geologist or engineer, and if nonmetallic mining is a permitted or conditional use for the land under the zoning in effect when the land is registered. Registration lasts for 10 years and may be renewed for one 10-year period without review of the marketability of the deposit or the zoning of the land. Under the bill, a local governmental unit may change the zoning of land that is registered, if the zoning change is necessary to implement a master plan, comprehensive plan or land use plan that was adopted at least one year before the rezoning. The zoning change does not take effect during the registration period in effect when the zoning is changed or during any remaining renewal period, if the land is eligible for a renewal.

Under current law, the department of transportation administers a motor vehicle emission inspection and maintenance program in counties in which the air quality does not meet federally mandated standards. Certain motor vehicles are required to be inspected for vehicle emissions and to comply with emission limitations adopted by DNR. Various categories of vehicles are exempt from the program, including motor vehicles that weigh more than 14,000 pounds. This bill exempts farm trucks from the motor vehicle emission inspection and maintenance program.

This bill creates an environmental science council in DOA. The council advises the governor and state agencies on issues relating to the environment and natural resources.

This bill creates an environmental performance council in DNR. The council advises the governor and the secretary of natural resources concerning efforts to improve the environmental performance of businesses and local governments and concerning environmental management systems.

GAMBLING

Under current law, the gaming board is responsible for policy making and rule making relating to, and for the day-to-day operations of, pari-mutuel racing and wagering, charitable gaming (bingo and raffles) and crane games. In addition, the gaming board is responsible for policy making and rule making with respect to the state lottery. (The department of revenue (DOR) is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the state lottery.) Finally, the gaming board is responsible for coordinating all of the state's regulatory activities regarding Indian gaming; functioning as an Indian gaming liaison among Indians, the general public and the state; functioning as a clearinghouse for information on Indian gaming and assisting the governor in determining the types of gaming that may be conducted on Indian lands; and entering into Indian gaming compacts.

This bill eliminates the gaming board and transfers the racing, charitable gaming, crane games and Indian gaming authority to the department of administration (DOA). In addition, the bill transfers the rule-making and policy-making authority over the state lottery to DOR.

Under the bill, all employe positions of the gaming board become employe positions of DOA, with the incumbent employes holding the positions in the gaming board being transferred to DOA.

Under current law, the basic compensation that is paid to a retailer that sells lottery tickets or lottery shares is 5.5% of the retail price of the lottery tickets or lottery shares sold by the retailer. This bill raises this compensation amount to 6% for tickets for scratch-off or instant games, retains the 5.5% compensation for on-line lottery tickets or lottery shares and authorizes the payment of an additional 0.5% compensation for any games, tickets or shares to retailers that meet certain sales or marketing goals established, by rule, by DOR.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, no more than an amount generally equal to 15% of the gross revenues from the sale of lottery tickets and lottery shares may be used to pay the expenses for the operation and administration of the state lottery, unless the joint committee on finance approves an amount greater than 15%. This bill reduces the 15% expense limitation for the operation and administration of the state lottery to 9%, but provides that the compensation paid to retailers who sell lottery tickets or lottery shares is no longer included in the calculation of the expense limitation.

Under current law, the state may participate in any multistate lottery if that multistate lottery is in conformity with the requirements of the Wisconsin state lottery. A multistate lottery is a lottery in which more than one state of the United States participates. This bill provides that the state may participate in any multijurisdictional lottery if the lottery is in conformity with the requirements of the Wisconsin state lottery. A multijurisdictional lottery is a lottery in which more than one state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico or any territory or possession of the United States or the government of Canada or any province thereof participates.

Under current law, no person who provides management consultation services to DOR relating to bids or sealed proposals to supply goods or services to the state lottery may have any ownership interest in, or any partners, members or shareholders who have any ownership interest in, any vendor that is under contract to supply or that submits a bid or competitive sealed proposal to supply those goods or services.

This bill provides that no person who provides management consultation services to DOR relating to bids or sealed proposals to supply goods or services to the state lottery may have an ownership interest of 5% or more in, or any partners, members or shareholders who have an ownership interest of 5% or more in, any vendor that is under contract to supply or that submits a bid or competitive sealed proposal to supply those goods or services.

Under current law, the gaming board is required to promulgate rules for the selection of lottery retailers on the basis of objective criteria. The rules may not limit the number of retailers solely on the basis of the population of the municipality in which the retailer is located. In addition, the rules must include requirements concerning the financial responsibility of the retailer; the security of the retailer and the retailer's business; the accessibility of the retailer's location to the public; the sufficiency of retailers to serve public convenience; the volume of expected lottery ticket and lottery share sales; the qualifications of retailers; and avoidance of an undue concentration of retailers in any geographic area of the state.

This bill retains the requirement that rules must be promulgated for the selection of lottery retailers on the basis of objective criteria, but eliminates all of the current requirements concerning the contents of the rules.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100*HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES*HEALTH

This bill creates a program under which the department of health and family services (DHFS) awards grants to persons who provide health care screening, referral, follow-up and patient education to low-income uninsured women. The bill requires DHFS to conduct a campaign to increase women's health issues awareness and to reduce the prevalence of chronic and debilitating health conditions that affect women. Lastly, the bill creates a grant program for the conduct of projects to enhance community activities in establishing and maintaining a comprehensive women's health program.

Under the current state public health funding program, DHFS must award up to $250,000 in fiscal year 1996-97 as grants to local health departments, with a 25% matching requirement, to provide primary health care services. This bill eliminates the state public health funding program.

Under current law, DHFS is responsible for the statewide administration of the long-term support community options program, which is implemented by counties. The program provides for assessments of persons to determine if community-based services are appropriate to meet their needs for long-term support.

This bill permits DHFS to establish in certain geographic areas a pilot program under which DHFS may contract with a private or public entity to serve as a clearinghouse of information for persons who are interested in home or community-based long-term support services or institutional long-term care. In counties where the pilot program is established, the entity with which DHFS contracts must perform the assessments required under the long-term support community options program and must collect information specified by DHFS and provide that information to DHFS.

The bill provides that no nursing home or community-based residential facility that is located in an area where the pilot project is established may admit a patient or resident unless the patient or resident has received an assessment performed by the contracting entity or is exempt or has waived the assessment.

Under current law, DHFS certifies hospitals and certain adult family homes and licenses nursing homes, hospices, community-based residential facilities (C-BRFs), home health agencies, rural medical centers and certain other adult family homes. Each facility so licensed or certified must pay a fee for initial licensure or certification and, if subject to renewal of licensure, a license renewal fee, except that hospitals and nursing homes pay annual fees based on the number of beds for which the hospitals or nursing homes are licensed. This bill permits DHFS to continue in force a license for a facility unless the facility fails to meet standards for operation or other requirements of licensure and DHFS suspends or revokes the licensure. Each facility subject to licensure is required, under the bill, to pay license fees that correspond to the license renewal fees previously required.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Currently, under the birth and developmental outcome monitoring program, under certain conditions physicians and nurses must report to DHFS if a child under the age of 6 has a condition that results from an adverse neonatal outcome such as low birth weight, has a birth defect or has a developmental disability or other severe disability. Using certain federal block grant moneys, DHFS must develop and implement a system for collecting, updating and analyzing this information, disseminate the information and coordinate data dissemination activities with those of DPI. This bill eliminates the birth and developmental outcome monitoring program.

Under current law, DHFS administers a breast cancer screening program, which includes an annual grant to the city of Milwaukee public health department for the performance of breast cancer screening activities with the use of a mobile mammography van. This bill requires DHFS also to award under this program a grant of $500,000 in fiscal year 1997-98 and $100,000 in fiscal year 1998-99 to an applying entity for the performance of breast cancer screening activities with the use of a mobile mammography van.

Under current law, a person may make an anatomical gift that authorizes, at death, the donation of all or a part of the person's body for use by another. In addition, a coroner or medical examiner may, under certain circumstances, permit the removal of a body part from a person who has died. In both of these circumstances, the removal of the body part must be made by a licensed physician, except that an eye may be removed by an enucleator. This bill permits a technician to remove human tissue, except eyes, or human bone that has been donated by anatomical gift or authorized for removal by a coroner or medical examiner. The technician must have been appropriately trained to remove or process the tissue or bone and may act only under the direction or supervision of a physician.

Under current statutes, at least 24 hours before a woman may obtain a lawful abortion, the attending physician, another physician or a person assisting the attending physician must tell her certain information and must provide her with written information that DHFS must publish and distribute. Among other things, the material must state that it is unlawful for any person to coerce a woman to undergo an abortion, and the physician or assistant must orally state that a woman has a legal right to place her child in foster care or place the child with a relative for adoption.

Under this bill, the materials must state that it is unlawful to perform an abortion for which consent has been coerced. The attending physician, a person assisting him or her or another physician must orally state that a woman has the legal right to place her child in a foster home or treatment foster home for 6 months or to petition a court for placement of the child in a foster home, treatment foster home or group home or with a relative, or to place the child for adoption under a process that involves court approval both of the voluntary termination of parental rights and of the adoption.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, DHFS is permitted to charge a fee for the written materials that it must publish and distribute and that must be provided to a woman at least 24 hours before she obtains a lawful abortion. The fee may not exceed the actual cost of the preparation and distribution of those materials. County departments are required to distribute the materials and may charge a fee not to exceed the actual cost of preparation and distribution of the materials. This bill deletes authorization for DHFS and for county departments to charge a fee for the materials.

Currently, under Karlin v. Foust, No. 96-C-0374-C, 1996 U.S. Dist. (W.D. Wis. filed May 1, 1996), enforcement of the requirement to provide the materials and of the requirement that the woman receive the materials at least 24 hours prior to obtaining an abortion has been temporarily restrained.

Under current law, DHFS may impose daily forfeitures (civil monetary penalties) on a C-BRF licensee who violates the laws relating to C-BRFs. Currently, the C-BRF licensee must pay all forfeitures within 10 days after receipt of the notice of assessment, or, if the forfeiture is contested, within 10 days after receipt of a final administrative decision ordering payment, unless the decision is appealed and the decision is stayed by a court order.

This bill permits a C-BRF licensee against whom a forfeiture has been assessed to make alternative arrangements acceptable to DHFS for the payment of the forfeiture. The bill requires DHFS not to continue a C-BRF license if, on the date that the licensing fee is due, the C-BRF has any forfeitures that are due and have not been paid.

Under current law, DHFS may establish a fee for each workshop or seminar that it provides relating to the provision of services by C-BRFs and nursing homes. This bill allows DHFS to establish a fee for each workshop or seminar that it provides relating to the provision of services by assisted living facilities, adult family homes, hospitals, home health agencies, rural medical centers and hospices.

Under current law, DHFS subsidizes continuation coverage premiums for certain persons infected with human immunodeficiency virus (HIV). Continuation coverage is coverage under an employer-provided group health insurance plan that an employe, who would otherwise lose coverage because of a reduction in hours or termination of employment, may continue upon payment of the applicable premiums. To be eligible for premium subsidies, a person with an HIV infection must be a state resident who has a family income that does not exceed 200% of the federal poverty line, who is not eligible for medicare and who does not have insurance coverage other than under the plan for which he or she is eligible for continuation coverage or under a group or individual plan that offers a substantial reduction in the covered services from the plan for which he or she is eligible for continuation coverage. His or her employment must have been terminated, or his or her hours must have been reduced, because of an illness or medical condition arising from or related to the HIV infection. Premium subsidies for an eligible person may be paid by DHFS until the person's continuation coverage ceases or until the expiration of 29 months after his or her continuation coverage began, whichever occurs first.

This bill expands eligibility for, and uses of, premium subsidies. A state resident who has an HIV infection may be eligible for premium subsidies even if he or she is eligible for medicare. The person's family income may not exceed 300% of the federal poverty line, rather than 200%. However, if the person's family income exceeds 200% of the federal poverty line, he or she must pay a portion of the premium for the insurance coverage. The amount that the person pays is determined according to a schedule established by DHFS, taking into consideration both income level and family size. Premium subsidies are no longer limited to continuation coverage. With the exceptions of medicare, medicare replacement policies and long-term care insurance policies, premium subsidies may be paid for any health insurance coverage, whether group or individual, that a person who fulfills all of the other eligibility requirements has coverage under or is eligible for, including a medicare supplement policy. The level of services covered under the policy does not matter. In addition, premium subsidies may be paid for as long as the person remains eligible and has the coverage.

Under current law, the state registrar is required to accept for registration, assign a date of acceptance, index and preserve original certificates of birth and death, original marriage documents and original divorce reports. Numerous provisions of the vital statistics laws require use of original vital records. Mutilating or destroying an original birth or death certificate is punishable by a fine or up to 2 years imprisonment, or both.

This bill authorizes the state registrar to transfer to optical disk or electronic format, in accordance with procedures and standards prescribed by the department of administration, the paper originals of certificates of birth, death, divorce or annulment, marriage documents, fetal death reports and related reports and to destroy the originals of vital records that are transferred to optical disk or electronic format. The bill also authorizes the state registrar to microfilm the paper originals of these vital records, if so approved by the public records board. Lastly, the bill provides that copies of vital records that have been converted to optical disk or electronic format serve as the original vital records for purposes of the vital statistics laws.

Under current law, DHFS may not approve for occupancy more than 22,516 hospital beds. Currently, a person may obligate for a capital expenditure, by or on behalf of a hospital, to renovate or replace existing approved beds of the hospital or to undertake new construction if the renovation, replacement or new construction does not increase the approved bed capacity of the hospital. A person may also obligate for a capital expenditure or implement services that increase the approved bed capacity of a hospital if the capital expenditure or services are necessitated by a transfer of beds from a public hospital that is operated by a county with a population of 500,000 or more (Milwaukee County) to a private hospital and if the resulting combined total number of approved beds in the 2 hospitals does not increase. Currently, no person may transfer approved beds of a hospital to a facility that is associated with the hospital.

This bill eliminates the cap on the number of hospital beds that DHFS may approve. The bill also removes the bed capacity restrictions on capital expenditures obligated by or on behalf of a hospital.

Under current law, DHFS must analyze occurrences, trends and patterns of acute, communicable or chronic diseases, maternal and child health, injuries and occupational and environmental hazards and distribute information based on these analyses. This bill authorizes DHFS to charge reasonable fees for the analysis and provision of health, occupational and environmental data.

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Under current law, the department of industry, labor and job development (DILJD) administers the food stamp employment and training program under which certain food stamp recipients aged 18 to 60 may be required to work or participate in job training. Currently, DILJD is authorized, to the extent permitted by federal law or waiver, to distribute food stamp benefits based on the number of hours that an individual participates in the work or training requirement, a method commonly referred to as "pay-for-performance".

This bill expands the food stamp benefit distribution methods to include use of not more than $300 of a household's food stamp benefit amount as a wage subsidy to be paid to an employer of a member of the household who is employed by that employer as a participant in a Wisconsin works (W-2) employment position. W-2 is this state's replacement program for the aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) program. Participants in W-2 employment positions receive a cash benefit based on work participation rather than family size, as under AFDC. The bill also permits DILJD to distribute food stamp benefits as cash to households in which: 1) a member has been employed in unsubsidized employment for at least 90 days, has earned at least $350 per month for the last 90 days and continues to earn at least $350 per month; or 2) a member is a participant in a W-2 employment position or was a participant in a W-2 employment position but became ineligible solely because of earnings. DILJD may not implement either of these methods of distribution, however, until the secretary of administration reviews and approves a plan submitted to DOA by DILJD detailing how DILJD will implement the distribution methods and what the fiscal impact of those methods will be.

The bill also modifies the eligibility requirements under the food stamp program. Under the bill, an individual is disqualified from the food stamp program for noncompliance with the work requirements of the program. For the first occurrence of noncompliance, the ineligibility period is one month; for the 2nd occurrence, 3 months; and for the 3rd and subsequent occurrences, 6 months.

In addition, under the bill, in order to be eligible for food stamp benefits, a person who is a custodial parent of a child who is under the age of 18 and who has an absent parent, a person who is a noncustodial or putative parent of a child who is under the age of 18 or a person who lives with and exercises parental control over a child who is under the age of 18 and who has an absent parent must cooperate with efforts to establish the paternity of the child and with efforts to secure any support to which the person or child may have rights.

Finally, under the bill, DILJD must require an applicant for the food stamp program to state in writing whether the applicant or any member of the applicant's household has been convicted in any state or federal court of a felony that has as an element possession, use or distribution of a controlled substance (dangerous drug). A person who, after August 22, 1996, has been convicted of such a felony is ineligible for food stamps and, in determining a household's eligibility for food stamps, the needs of that person are not considered. However, the person's income and resources are considered to be available to the household. The period of ineligibility or disregard of the person's needs continues for at least 12 months, but must end after 12 months if the person submits to a test for drug use and the results of the test are negative.

Under current law, a county department of social or human services is required to certify eligibility for and issue food coupons to needy households, except that a W-2 agency (the agency with which DILJD contracts to administer W-2) is required to certify eligibility for and issue food coupons to eligible participants in the W-2 program.

This bill requires a W-2 agency also to certify eligibility for and issue food coupons to: 1) persons who may be required to participate in the food stamp employment and training program; and 2) other persons who are under the age of 61 and who are not disabled.

Currently, certain offenses under the food stamp program are punishable by fines or imprisonment or both. The maximum punishment for an offense involving food coupons having a value of more than $100 is a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than 5 years or both. In addition, a court may suspend a person who violates the food stamp provisions from participation in the food stamp program for up to 18 months.

Under federal law, an offense involving food coupons having a value of $5,000 or more is punishable by a fine of not more than $250,000 or imprisonment for not more than 20 years or both. Also, under federal law, a person who violates certain provisions of the food stamp program must be suspended from the program for one year for the first offense, 2 years for the 2nd offense and permanently for the 3rd offense. Upon conviction of an offense under the federal law involving food coupons, authorization cards or access devices having a value of $500 or more, the person must be suspended from the program permanently. Additionally, under federal law, a person who a court determines has traded a controlled substance for food coupons must be suspended from the food stamp program for 2 years upon the first determination and permanently upon a 2nd determination. A person who a court determines has traded firearms, ammunition or explosives for food coupons must be permanently suspended from the program.

In addition, under federal law, a person who is a fugitive felon is ineligible for the food stamp program or for any program for which block grant moneys under the federal temporary assistance for needy families (TANF) program are used. TANF is the federal block grant program designed to replace AFDC. (W-2 is expected to be funded in part by a TANF grant.) Federal law also requires a 10-year suspension from the food stamp program for a person who is convicted of fraudulently misstating or misrepresenting his or her identity or place of residence for the purpose of obtaining simultaneous multiple food stamp benefits. Finally, federal law requires a 10-year suspension from any TANF-funded program for a person who is convicted of fraudulently misstating or misrepresenting his or her identity or place of residence for the purpose of obtaining benefits in 2 or more states under the food stamp program, the federal supplemental security income (SSI) program (a cash benefit program for the aged, blind and disabled), the medical assistance program or any program for which TANF moneys are used. The person's eligibility may be reinstated, however, if the president of the United States pardons that person for the conduct for which the person was suspended.

This bill modifies the W-2 and food stamp provisions to reflect the federal requirements.

Under current law, a person who receives assistance under SSI or state supplemental payments is ineligible for AFDC. The person may, however, apply for AFDC on behalf of his or her dependent child. Currently, AFDC is due to expire 6 months after the date that DILJD specifies in the Wisconsin Administrative Register as the statewide implementation date of W-2. A person who receives assistance under SSI or state supplemental payments is ineligible to participate in the employment component of W-2.

This bill requires DHFS to make a monthly payment of $77 to a recipient of SSI or of state supplemental payments for each dependent child of that recipient if the recipient is the custodial parent of that child. DHFS may not make the payment unless: 1) the child meets the eligibility criteria for AFDC; and 2) the custodial parent is ineligible for AFDC or W-2 solely because he or she receives SSI or state supplemental payments. If a dependent child has 2 custodial parents, both custodial parents must receive either SSI or state supplemental payments to be eligible for the payment and only one payment per month may be made for any child. The $77 payment is unavailable for a child who receives SSI benefits, and a child on whose behalf the $77 payment is made may not receive AFDC. Under the bill, a child for whom the $77 payment is made is eligible for medical assistance (MA), under which medical services are provided to low-income persons.

Under current law, DHFS administers the state supplemental food program for women, infants and children, commonly referred to as WIC. Under WIC, DHFS provides supplemental food, nutrition education and other services to eligible low-income women, infants and children.

This bill authorizes DHFS to authorize grocery stores and pharmacies to accept WIC drafts in exchange for certain food. Under the bill, DHFS may also contract for alternative food distribution with entities other than grocery stores or pharmacies. The bill provides that a person who violates rules promulgated by DHFS relating to the WIC program may be subject to one of the following:

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

1. Denial of an application to be authorized as a WIC vendor or participant.
2. Suspension or termination of authorization as a WIC vendor.
3. Disqualification from WIC.
4. A forfeiture (civil monetary penalty) of not less than $10 nor more than $1,000.
5. Repayment of cash or benefits.

In addition, the bill provides that a person who is found guilty of certain violations of the WIC provisions may be subject to a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than 2 years, or both, for the first offense, and a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than 5 years, or both, for a 2nd or subsequent offense.

Under current law, reimbursement for home health, personal care and private-duty nursing services that are provided to a medical assistance recipient in a month may not exceed 120% of the average monthly cost of nursing home care, as determined by DHFS. The monthly limit does not apply to an MA recipient under the age of 22 or a ventilator-dependent individual, or if DHFS determines that the cost of providing an individual with nursing home care would exceed the cost of providing the person with the home health, personal care or private-duty nursing services.

This bill eliminates the monthly limit on reimbursement under MA for home health, personal care and private-duty nursing services that are provided to an MA recipient.

Under the current formula for state and federal payment for care received in nursing homes and certain C-BRF's by MA recipients, DHFS may establish minimum patient day occupancy standards for determining costs per patient day for each of these facilities. DHFS determines payment by dividing the total allowable facility costs by the actual adjusted patient days or patient days based on 91% of occupancy, whichever is higher. Also under current law, the maximum number of licensed nursing home beds statewide is 51,795, as adjusted under various criteria by DHFS.

This bill permits nursing homes for which the bed occupancy rate is less than 91% to request DHFS to delicense a licensed bed. If DHFS approves the request, DHFS may not include the bed in determining costs per patient day for the nursing home. The nursing home may not sell or use a bed that is delicensed. Every 12 months after a bed is delicensed, DHFS must reduce the licensed bed capacity of the nursing home by 10% of all the nursing home's delicensed beds or by 25% of one bed, whichever is greater, and must also reduce the statewide maximum number of licensed nursing home beds by this number. However, the nursing home retains the right to resume use and licensure of a delicensed bed for 18 months after the facility notifies DHFS that the facility intends to resume licensure of the bed, except that the nursing home may not resume licensure of a bed or fraction of a bed for which the licensed bed capacity of the nursing home has been reduced.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, DHFS may use state revenues under MA and federal matching funds to reimburse the 3 state centers for the developmentally disabled for the cost of services provided by the centers. Under a community integration program, for each placement into a community of a person who is relocated from one of the state centers, DHFS reduces this reimbursement by a specified amount and community care for the person is paid for under MA. Currently, the reimbursement reduction amount for the Central Wisconsin Center for the Developmentally Disabled is $205 per day, the amount for the Northern Wisconsin Center for the Developmentally Disabled is $199 per day and the amount for the Southern Wisconsin Center for the Developmentally Disabled is $149 per day. This bill changes the reimbursement reduction amounts for the Northern Wisconsin Center for the Developmentally Disabled and the Southern Wisconsin Center for the Developmentally Disabled to $174 per day.

Under current law, a county department of developmental disabilities services authorizes all care of a developmentally disabled patient in a state facility, including a state center for the developmentally disabled. Although the cost of care for the majority of patients in a state center for the developmentally disabled is paid for under MA, DHFS bills county departments of developmental disabilities services for persons who are ineligible for MA and who lack other means of full payment, for certain mentally ill persons who exhibit extremely aggressive and challenging behaviors, and, at 10% of the MA rate, for a person placed in a state center who is found under an independent professional review to be appropriate for community, rather than institutional, care.

Under this bill, beginning January 1, 1998, county departments of developmental disabilities services may be billed $184 per day for the care of a patient of a state center who is found under an independent professional review to be appropriate for community care. Also under the bill, beginning January 1, 1998, if a county department of developmental disabilities services authorizes admission to a state center for the developmentally disabled of a nonemergency new patient whose care in the community would cost less than $184 per day, the county department must reimburse the state center for the cost of that patient at the rate of $184 per day.

Under current law, DHFS is required to file a claim against the estate of a recipient of MA for the amount of MA paid on behalf of the recipient while the recipient resided in a nursing home or while the recipient was an inpatient in a medical institution and was required to contribute to the cost of care. DHFS must also file a claim against the estate of a recipient of MA for certain MA services paid on behalf of the recipient after the recipient attained the age of 55. Currently, DHFS may collect the amount from, among other property of the decedent, funds of the decedent that were held by the decedent immediately before death in a joint account or a payable-on-death (P.O.D.) account. DHFS may collect from certain solely owned property of the decedent by a transfer by affidavit process, rather than the formal probate process, if the value of the solely owned property does not exceed $10,000 and certain other conditions are met.

This bill authorizes DHFS to collect by affidavit signed by a DHFS representative funds of a decedent that were held by the decedent immediately before death in a joint account or a P.O.D. account, if all of the other conditions allowing DHFS to collect by affidavit are met. The bill also authorizes DHFS to establish a payment schedule, subject to reasonable interest, for heirs of an estate who wish to satisfy a recovery claim without selling a nonliquid asset.

Under current law, DHFS, DILJD, a county or an elected tribal governing body that provides certain public assistance benefits as a result of an injury, sickness or death that creates a claim or cause of action on the part of the public assistance recipient or beneficiary or the estate of the recipient or beneficiary against a 3rd party must be joined by the plaintiff as a party to the claim or action. This is known as subrogation and as a subrogated party, DHFS, DILJD, a county or an elected tribal governing body may maintain an action or intervene in an action by the recipient, beneficiary or estate against the 3rd party. Currently, a party that is joined based on subrogation may do one of the following:

1. Participate in the prosecution of the action.
2. Agree to have his or her interests represented by the party who caused the joinder.
3. Move for dismissal.

Current law also provides that a prevailing defendant is entitled to costs from the plaintiffs, including subrogated plaintiffs who neither participated in the prosecution of the action nor moved for dismissal.

This bill excludes DHFS and counties from liability for costs to prevailing defendants in actions in which DHFS or a county is subrogated because of the implication of MA payments if DHFS or the county does not participate in the prosecution of the action.

Under the bill, DHFS need not take any affirmative action in order to have its interests represented by the party causing the joinder. Regardless of whether DHFS participates in prosecuting the claim, if the plaintiff prevails, the portion of the proceeds of the claim that represents benefits paid under MA as a result of the occurrence of injury, sickness or death for which the claim arose must be paid to DHFS.

Under current law, an 18-year-old high school student who is ineligible for AFDC solely because of his or her age is eligible for aid to 18-year-old students if he or she meets certain conditions. The amount of aid paid to the person is equal to the amount of aid to which that person would have been entitled under AFDC if he or she were 17 years of age, except that if the person's family became ineligible for AFDC on the person's 18th birthday the amount paid equals the amount of aid granted to a single person under AFDC. This bill repeals the aid to 18-year-old students program.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, DILJD may contract with a county to administer a work experience and job training program for noncustodial parents who fail to pay child support or to meet their children's needs for support because of unemployment or underemployment. Currently, the program may include certain kinds of work experience and job training, job orientation and job search activities. This bill limits the permitted activities of the program to work experience and job search activities.

Under current law, DHFS determines, by use of a prospective payment formula that is updated each fiscal year, the rates of payment for nursing homes and certain C-BRFs that provide care to MA recipients. The current payment formula requires DHFS to consider, in determining payments for individual facilities, costs for allowable direct care, allowable support services, allowable fuel and utilities, net property tax or allowable municipal services, allowable administrative and general costs, allowable facility interest expenses and capital payment necessary for the provision of service over time. For allowable direct care costs, DHFS must establish standards for payment that are at least 110% of the median for direct care costs for facilities that do not primarily serve the developmentally disabled and, for facilities that primarily serve the developmentally disabled, standards for payment that are at least 110% of the median for direct care costs for those facilities.

This bill revises the payment formula to limit an increase in payment, including an increase resulting from adjustment of facility base rates and percentage increases over facility base rates, in fiscal year 1997-98 to no more than 6.1% over that paid in fiscal year 1996-97, or $50,975,000, whichever is less. The bill limits an increase in this payment in fiscal year 1998-99 to no more than 3.5% over that paid in fiscal year 1997-98, or $30,322,500, whichever is less, including an increase resulting from adjustment of a percentage increase over facility base rates. The bill also clarifies that this limited increase in payment is an aggregate increase for all nursing homes and C-BRFs that are payable under the formula. Lastly, the bill changes the standards for payment of allowable direct care costs; for facilities primarily serving the developmentally disabled, the standards for payment are not less than the median of direct care costs for a sample of all facilities in the state primarily serving the developmentally disabled. For facilities that do not primarily serve the developmentally disabled, the standards for payment are not less than the median of direct care costs for a sample of all of those facilities in the state.

Under current law, certain nursing homes receive MA payments that are supplemental to the payments established under the payment formula for all facilities. Under one supplemental payment program, DHFS must distribute not more than $20,000,000 in federal MA funds in each of fiscal years 1995-96 and 1996-97, plus any additional unanticipated federal MA funds that equal funds that a county certifies were expended to operate a county facility and that are matched by county funds. Under a 2nd supplemental payment program, DHFS must distribute not more than $18,600,000 in federal MA funds in each fiscal year to county, city, village or town nursing homes if the funds are matched by county, city, village or town funds, if the county certifies to DHFS the amount of all county funds expended in each calendar year to operate the facility and if certain other requirements are met.

This bill consolidates the 2 programs of supplemental payments to nursing homes and permits payment of county-matched funds of not more than $38,600,000 in each fiscal year.

Under current law, DILJD is directed to request a waiver from the secretary of the federal department of health and human services to enable the state, by July 1, 1997, to cease making payments under AFDC to a nonlegally responsible relative on behalf of a dependent child. Previously, AFDC payments to eligible nonlegally responsible relatives could not cease unless a waiver was in effect.

Currently, under the federal Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act, a waiver is not necessary in order to cease making such payments. This bill eliminates the requirement that DILJD request a waiver and that a waiver be granted and in effect in order to end such payments. Under the bill, a nonlegally responsible relative who is receiving AFDC payments on behalf of a dependent child on the day on which this bill becomes law may not receive AFDC payments after December 31, 1997, or the date of the first reinvestigation of the person occurring after the day on which this bill becomes law, whichever occurs first. A nonlegally responsible relative who is not receiving AFDC payments on the day on which this bill becomes law may not receive any AFDC payments on or after that date.

Current law requires a county department of human services or social services (county department) to pay $215 per month to a relative of a child who is providing care and maintenance for the child (kinship care) if certain conditions are met. This bill makes a relative ineligible for kinship care payments if the child for whom the relative is providing care and maintenance is already receiving federal SSI payments or state supplemental payments to the child's SSI payments.

Under current law, DHFS or an entity to which DHFS has delegated authority must annually review every resident of a nursing home or institution for mental diseases who has a developmental disability or mental illness to determine if the resident needs facility care or needs active treatment for the developmental disability or mental illness. If the review determines that the resident does not need facility care, no MA payment may be made for that resident's care and the resident must be relocated unless he or she is determined to need active treatment for a developmental disability or mental illness and he or she has continuously resided in a nursing home or institution for mental diseases for at least 30 months before the determination date. However, if the resident requires active treatment and has met the continuous residency requirement, he or she may receive MA-paid active treatment in the facility or in an alternative setting.

This bill eliminates the requirement for annual review of residents of a nursing home and institution for mental diseases who have a developmental disability or mental illness and, instead, requires review of those residents who have experienced a significant change in physical or mental condition.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Currently, certain MA recipients may receive case management services that are reimbursable under the MA program if the services are provided by a certified case management provider in a county, city, village or town that elects to make the services available and that reimburses the service provider for the amount of allowable charges that are not paid from federal MA moneys.

This bill expands the eligibility for case management services under the MA program, if provided by a certified provider in a county, city, village or town that elects to provide the services, to include women who are aged 45 to 64 and who are not residents of nursing homes or otherwise receiving case management services.

Currently, under a waiver of federal medicaid laws, state revenues and federal medicaid moneys provide home or community-based care for persons who are eligible for MA and who are diagnosed as developmentally disabled. These persons are either relocated into the community from certain institutions other than a state center for the developmentally disabled, or they receive care in intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded. The program providing this care is one of several "community integration" programs and is commonly known as "CIP 1B".

This bill requires a county that owns a facility from which an individual is relocated to the community under the "CIP 1B" program to submit to DHFS a plan for delicensing a bed of the facility that is approved by DHFS in order to receive funding for the individual's relocation under the "CIP 1B" program.

Under current law, a person whose application for MA is denied or is not acted upon promptly or who believes that the payments made in the person's behalf were not properly determined may file an appeal with DHFS pursuant to the appeal process set forth under the AFDC program. Currently, the AFDC appeal process is due to expire on the first day of the 6th month beginning after the date indicated by DILJD in the Wisconsin Administrative Register as the statewide implementation date for W-2. Federal law requires a similar appeal process under the MA program.

This bill creates an appeal process under the MA program.

Currently, DHFS is required to make eligibility determinations for MA, but may delegate this responsibility to a county department of social services. Under this bill, DHFS may also delegate responsibility of eligibility determinations to a county department of human services or to a W-2 agency.

Currently, a county or governing body of a federally recognized American Indian tribe may retain a portion of the amount that the state is authorized to retain for an overpayment made under the food stamp program that is recovered because of the efforts of an employe or officer of the county or tribe, unless the overpayment was made because of an error on the part of the county or tribe. DILJD is required to promulgate a rule establishing the portion of the amount of the recovered overpayment that the county or tribal governing body may retain.

This bill deletes the requirement that DILJD establish the portion by rule and instead authorizes a county or tribal governing body to retain 15% of the amount that the state is authorized to retain. The bill also authorizes a W-2 agency to retain 15% of the amount the state is authorized to retain for an overpayment made under the food stamp program that is recovered because of the efforts of an employe or officer of the W-2 agency.

Currently, a county or governing body of a federally recognized American Indian tribe may retain 15% of benefits distributed under the AFDC program (unless the benefits were provided as a result of state, county or tribal error) and under the MA program that are recovered because of the efforts of an employe or officer of the county or tribe.

This bill authorizes a W-2 agency to retain 15% of distributed AFDC benefits (unless the benefits were provided as a result of state, county or tribal error) and MA benefits that are recovered because of the efforts of an employe or officer of the W-2 agency.

The bill also authorizes a W-2 agency to retain 15% of an overpayment made under the W-2 program that is recovered because of the efforts of an employe or officer of the W-2 agency, unless the overpayment was made because of an error on the part of the W-2 agency.

Under current law, DILJD is required to implement a program of emergency assistance for families with needy children in cases of fire, flood, natural disaster, homelessness or energy crisis. Currently, emergency assistance in cases of homelessness, except homelessness created by a domestic abuse situation, may be provided to a needy person only once in a 36-month period. Current law does not specify how frequently emergency assistance may be provided in cases of fire, flood, natural disaster or energy crisis.

This bill specifies that emergency assistance in cases of fire, flood, natural disaster or energy crisis may be provided to a needy person only once in a 12-month period.

Under current law, each county department administering AFDC is required to maintain a monthly report, open for public inspection, showing the names of all persons receiving benefits under AFDC and the amounts received by those recipients during the preceding month. Each W-2 agency administering W-2 is required to maintain a monthly report, open for public inspection, showing the names and addresses of all persons receiving benefits under W-2 and the amounts received by those recipients during the preceding month. This bill eliminates the requirement that the report contain the addresses of W-2 recipients.

Currently, the address of an AFDC or W-2 recipient may be released to a law enforcement officer if the officer provides, in writing, the recipient's name and social security number and satisfactorily demonstrates, in writing: 1) that the recipient is a fugitive felon; 2) that the location or apprehension of the recipient is within the official duties of the officer; and 3) that the officer is making the request in the proper exercise of his or her duties.

Currently, federal law prohibits a state agency from preventing the release of the current address of a recipient of aid that is funded under a TANF grant or of a recipient of food stamps to a law enforcement officer if the officer furnishes the agency with the name of the recipient and notifies the agency that the recipient is a fugitive felon, is violating a condition of probation or parole or has information that is necessary for the officer to conduct his or her official duties.

This bill removes the requirement that the law enforcement officer provide the social security number of the recipient in order to receive information regarding the recipient's current address. The bill also permits the county department or W-2 agency to release the current address of a recipient to a law enforcement officer if the officer satisfactorily demonstrates, in writing, that the recipient has information that is necessary for the officer to conduct the official duties of the officer.

Under current law, DILJD is required to implement W-2 statewide no later than September 1997, if a waiver is in effect or legislation is enacted permitting the use of federal funds for the program and if DILJD determines that sufficient funds are available. Currently, under TANF, federal law permits the implementation of most of the components of W-2 without a waiver.

One component of W-2 is a health plan to be operated as part of MA. Under current law, beginning on the first day of the 6th month beginning after the statewide implementation of W-2, MA will not be available to those individuals who are eligible for the W-2 health plan. However, MA will continue to be available to eligible persons over the age of 65 and to eligible disabled persons. Federal law does not currently permit the implementation of the W-2 health plan as part of MA.

This bill directs DHFS to request a waiver from the secretary of the federal department of health and human services or to seek the enactment of federal legislation to permit the implementation of the W-2 health plan as part of MA. If a waiver is in effect or permissive federal legislation is enacted, DHFS must implement the W-2 health plan beginning no later than the first day of the 3rd month beginning after the waiver is granted or the federal legislation is enacted and must publish a notice in the Wisconsin Administrative Register indicating the date that it will implement the W-2 health plan. Under the bill, if a waiver is in effect or federal legislation is enacted, DHFS may terminate the MA eligibility of those persons who are eligible for the W-2 health plan beginning on the date published in the notice.

WISCONSIN WORKS

Under current law, no person may participate in W-2 for more than 60 months, unless a W-2 agency determines that unusual circumstances exist that warrant an extension of the participation period. In calculating the months of participation for an individual, a W-2 agency must include any months of participation in the job opportunities and basic skills (JOBS) program that occurred since July 1, 1996. Under the JOBS program, AFDC recipients who are not exempt are required to participate in certain job-related activities. Currently, under TANF, no state may use any part of a TANF grant to provide assistance to a family that includes an adult member who has received for 60 months any TANF-funded assistance in any state, although federal law permits a state to grant extensions for hardship or in cases in which an individual in the family has been battered or subjected to extreme cruelty. Federal law requires states to disregard any month during which an individual received TANF-funded assistance while living either on an American Indian reservation or in an Alaskan Native village if, during that month, at least 1,000 individuals were living on that reservation or in that village and at least 50% of the adults living on the reservation or in the village were unemployed.

Currently, under federal law, a state to which a TANF grant is made must achieve certain monthly work participation rates for single-parent and 2-parent families that receive TANF-funded assistance. In a 2-parent family, one parent must work at least 35 hours per week, not fewer than 30 of which must be attributable to certain federally prescribed work activities. If the family receives federally funded child care assistance, the other parent must work at least 20 hours per week in certain federally prescribed work activities, unless an adult in the family is disabled or caring for a severely disabled child.

This bill modifies the eligibility criteria for W-2 to preclude from eligibility a person who has received any TANF-funded assistance for a total of 60 months. In calculating the months of participation for an individual, a W-2 agency must include months of participation in JOBS that occurred since October 1, 1996, any month that the individual received emergency assistance if the assistance was funded from TANF grant money and any month during which any other adult member of the W-2 group participated in a W-2 employment position while the individual was a member of that W-2 group. If the individual joins a new W-2 group in which another adult member of the group has received TANF-funded assistance, the W-2 agency must attribute to that individual the greater of the following:

1. The number of months that the individual received any TANF-funded assistance.
2. The number of months that the other adult member of the new W-2 group received TANF-funded assistance.

The bill requires a W-2 agency to disregard any months that a person received TANF-funded assistance while living either on an American Indian reservation or in an Alaskan Native village if, during that month, at least 1,000 individuals were living on that reservation or in that village and at least 50% of the adults living on the reservation or in the village were unemployed.

The bill also requires that, if a participant in a W-2 employment position resides with the other parent of the participant's dependent child, and if the W-2 group receives federally funded child care assistance on behalf of the dependent child, the other parent must work at least 20 hours per week in certain federally prescribed work activities unless that parent is disabled or caring for a severely disabled child.

Under the bill, no additional grant or wage subsidy is paid for the other parent's work activities. The monthly grant of a participant in a community service job or transitional placement is reduced by $5.15 for every hour that an individual who is in the participant's W-2 group and who is subject to the work requirement fails to meet the work requirement in a month without good cause. Additionally, if the individual who is subject to the work requirement demonstrates 3 times a refusal to participate, the individual who is a participant in a W-2 employment position loses eligibility to continue to participate in the particular employment position component in which the participant had been participating. The participant may, however, be eligible for at least one of the other 2 employment position components.

The bill also provides that the custodial parent of an infant may receive a grant without being required to work only if no other adult member of the custodial parent's W-2 group is participating or eligible to participate in a W-2 employment position or working in an unsubsidized job.

Also, under the bill, a W-2 agency may require, as a condition of continued eligibility for a community service job or transitional job, that a person submit to a test for drug use if that person has been convicted, after August 22, 1996, of a felony that has as an element possession, use or distribution of a controlled substance. If the test results are positive, the W-2 agency must reduce the participant's grant amount by not more than 15%. The reduction lasts for at least 12 months, or for the remainder of the participant's participation period in a community service job or transitional placement, if less than 12 months. The full benefit amount must be restored for a person who continues to be a participant in a community service job or transitional placement after 12 months if the participant submits to a drug test at that time and the test results are negative.

Under current law, an individual is eligible for a child care subsidy under W-2 if the individual meets certain nonfinancial and resource eligibility requirements and if the gross income of the individual's family is at or below 165% of the federal poverty line for a family the size of the individual's family.

This bill permits an individual who is already receiving a child care subsidy under W-2 to remain eligible for the subsidy if the gross income of the individual's family is at or below 200% of the federal poverty line for a family the size of the individual's family and the individual continues to meet the other eligibility requirements.

Under current law, recipients of AFDC are required to assign to the state any rights they have to support or maintenance while receiving AFDC. Under W-2, participants are not generally required to assign rights to support or maintenance.

Currently, under TANF, states must require applicants and participants in TANF-funded assistance programs to assign to the state any rights to support and maintenance while participating in the TANF-funded program. This bill modifies the W-2 eligibility requirements to provide that an individual is eligible for W-2 benefits only if he or she assigns his or her rights to any support or maintenance to the state for the period of time that he or she receives W-2 benefits.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, an individual whose application for a W-2 employment position is not acted upon with reasonable promptness after filing the application, or is denied in whole or in part, whose benefit is modified or canceled, or who believes that the benefit was calculated incorrectly, may petition the W-2 agency for a review of that action. The W-2 agency must give the individual reasonable notice and an opportunity for a review. The individual may petition DILJD for a review of the W-2 agency's decision within 15 days after the decision or the W-2 agency may request DILJD to review the W-2 agency's decision. Currently, state law does not specify a remedy for a successful petitioner.

This bill permits an individual whose application for any component of W-2 has been denied in whole or in part, whose benefit is modified or canceled, or who believes that the benefit was calculated incorrectly, to petition the W-2 agency for a review of that action. The individual may seek a review by DILJD of the W-2 agency's decision.

The bill provides that, following a review, if a W-2 agency or DILJD determines that an individual's application for a W-2 employment position was denied because of an erroneous determination of ineligibility or that an individual was placed in an inappropriate W-2 employment position, the W-2 agency must place that individual in the first appropriate W-2 employment position available. Benefits under that position are available to the individual beginning on the date on which the individual begins participation in that position. The bill further provides that, following a review, if the W-2 agency or DILJD determines that the individual's benefit was improperly modified or canceled or was calculated incorrectly, the W-2 agency must retroactively restore the benefit to the proper level.

The bill also provides a review process under the emergency assistance for families with needy children program. Under that process, an individual whose application for emergency assistance is not acted upon by DILJD or the W-2 agency with reasonable promptness after the filing of the application or is denied in whole or in part, or who believes that the assistance amount was calculated incorrectly, may petition DILJD or the W-2 agency for a review of that action.

Currently, a W-2 participant in a community service job receives a monthly grant of $555, reduced by $4.25 for each hour of work or education or training activity missed without good cause. A participant in a transitional placement (a placement for an individual unable to participate in a trial or community service job) receives a monthly grant of $518, reduced by $4.25 for each hour of work or education or training activity missed without good cause. The grant is paid by the W-2 agency. The grant to a custodial parent of an infant that is 12 weeks old or younger is not subject to reduction.

Under this bill, the grant amount for community service jobs and for an eligible custodial parent of a 12-week old or younger infant is increased to $673 per month and the grant amount for a transitional placement is increased to $628 per month. These amounts are reduced by $5.15 for every hour that the participant fails to participate in any activity required for the participant's placement.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

The bill also provides that DILJD may make the benefit payments for a community service job and transitional placement and payments to a custodial parent of an infant by an electronic funds transfer system.

Under current law, a person may be licensed by DHFS or certified by a county department as a family day care provider. Certification by a county department must be done in accordance with rules promulgated by DHFS. Under 1995 Wisconsin Act 404, the duties of DHFS primarily related to the administration of child care programs were transferred to DILJD. This bill requires that DILJD, rather than DHFS, promulgate the rules related to certification of family day care providers.

Currently, DILJD administers an at-risk and low-income child care program, under which low-income families and families who are at risk of receiving AFDC receive child care subsidies. The program expires 6 months after the date that DILJD publishes in the Wisconsin Administrative Register as the statewide implementation date of W-2. This bill eliminates the program on October 1, 1997.

The bill also modifies provisions of the W-2 child care program to allow for the distribution of funds to county departments that provide W-2 child care services and to private agencies that provide W-2 child care for children of migrant workers. Counties may not use more than the greater of $20,000 or 5% of those funds for administrative purposes. Under the bill, counties may determine the method by which they will provide or pay for W-2 child care. No payment may be made from the funds distributed by DILJD for child care provided to a child with whom the child care provider resides.

Under current law, a custodial parent of a child who is under the age of 13, or a person who, under the kinship care program, provides care and maintenance to a child who is under the age of 13, may receive a child care subsidy if he or she meets certain eligibility criteria.

This bill extends eligibility for a child care subsidy to a minor parent who is not subject to the school attendance requirement but who needs child care in order to obtain a high school diploma or participate in a course of study meeting the standards established by the state superintendent of public instruction. The bill also extends eligibility for a child care subsidy to a person who needs child care in order to participate in any required job orientation or job search under the W-2 work program.

Finally, under current law, DILJD is required to set the reimbursement rate for licensed and certified child care providers. DILJD may also establish a system of rates for child care programs that exceed the quality of care standards required for licensure or for certification. Under this bill, counties are required to set the rates, subject to the approval of DILJD. DILJD is required to promulgate rules to establish quality of care standards for child care providers that are higher than the quality of care standards required for licensure or for certification and may promulgate rules to establish a system of rates or a program of grants for those child care providers.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, DILJD is required to make a monthly payment for child care for a dependent child of an individual who is subject to the school attendance requirement under the learnfare program or for a child of a person who is under 20 years of age who wants to attend school. (Under the learnfare program, an individual who is a dependent child in a W-2 group that includes a participant in a W-2 employment position or who receives AFDC is required, with certain exceptions, to attend school if the individual is 13 to 19 years of age or, beginning on the first day of the fall 1997 school year, is 16 to 19 years of age.)

This bill limits the school attendance requirements under the learnfare program to individuals who are 6 to 17 years of age. The bill also eliminates the requirement that DILJD make a payment for child care for a person under the age of 20 who wants to attend school.

Under current law, DILJD is required to make a periodic check of the earned income of a recipient of AFDC by checking the amounts credited to the recipient's social security number. This bill requires DILJD to make a periodic check of the amounts earned by participants under W-2.

This bill requires DILJD to include investigation of suspected fraudulent activity on the part of participants in W-2 as part of its program to investigate fraudulent activity under certain public assistance programs. The bill also requires DILJD to recover overpayments for low-income, at-risk and W-2 child care. Under the bill, a county, tribal governing body or W-2 agency may retain 15% of the child care benefits that are recovered due to the efforts of an employe or officer of the county, tribe or W-2 agency. The county, tribe or W-2 agency may not retain any amount from recovered benefits that had been provided because of state, county, tribal governing body or W-2 agency error.

Under current law, the W-2 health plan does not cover over-the-counter drugs, except insulin. This bill provides that the W-2 health plan may cover an over-the-counter drug if DHFS determines that the over-the-counter drug is more cost-effective than the prescription equivalent.

SUPPORT, PATERNITY AND OTHER FAMILY MATTERS

Under current law, many state agencies and boards issue licenses, permits or other credentials for professional or occupational purposes. In addition, the department of natural resources (DNR) issues fish and game licenses for recreational purposes. This bill requires an applicant for the issuance or renewal of a professional or occupational license, if the applicant is an individual, to provide his or her social security number. The issuing agency or board must refuse to issue or renew the license if an applicant does not provide a social security number. For recreational fish and game licenses issued by DNR, DNR must require an applicant who is an individual to provide his or her driver's license number and must refuse to issue or renew the fish and game license if the applicant does not do so, subject to conditions which must be specified in a memorandum of understanding between

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

DNR and DILJD (see below). An agency or board that obtains an individual's social security number from a license application may release the social security number only to DILJD for purposes of DILJD's administration of the child and spousal support and establishment of paternity and medical support liability program under current law.

Under current law, if an individual who has been ordered by a court to pay child or family support or spousal support (maintenance) fails to pay the amount ordered, the court may enforce the judgment or order by any appropriate remedy, including contempt of court, garnishment of the individual's wages and suspension of the individual's operating privilege. Also under current law, if an individual fails to make any court-ordered payments of child or family support, maintenance or other support-related payments, DILJD may certify the delinquency to the department of revenue (DOR) and DOR may withhold the delinquent amount from any income tax that would be refunded to the individual.

This bill requires DILJD to establish a system under which operating privileges and state occupational, professional and recreational licenses, permits or other credentials (licenses) are withheld, nonrenewed, restricted or suspended by the state agency or other entity that issues the operating privilege or license for failure to pay court-ordered payments of child or family support, maintenance or other support-related payments. The bill requires DILJD and each issuing agency or other entity to enter into a memorandum of understanding related to the requirements for withholding, nonrenewing, restricting or suspending operating privileges or licenses, the procedures to be used and safeguards for keeping information about individuals, including social security numbers, confidential. The procedures must include adequate notice to the individual who owes the delinquent payments, an opportunity to pay the delinquent amount or make alternative payment arrangements before any action is taken with respect to the individual's operating privilege or license, an opportunity for a hearing before a court or family court commissioner on the issue of whether the individual owes the amount of court-ordered payments that is, or will be, certified by DILJD and reinstatement of the individual's operating privilege or license upon payment of the delinquent amount or making satisfactory alternative payment arrangements.

Under current law, a petition in an action affecting the family, such as a divorce or child support action, must include the social security numbers of the parties. This bill requires that all written judgments in actions affecting the family include the social security numbers of the parties and of any child of the parties.

Under current law, each clerk of circuit court must forward to the state registrar on a biweekly basis a report of every divorce or annulment that was granted in the clerk's court during that period. The clerk is also required to submit to the state registrar a report of paternity determination within 30 days after entry of a paternity judgment. The report must include the name and date and place of birth of the adjudicated father. This bill requires the divorce and annulment report to include the social security numbers of the parties to the divorce or annulment and of any child of the parties and requires the paternity report to include the social security numbers of the adjudicated father, the mother and the child. The bill also requires that the social security numbers of persons signing a statement acknowledging paternity (the mother of the child and the man acknowledging paternity) be included on the statement form.

Under current law, an application for a marriage license and a marriage document (which consists of the marriage license, the marriage certificate and confidential information collected for statistical purposes) must contain any information that DHFS directs. This bill requires that the social security numbers of the parties be included on the application and on the marriage document.

Under current law, generally only after a man has been adjudicated to be the father of a nonmarital child in a paternity action may any orders related to the child, such as orders for the payment of child support or for custody or physical placement rights, be made with respect to the man. However, if the man has signed and filed with the state registrar a statement acknowledging paternity, a judge or family court commissioner may order the man to pay child support in any action affecting the family, such as an action for support. The action need not be a paternity action. Within one year after signing a statement acknowledging paternity or one year after attaining age 18, whichever is later, a person who signed the statement, which may be either the man or the mother of the child, may request that the judge or family court commissioner order genetic tests. If the results of the genetic tests exclude the man as the father of the child, the court must dismiss any action for support, or vacate any order for support, with respect to the man.

Under this bill, a statement acknowledging paternity that is signed and filed with the state registrar on or after January 1, 1998, may be rescinded by either party who signed the statement by filing a document prescribed by the state registrar for that purpose before the earlier of the day on which a court makes an order in an action affecting the family with respect to the man and child or 60 days after the statement was filed. If either party who signed the statement was a minor when the statement was filed, either party may rescind the statement before the earlier of the day on which a court makes an order in an action affecting the family with respect to the man and child or 60 days after the person who was a minor when the statement was filed attains age 18. If the statement is not timely rescinded, the filed statement becomes a conclusive determination of paternity with the same effect as a judgment of paternity. A determination of paternity on the basis of a filed statement may be voided by a court only upon a showing of fraud, duress or mistake of fact.

The bill provides that an action affecting the family that seeks to establish a support obligation for, or custody, physical placement or visitation rights to, a child may be brought with respect to parties who signed and filed a statement acknowledging paternity with regard to the child. If the statement has not been rescinded and the parties had notice of the hearing in the matter, the court or family court commissioner may make the same orders that may be made in paternity actions, including orders concerning child support, legal custody, physical placement and the child's health care expenses.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Current law provides that in a paternity action, the mother of the child is to have sole legal custody unless the court orders otherwise. This bill provides that, in both paternity actions and actions based on a statement acknowledging paternity, the mother of the child is to have sole legal custody if the father does not request legal custody. If the father requests legal custody, the court or family court commissioner must use the same factors in determining legal custody that are used in divorce actions.

A party that signed and filed a statement before January 1, 1998, may sign and file a new one on or after that date. In that case, the previous statement is superseded, and the new statement becomes a conclusive determination of paternity upon the expiration of the time during which the new statement may be rescinded.

This bill provides that, if a person fails to pay any amount of court-ordered child support, family support, maintenance or medical or birth expenses, the amount is a lien in favor of DILJD upon all property of the person. The lien is effective at the time that the support is due. At least annually, DILJD must provide a statewide listing of delinquent support obligations to each clerk of circuit court and to each state agency that titles personal property. If a delinquent obligation is included in a listing provided by DILJD, DILJD must provide notice to the obligor that a lien on the obligor's property is in effect and that the obligor may, within a 20-day period, request a court hearing on the issue.

The bill grants DILJD general power to levy against (seek to recover) property of the obligor to enforce the lien. The procedures for levying against the obligor's property vary depending upon whether the property is an account at a financial institution, other personal property or real property:

1. Financial accounts. The bill creates a financial records matching program to identify accounts of delinquent obligors (see COMMERCE AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT, COMMERCE). To enforce a lien against an account at a financial institution, DILJD must send notice to the institution instructing the institution to "freeze" the obligor's accounts at the institution in an amount equal to the amount of the delinquency, plus estimated levy fees and costs and financial institution fees. DILJD must also send a notice to the obligor, stating the amount of owed support and that one or more of the obligor's accounts at the financial institution named in the notice have been frozen, and that, unless the obligor requests a hearing within 20 business days, DILJD will direct the financial institution to pay the support owed from the accounts. If no hearing is requested or if it is determined, after hearing, that the support is owed, DILJD may direct the financial institution to pay the amounts owed from the obligor's accounts.

2. Other personal property. DILJD may levy against other personal property by seizing the property. DILJD must immediately notify the obligor, and any person known to have a lien on the property, that the property has been seized. The notice must inform the obligor that he or she may, within 20 business days, request a hearing on whether the support was owed and whether the property was wrongfully seized. The hearing is with the court or family court commissioner issuing the order to pay the support. If a hearing is not requested or if the issue is not decided in favor of the person whose property was seized, DILJD must send a notice to the obligor of the time and place where the property will be sold. The property may be redeemed prior to the sale by paying the amount owed.

3. Real property. To levy against real property, DILJD must provide the obligor, and any persons known to have liens on the property, with a notice of intent to levy. The notice must include information on requesting a hearing concerning whether the support is owed. The hearing is with the court or family court commissioner issuing the order to pay support. Unless the support is paid or unless it is determined, after hearing, that the support is not owed, DILJD may send a final notice of seizure, stating the date on which the obligor must have vacated the premises and stating the date of sale. DILJD must allow at least 60 days for the obligor to vacate the property and 90 days before the sale. Notice of the sale must be published at least 30 days before the sale and the obligor is entitled to redeem the property prior to the date of sale by paying the full amount owed, together with any levy fees and costs.

The bill requires 3rd parties possessing property or rights to property subject to a levy to surrender them to DILJD. If a person fails to surrender the property or rights, the person is liable to DILJD for up to 25% of the support owed. A 3rd party is entitled to a levy fee of $5 for each levy in any case where property is secured through the levy and DILJD is authorized to recover its costs of levy. These costs may be deducted from the proceeds of the levy after first paying any liens on the property prior to the delinquent support lien and then paying the amount of the delinquent support.

Under current law, all payments of child or family support and maintenance (spousal support) must be made through the clerk of circuit court or a support collection designee in counties that have designated an entity other than the clerk to collect and disburse support and maintenance. Such payments are made by employers of obligors through income withholding or by the obligors themselves if income withholding is inappropriate, such as for a self-employed obligor. The clerk, or support collection designee, disburses the payments received from the employers and the obligors to the obligees of the support or maintenance and keeps a record of the payments and arrearages in payments. Obligor are required to pay an annual receiving and disbursing fee of up to $25 to the clerk, or support collection designee, for these services.

Under this bill, DILJD, or an entity that DILJD designates to act for it, receives and disburses child and family support payments, maintenance payments, payments for health care expenses, payments for birth expenses and other support-related expenses under a statewide automated receipt and disbursement system that must begin operating no later than October 1, 1999. The payments are received through income withholding, if appropriate, as under current law. Although clerks of circuit court continue to file and maintain the orders and judgments that require the payments, the electronic record of payments and disbursements and arrearages in payments is kept by DILJD or its designee. Obligor are required to pay an annual fee of $25 to DILJD or its designee, instead of to the clerk, for receiving and disbursing the payments and for maintaining the electronic payment and disbursement record.

The bill creates a segregated fund, called the support collections trust fund. All support-related moneys received by DILJD or its designee are deposited in the fund. Moneys from the fund are to be used for disbursements to obligees of child or family support payments, maintenance payments, payments for health care expenses, payments for birth expenses and other support-related expenses. Interest earned on the fund is to be used for the costs associated with the receipt and disbursement system, including contract costs paid to the designee, if any.

Currently, DILJD administers a child and spousal support and establishment of paternity and medical liability support program. The main purposes of the program are to establish, modify and enforce support obligations and to establish paternity for the purpose of establishing a support obligation. County child support agencies administer the program at the local level. This bill provides that DILJD and county child support agencies may issue subpoenas in the administration of the program to compel the production of financial information and other documentary evidence. A person who provides access to records or who discloses information as requested is not liable to any person for providing the access or disclosing the information. A person who does not comply with a request for information or access to records, however, may be required to pay a forfeiture (civil monetary penalty) to be determined by DILJD by rule.

Under current law, all persons (including state agencies) are required to provide to DILJD all information requested by DILJD if DILJD determines that the information is appropriate and necessary for the administration of the child and spousal support and establishment of paternity and medical liability program and certain other state and federal public assistance and medical programs. This law conflicts with certain other laws that authorize or require state agencies to maintain the confidentiality of certain information contained in records of the agencies.

This bill reconciles those conflicts by giving precedence to DILJD's right of access to certain records and information notwithstanding existing confidentiality provisions. Among the records and information affected by the bill are information from income tax and sales tax returns, information contained in marriage license applications, certain records under the unemployment compensation and worker's compensation programs, certain records of applicants for public positions, certain information collected by the department of public instruction (DPI) for issuing, renewing or revoking all of its licenses, records of background checks of prospective handgun purchasers, certain records concerning crime victims, and information provided by persons to the state public defender (SPD) that is used to determine whether the person qualifies for representation due to indigency.

Under current law, a judge or family court commissioner may order the parties to a paternity action to undergo genetic tests for the purpose of determining paternity. If a party in a paternity action requests genetic tests, the judge or family court commissioner must order them. This bill authorizes a county child support agency to require a child, the child's mother and a male who is alleged, or who alleges himself, to be the father of the child to submit to genetic tests if there is probable cause to believe that the child's mother and the male had sexual intercourse during a possible time of the child's conception. A sufficient affidavit from either the mother or the alleged father may establish the necessary probable cause. The results of a genetic test ordered by a county child support agency may be used in a paternity action.

Under current law, a man is presumed to be the natural father of a child if he was married to the child's mother when the child was conceived or born or if he and the child's mother married after the child's birth but had a relationship during the period of time within which the child was conceived. In a paternity action, if genetic tests show that a man alleged to be the father is not excluded as the father and that the probability that he is the father is 99.0% or more, that man is presumed to be the father. This bill provides that a presumption of paternity that arises on the basis of marriage is rebutted in a legal action or proceeding by results of a genetic test that show that a man other than the one presumed to be the father on the basis of marriage is not excluded as the father and that the statistical probability that the man is the father is 99.0% or higher, even if the man who is presumed to be the father on the basis of marriage is unavailable to submit to genetic tests.

Under current law, an order for child or family support or maintenance is an automatic assignment of wages or other earnings to the clerk of circuit court. When a support or maintenance order is entered, the court must send notice of the assignment by regular mail to a payer's employer or other person who owes the payer money, requiring withholding of the amount provided in the support order. The support and withholding orders may be expressed as a fixed sum, as a percentage of income or as both in the alternative, requiring payment of the greater or lesser amount. If the payer is entitled to unemployment compensation, however, the order to withhold benefits must be for a fixed sum.

This bill authorizes the court to send notice of assignment by facsimile machine or other electronic means in addition to regular mail. Orders for the withholding of unemployment compensation may be expressed as a fixed sum, as a percentage of benefits payable or as both in the alternative, requiring payment of the greater or lesser amount. Notices of assignment for withholding must include the information that the maximum amount withheld may not exceed the maximum amount that is subject to garnishment under federal law.

Under current law, if the petitioner in a paternity action fails to appear at a pretrial hearing or at the trial, the court may dismiss the action. If the respondent in a paternity action is the alleged father and he fails to appear for a court-ordered genetic test or a hearing at which an appearance is required, the court must adjudicate the respondent to be the father. This bill provides that, if the mother of the child in a paternity action fails to appear for a court-ordered genetic test or a hearing at which an appearance is required, the court may adjudicate the alleged father, or the man who alleges that he is the father, to be the father of the child if there is sufficient evidence for such a finding.

Under current law, if a child's birth occurs in or en route to a hospital and if the child's parents are unmarried, the hospital administrator or his or her designee must provide the child's mother with a voluntary paternity acknowledgment form and with a pamphlet that has information about birth certificates, including how to add to a birth certificate the name of the father of a child whose parents were not married. The hospital must submit any completed forms to the state registrar. The fee for making an alteration in a birth certificate is $10. Upon receipt of the voluntary acknowledgement form and the fee, the state registrar must insert the name of the father on the birth certificate.

This bill requires that trained, designated hospital staff provide to the child's available unmarried parents written and oral information about the voluntary paternity acknowledgment form and about the significance and benefits of establishing paternity, before the parents sign the form. The bill provides immunity from civil liability for trained, designated hospital staff who provide this information in good faith. The staff must also provide an opportunity to complete the form and to have the form notarized in the hospital. DILJD must provide to hospitals the written information required to be provided to parents and must provide training to hospital staff concerning the voluntary acknowledgment form and the significance and benefits of establishing paternity. DILJD must pay the hospital, from federal funds, a financial incentive for each form that is correctly filed within 60 days after the birth and the $10 fee for altering a birth certificate.

This bill requires DILJD to establish and operate a hiring reporting system that includes a state directory of new hires. With the exception of employers that employ individuals in Wisconsin as well as in at least one other state (those employers must designate for reporting just one of the states in which they employ individuals), all employers in this state must supply information to DILJD about newly hired employees. DILJD must specify the exact information that must be provided, how the information may be provided and a timetable for providing the information.

CHILDREN

Under current law, the Milwaukee County department of social services (Milwaukee County department) is responsible for providing child welfare services in Milwaukee County. Those services include receiving and investigating child abuse or neglect reports, referring children to the court assigned to exercise jurisdiction under the children's code (juvenile court), providing court reports and permanency plans to the juvenile court, providing appropriate protection or services for children and their families, licensing foster homes, placing children for adoption and providing kinship care payments. Current law requires the Milwaukee County board of supervisors to operate a children's court center which is responsible for providing intake and dispositional services for the juvenile court and for executing judicial policy governing intake and juvenile court services.

This bill transfers the responsibility for providing child welfare services in Milwaukee County, not including juvenile delinquency-related services, from the Milwaukee County department to DHFS beginning on January 1, 1998. The bill also transfers on that date the responsibility for providing intake and dispositional services for children in need of protection or services and for executing judicial policy governing intake and juvenile court services for those children from the children's court center to DHFS. Under the bill, Milwaukee County must contribute to the cost of providing child welfare services in that county an amount equal to the amount that the county budgeted for those services in 1995.

Under current law, DHFS must establish community advisory committees for each of the 5 neighborhood-based child welfare service delivery sites planned for Milwaukee County. Each committee must provide a forum for communication for those persons who are interested in the delivery of child welfare services in the neighborhood to be served by the services delivery site and must make recommendations to DHFS with respect to the delivery of those services in that neighborhood. This bill eliminates those community advisory committees and transfers the duties of those committees to the W-2 community steering committees established by the W-2 agencies serving Milwaukee County.

Under current law, a county may establish a secure detention facility or a shelter care facility, or both, for holding juveniles in custody. This bill permits a county to establish a child caring institution, that is, a facility that provides care and maintenance for 75 days in any consecutive 12-month period for 4 or more children at any one time. Currently, no person may operate a child caring institution unless that person obtains a license from DHFS to operate a child welfare agency. Public agencies, however, are excluded from that licensing requirement. This bill requires a county that establishes a child caring institution to obtain a license to operate a child welfare agency.

Currently, the adolescent pregnancy prevention and pregnancy services board that is attached to DHFS must award grants to organizations to provide adolescent pregnancy prevention programs or pregnancy services that include health care, education, counseling and vocational training. Currently, DHFS may award grants for the provision of services in counties, or to an American Indian tribe or band, for adolescent parents, emphasizing high school graduation and vocational preparation, training and experience; these grants are known as "adolescent self-sufficiency services" grants. DHFS is also authorized to provide grants for pregnancy and parenthood prevention services to high-risk adolescents; these grants are known as "adolescent pregnancy prevention services" grants. Lastly, DHFS must make grants to provide information to communities in order to increase community knowledge about adolescents' problems and information to and activities for adolescents; these grants are known as "adolescent choices project grants".

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

This bill transfers to the adolescent pregnancy prevention and pregnancy services board the responsibility for awarding adolescent self-sufficiency services grants, adolescent pregnancy prevention services grants and adolescent choices project grants.

Under current law, DHFS licenses child welfare agencies, group homes, day care centers and shelter care facilities. Currently, those licenses are valid for 2 years from the date of issuance and may be renewed upon their expiration. This bill provides that those licenses are valid unless suspended or revoked. Under the bill, DHFS must review each license every 2 years and must "continue" a license for an additional 2-year period if the minimum requirements for licensure are met, the applicable license fee is paid, any outstanding forfeitures (civil monetary penalties) or other penalties are paid and, for a day care center, the criminal background investigation fee is paid.

Under current law, DHFS may impose sanctions, including daily forfeitures, on a child welfare agency, group home, day care center or shelter care facility licensee who commits a violation relating to the child welfare agency, group home, day care center or shelter care facility. Currently, a licensee who commits a violation must pay all forfeitures within 10 days after receipt of the notice of assessment, or, if the forfeiture is contested, within 10 days after receipt of a final administrative decision ordering payment, unless the decision is appealed and the decision is stayed by a court order. This bill permits a licensee who owes a forfeiture to DHFS to make an arrangement acceptable to DHFS for the payment of the forfeiture. The bill also requires DHFS to revoke a license if, on the date that the licensing fee is due, the licensee has any forfeitures that are due and have not been paid. Current law does not specifically authorize revocation under such circumstances.

Under current law, a child welfare agency that provides care and maintenance for children must pay a biennial license fee of $100, plus $15 per child, based on licensed capacity. This bill raises that fee to $110, plus $16.50 per child, based on licensed capacity, beginning on the day on which the bill becomes law, and to $121, plus $18.15 per child, based on licensed capacity, beginning on July 1, 1998.

Under current law, a child welfare agency that places children in foster homes or group homes must pay a biennial license fee of $210. This bill raises that fee to $231, beginning on the day on which the bill becomes law, and to $254.10, beginning on July 1, 1998.

Under current law, a group home must pay a biennial license fee of $100, plus $15 per child, based on licensed capacity. This bill raises that fee to $110, plus $16.50 per child, based on licensed capacity, beginning on the day on which the bill becomes law, and to $121, plus $18.15 per child, based on licensed capacity, beginning on July 1, 1998.

Under current law, a day care center that provides care and supervision for 4 to 8 children must pay a biennial license fee of $50. This bill raises that fee to $55, beginning on the day on which the bill becomes law, and to $60.50, beginning on July 1, 1998.

Under current law, a day care center that provides care and supervision for 9 or more children must pay a biennial license fee of $25, plus $7 per child, based on licensed capacity. This bill raises that fee to $27.50, plus $7.70 per child, based on licensed capacity, beginning on the day on which the bill becomes law, and to $30.25, plus $8.47 per child, based on licensed capacity, beginning on July 1, 1998.

Under current law, a shelter care facility must pay a biennial license fee of $50, plus $15 per juvenile, based on licensed capacity. This bill raises that fee to $55, plus $16.50 per juvenile, based on licensed capacity, beginning on the day on which the bill becomes law, and to $60.50, plus $18.15 per juvenile, based on licensed capacity, beginning on July 1, 1998.

Under current law, the state receives federal foster care and adoption assistance funding under Title IV-E of the federal social security act (generally referred to as "IV-E funds") in reimbursement of moneys expended by the state or the counties for activities relating to foster care and adoption of children. Currently, IV-E funds are credited to the community aids appropriation account of DHFS and distributed to counties to provide social services to children and families. Currently, subject to certain exceptions, community aids moneys, including IV-E funds, that are not spent or encumbered by December 31 of each year lapse to the general fund. One of those exceptions permits DHFS to carry forward to the next year up to 3% of the community aids funds allocated to a county in the current year.

This bill permits DHFS to distribute IV-E funds not only for services and projects to assist children and families, but also for the operational requirements of DHFS in administering programs to assist children and families. The bill also provides that if, on December 31 of any year, there remains unspent or unencumbered in the community aids allocation an amount that exceeds the amount of IV-E funds allocated as community aids in that year ("excess moneys"), DHFS must carry forward to the next year the excess moneys and distribute not less than 50% of the excess moneys to counties having a population of less than 500,000 for services and projects to assist children and families. Under the bill, a county must use not less than 50% of any excess moneys received by that county for services for children who are at risk of abuse or neglect to prevent the need for child abuse and neglect intervention services. A county may not use those excess moneys to supplant any other moneys expended by the county for services and projects to assist children and families in a base year determined by DHFS. Any excess moneys carried forward by DHFS, but not distributed to counties, may be used for the operational requirements of DHFS in administering programs for children and families.

Under current law, DHFS may establish a system of outpatient clinic services in any mental health institute operated by DHFS. Currently, subject to certain exceptions, DHFS may provide those outpatient services only to a patient contracted for with a county department of community programs or developmental disabilities services. This bill permits DHFS to provide outpatient services at the Winnebago

Mental Health Institute to a patient who is a pupil enrolled in a school district that contracts with DHFS for the provision of those services.

MENTAL ILLNESS AND DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES

Under current law, persons who receive treatment for mental illness, developmental disabilities, alcoholism or drug dependency have the right to refuse medication or treatment, except that this right does not apply to any of the following:

1. Certain persons who are detained or committed on the basis of mental illness and certain incapability, lack of services and probability of suffering severe harm (commonly known as the "5th standard" for mental health detention or commitment).

2. Persons who a court has determined are incompetent to refuse medication or treatment, either at or after the hearing to determine probable cause for commitment or after a final commitment order.

3. Committed persons in a situation in which the medication or treatment is necessary to prevent serious physical harm to the persons or others.

4. Persons who are found by a court to be both incompetent and incompetent to refuse psychotropic medication and for whom guardians of the person have been appointed to consent to or refuse psychotropic medication, including forcible administration of psychotropic medication, on behalf of the persons.

5. Persons ordered by a court to take medication in order to maintain their competence to proceed at trial.

This bill substantially modifies the right of patients receiving services for mental illness, developmental disabilities, alcoholism or drug dependency to refuse medication or treatment. First, for a patient who has been found by a court to be incompetent to refuse medication or treatment, the bill establishes, as a standard, that the medication or treatment may be involuntarily administered if the facility staff who are primarily responsible for developing the patient's treatment plan determine that the medication or treatment is appropriate for the purpose of ameliorating the patient's condition and represents the exercise of treatment techniques and procedures that are reasonable and appropriate to the patient and that there would be a current risk of harm to the patient or others if not administered. Second, for a patient who has not been found by a court to be incompetent to refuse medication or treatment, the bill establishes the right to request review of the offered medication or treatment. The review must be conducted by a 3-member panel of treatment professionals. If the review panel determines that the offered medication or treatment is appropriate for the purpose of ameliorating the patient's condition and represents the exercise of treatment techniques and procedures that are reasonable and appropriate to the patient, or if the patient did not timely request panel review, the patient's treatment facility or treatment program may, for certain patients, terminate the contractual agreement with the county department of community programs or developmental disabilities services and return the patient to the care and custody of the county department, request reexamination of the patient or discharge the patient. For all mental health patients, the treatment facility may transfer the patient to a nontreatment unit or facility until the patient is released or discharged or consents to the medication or treatment that is offered under a treatment plan. Patients who are transferred to a nontreatment unit or facility may be locked in their rooms for certain periods of time and may be subjected to unit-wide or facility-wide isolation under certain circumstances. These patients are not entitled to conditions or facilities that are identical or substantially similar to those in which patients who consent to treatment are housed. The rights under transfers concerning a form of treatment that is least restrictive of the patient's personal liberty do not apply to these patients. The bill also authorizes a person operating a mental health institute or other inpatient facility to establish and operate nontreatment units or facilities. Lastly, for all patients, the treatment facility or treatment program may file a motion to request the court to enter an order requiring administration to the patient of treatment (not including the administration of psychotropic medication).

Under current state law, treatment records of an individual who is receiving or has received services for mental illness, developmental disability, alcoholism or drug dependence that are maintained by DHFS, by county departments of community programs or developmental disabilities services or by treatment facilities are confidential. Patient health care records that are prepared by or under the supervision of a health care provider also are confidential. With certain exceptions, the treatment records or patient health care records may be released only with the informed written consent of the individual. One of the exceptions applies to staff members of the protection and advocacy agency or to staff members of a private nonprofit corporation with which the protection and advocacy agency has contracted. (A protection and advocacy agency is an entity designated by the governor to implement a system to protect and advocate the rights of persons with developmental disabilities or mental illness, as authorized by federal law.) Currently, however, if the individual for whom treatment records are sought has had a guardian appointed for him or her on grounds of incompetence or is a minor with developmental disability who has a parent or a guardian but not a guardian who was appointed for him or her on grounds of incompetence, information about that individual that the protection and advocacy agency, or the nonprofit corporation with which it has contracted, may obtain is limited to the nature of an alleged rights violation, if any; the name, birth date and county of residence of the individual; information as to whether the individual was voluntarily admitted, involuntarily committed or protectively placed and the date and place of the admission, commitment or placement; and the name, address and telephone number of the guardian and the date and place of the guardian's appointment or, for a minor with developmental disability who has not had a guardian appointed on grounds of incompetence, the name, address and telephone number of the minor's parent or guardian. If the protection and advocacy agency or the nonprofit corporation with which it has contracted wishes to obtain additional information, it must notify the guardian or the parent in writing and may obtain the information only if the guardian or parent does not object in writing within 15 days after the notice is mailed. However, access to records of an individual may be provided to the agency or corporation if:

1. The record custodian fails to promptly provide the name and address of the parent or guardian.

2. A complaint is received by the agency or corporation about an individual, the agency or corporation determines that there is probable cause to believe that the health or safety of the individual is in serious and immediate jeopardy and the agency or corporation has made a good-faith effort to contact the parent or guardian and has either been unable to contact the parent or guardian or has offered assistance to resolve the situation and the parent or guardian has failed or refused to act on behalf of the individual.

3. A complaint is received by the agency or corporation about an individual or there is otherwise probable cause to believe that the individual has been subject to abuse or neglect by a parent or guardian.

4. The individual is a minor whose custody has been transferred to a legal custodian or for whom a guardian, who is an agency of the state or a county, has been appointed.

Current federal law authorizes access to records of an individual with mental illness or developmental disability who has a legal guardian or other legal representative and for whom the agency or corporation has received a complaint or for whom there is probable cause to believe that the health and safety of the individual is in serious or immediate jeopardy, whenever the agency or corporation has contacted the individual's representative and offered assistance and the representative has failed or refused to act on behalf of the individual. Current federal law also authorizes access for an individual who, by reason of his or her mental or physical condition, is unable to authorize access for the agency or corporation, who does not have a legal guardian or other legal representative or for whom the legal guardian is the state and with respect to whom the agency or corporation has received a complaint or there is probable cause to believe that the individual has been subject to abuse or neglect.

This bill changes the conditions under which the agency, or the corporation with which it contracts, is authorized to provide access to the treatment or patient health care records of an individual, to conform the conditions to current federal law. However, the bill retains overriding a denial of access if the record custodian fails to promptly provide the parent's or guardian's name or address or if the individual is a minor whose custody is transferred to a legal custodian or for whom the state or county is appointed as guardian.

Under current law, elderly, physically disabled, developmentally disabled, chronically mentally ill or chemically dependent persons receive services under the long-term support community options program. Reimbursement for long-term community support services may not exceed the average monthly cost of nursing home care, as determined by DHFS. This limitation does not apply to a person under the age of 22 or a person who is ventilator-dependent, or if DHFS determines that the cost of providing that person with nursing home care would exceed the cost of providing the person with care in the community. This bill eliminates the limitation on payment under the long-term support community options program for long-term community support services.

Under current law, DHFS must implement a plan that is approved by DOA to ensure that, before July 1, 1999, there are sufficient revenues to cover expenditures in reimbursement of care provided to patients of the Mendota and Winnebago mental health institutes. DHFS must report to DOA every 3 months, ending on July 1, 1999, on the implementation of this plan. This bill appropriates general purpose revenues equivalent to the value of the equipment and buildings of the Mendota and Winnebago mental health institutes to be used to cover expenditures in reimbursement of care provided to the mental health institutes. The bill also eliminates the requirement that DHFS annually increase rates charged for services provided by the mental health institutes and eliminates the plan deadline of July 1, 1999.

Currently, a county department of community programs must prepare a local plan to meet the needs of persons within the county department's jurisdiction who have mental illness, developmental disability, alcoholism or drug addiction, including homeless persons. The proposed budget for the county for mental health services for the succeeding year must be based on this plan. The county department of community programs must submit this plan every 3 years to DHFS for review. DHFS, in turn, must develop a model community mental health plan for county use, assist counties in developing their individual plans and, in conjunction with the council on mental health, review the plans submitted by counties. This bill eliminates all these requirements.

OTHER HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Under current law, DHFS must give prior approval to the construction or total replacement of a nursing home; an increase in the bed capacity of a nursing home; a capital expenditure that exceeds $1,000,000 by or on behalf of a nursing home; an expenditure that exceeds $600,000 for clinical equipment by or on behalf of a nursing home; and the partial or total conversion of a nursing home to a facility primarily serving the developmentally disabled. This bill eliminates the requirement for prior approval by DHFS of the total replacement of a nursing home, capital expenditures that exceed $1,000,000 for renovation or replacement of a nursing home and expenditures that exceed $600,000 for renovation or replacement of clinical equipment of a nursing home.

This bill requires that DHFS distribute a total of $250,000 in fiscal year 1997-98 and a total of $150,000 in fiscal year 1998-99 to develop and extend use of a facility licensing and certification system. However, the bill permits the secretary of administration to withhold approval for expenditure of these funds until he or she determines that DHFS has adequately explored and planned for the use of a common licensing and certification system with the department of regulation and licensing.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, providers of care or services who contract with DHFS or with a county department of social services, human services, developmental disabilities services or community programs must, as a condition of reimbursement, provide the purchaser with a certified financial and compliance audit report for purchased care and services that exceed $25,000. The audit report is required biennially unless federal law requires an annual report. This bill revises audit requirements for care and service providers who contract with DHFS or county departments to require annual submission of audits if care and services purchased exceed $50,000. The bill authorizes DHFS to require audits of a provider from whom purchases were less than $50,000, under certain circumstances.

Under current law, the Wisconsin Health and Educational Facilities Authority (WHEFA) may issue bonds to finance certain projects for the construction, remodeling, furnishing or equipping of a health facility. The definition of "health facility" does not include a rural medical center that is required to be licensed by DHFS. A rural medical center is a facility that provides 2 or more health care services, is organized under a single governing and corporate structure, and is located in a county or municipality that has a population of less than 15,000 and in an area that is not an urbanized area.

This bill changes the definition of "health facility" by including rural medical centers and excluding fitness centers and weight reduction centers. The bill also provides that WHEFA may retain bond counsel services only on the basis of a competitive process that is approved by the secretary of administration.

This bill eliminates the current expiration date of July 1, 1997, for the requirement that DHFS establish a pilot project for a contract with the Red Cliff Band of Lake Superior Chippewas and requires that DHFS administer the pilot project.

Under current law, as part of the home-based enterprise program, DILJD must distribute funds for homecraft services relating to the marketing and distribution of homecraft products and to the purchase of capital equipment for each client who participates in the homecraft program. This bill eliminates the requirement that DILJD distribute funds for homecraft services relating to the purchase of capital equipment.

Currently, DHFS, in cooperation with DPI, must prepare a joint alcohol and other drug abuse prevention, intervention, treatment and rehabilitation plan and biennially submit a report to the legislature on implementation of the plan. This bill eliminates this requirement.

INSURANCE

The health insurance risk-sharing plan (HIRSP) under current law provides major medical health insurance coverage for persons who are covered under medicare because they are disabled, persons who have tested positive for the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) and persons who have been refused coverage, or coverage at an affordable price, in the private health insurance market because of their mental or physical health conditions. Responsibility for administering HIRSP is split between the office of the commissioner of insurance (OCI) and a board of governors, which includes the commissioner of insurance or a designated representative from OCI. Claims, other than those in excess of premiums, are paid by premiums collected from persons with coverage under HIRSP. Administrative expenses of HIRSP, including claims in excess of premiums, are paid out of the health insurance risk-sharing fund, which is derived from assessments paid by health insurers. The commissioner determines each health insurer's annual assessment and the schedule of premiums. Covered persons with annual household incomes below $20,000 pay reduced premiums and deductibles through a subsidy program administered by the board and funded with general purpose revenue and certain assessments and penalties paid by health insurers.

This bill transfers responsibility for administering HIRSP to the department of health and family services (DHFS) and the board and makes a number of changes to the program. Under the bill, the commissioner continues to determine each insurer's share of the assessments that provide funding for HIRSP and to impose assessments for certain insurer actions that make a person eligible for coverage under HIRSP. The secretary of health and family services, or his or her representative, as well as the commissioner, or his or her representative, are members of the board, and the secretary, or his or her representative, serves as chairperson of the board. Payment of claims, as well as other administrative duties, is performed by the same fiscal agent that pays claims under the medical assistance (MA) program. While under current law covered expenses under HIRSP are the usual and customary charges, reduced by 10%, for specified services, after the transfer occurs the covered expenses are the amounts that are paid for those services under MA. Under the bill, services and articles covered under HIRSP must be provided by persons who are certified to provide services or articles under MA. Reduced premiums and deductibles for covered persons with incomes below $20,000 continue to be subsidized, but DHFS may recover from the estate of a deceased person who had coverage under HIRSP the amount of any subsidies that are paid on behalf of the person after the transfer to DHFS occurs.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Under the current tax incremental financing (TIF) program, a city or village may create a tax incremental district (TID) in part of its territory to foster development if at least 50% of the area to be included in the TID is blighted, in need of rehabilitation or suitable for industrial sites. Before a city or village may create a TID, several steps are required. These steps include public hearings, preparation and adoption of a proposed project plan for the TID, approval of the proposed project plan by the city or village and the creation of a joint review board to review the proposal. The joint review board, which is made up of representatives of the overlying taxing jurisdictions of the proposed TID, must approve the project plan or the TID may not be created.

This bill creates a mechanism, very similar to the TIF program, for financing the “eligible costs” incurred by a city, village, town or county (political subdivision) for environmental remediation (ER) of property that is owned by the political subdivision. If the remediated property is transferred to another person and is then subject to property taxation, ER tax incremental financing may be used to allocate some of the property taxes that are levied on the property to the political subdivision to pay for the costs of remediation.

“Eligible costs” are capital costs, financing costs and administrative and professional service costs for the removal, containment or monitoring of, or the restoration of soil or groundwater affected by, environmental pollution. Eligible costs are reduced by any amounts received from persons responsible for the discharge of a hazardous substance on the property to pay remediation costs and by the amount of net gain on the sale of the property by the political subdivision.

If development on the remediated parcel increases the value of the property above the base value, an “ER value increment” is created. That portion of taxes collected on the ER value increment in excess of the base value is called an “ER tax increment”. The ER tax increment is placed in a special fund that may be used by the political subdivision only to pay back the eligible costs of the ER, instead of being distributed to the overlying taxing jurisdictions that have the authority to levy property taxes on the remediated parcel of property. The ER tax increment must be paid into the special fund until all of the political subdivision’s eligible costs are paid or until 17 years after the ERTID of the property has been certified by the department of revenue (DOR), whichever comes first.

In calculating shared revenue payments, “full valuation” includes these increments for municipalities and counties that create the district but not for the other units of government in the district, and “local general purpose taxes” includes the portion of these increments collected for a municipality or county that is attributable to the municipality’s or county’s own levy. Shared revenue payments decrease as full valuation increases, and those payments increase as local general purpose taxes increase.

The bill also provides that the equalized valuation of a school district is reduced by the amount of an ER value increment on a parcel of property that is certified by DOR under the bill. In certain cases the result of such a reduction is additional state aid to the school district.

Under current law, the state or any city, village, town, county, school district, metropolitan sewerage district, regional planning commission and several other units of local government may enter into a cooperative agreement or contract with other such entities and with federally recognized Indian tribes or bands in this state for the receipt or furnishing of services or the joint exercise of any power or duty required or authorized by law. Such contracts may provide for creation of a commission and letting of contracts. A commission that is created under current law may finance the acquisition, development, remodeling, construction and equipment of land, buildings and facilities for a regional project by issuing revenue bonds or by borrowing or issuing municipal bonds.

This bill authorizes a local governmental unit in the Wisconsin Dells area to enter into a cooperative agreement or contract with another such unit under these current law provisions to establish a commission to jointly create a premier resort center. Such a center is one or more related structures owned, operated or leased by a governmental unit and used primarily for, or to support, cultural events or commercial activities, but not primarily for recreational or sporting activities. The governmental units that participate in the establishment of a commission may finance a premier resort center by issuing, either jointly or separately, revenue bonds. The governmental units that constitute the commission may also impose, separately, a sales tax on food and beverages and may issue "Class B" liquor licenses, which authorize the retail sale of alcohol beverages, in excess of the quotas that otherwise apply to the governmental units.

Under the bill, the interest income generated by revenue bonds issued by a governmental unit or units to finance a premier resort center is exempt from income taxation (see also TAXATION).

Current law establishes a local professional baseball park district (a "baseball district") for each county with a population exceeding 500,000 (currently, only Milwaukee County). All counties contiguous to the county with a population exceeding 500,000 are included in the baseball district's jurisdiction. Among other powers, a baseball district has the power to acquire, construct, equip, maintain, improve, operate and manage baseball park facilities as revenue-generating enterprises. Current law authorizes the department of administration (DOA) to provide certain services to a baseball district, for compensation to be agreed upon between DOA and the district, including engineering, architectural, project management and other building construction services. Similarly, current law authorizes the building commission to serve as financial consultant to assist and coordinate the issuance of the bonds of a baseball district. A baseball district is authorized to levy a sales tax of 0.1% within the baseball district's jurisdiction to fund its activities. This tax is collected by DOR, which retains a percentage of the sales taxes collected for the district (3% for the first 2 years and 1.5% thereafter) to cover the costs of administering the tax.

This bill validates all actions taken by DOA or the building commission before the day on which this bill becomes law to provide services that directly benefit a baseball district, including services provided before the creation of the baseball district. A baseball district that directly benefits from these services is liable for the fair market value of those services, as determined by the secretary of administration, regardless of whether the baseball district was in existence at the time that the services were provided or whether the baseball district authorized the provision of those services. If the secretary of administration determines that a baseball district is liable for services and that the liability remains unpaid, the bill requires the secretary of administration to certify to DOR the amount of the unpaid liability. The bill requires the amount certified to be transferred from the sales tax moneys collected by DOR for the baseball district to a specified DOA appropriation account and the capital improvement fund in payment of the liability. These transfers may be made in a lump sum or in instalments, as specified in the certification.

Under current law, a person who becomes a member of a paid city fire department must become a member of that city's fire fighters relief association, which gives relief to the sick and disabled members of the association and their families. Such a person is required to pay an initiation fee of not more than $50 and annual dues. This bill deletes the $50 cap on the initiation fee.

Also under current law, a retired fire fighter who continues to be a member of, and pay dues to, his or her association is not allowed to be an officer in the association. This bill allows such a person to become an officer of the association.

NATURAL RESOURCES*FISH, GAME AND WILDLIFE

This bill authorizes the department of natural resources (DNR) to determine who may issue each type of fish and game license, permit and stamp. DNR may issue them directly and may appoint one or more county clerks or other persons as issuing agents. Under current law, DNR must issue all types of fish and game licenses, permits and stamps. Also under current law, with certain limited exceptions, if a county clerk issues a type of fish and game license or stamp, all county clerks must do so.

The bill also prohibits county clerks from appointing agents to issue fish and game licenses and stamps. Under current law, county clerks may make these appointments.

The bill allows DNR to charge a fee for releasing the names, addresses and telephone numbers of persons to whom fish and game licenses, permits and stamps have been issued. Under current law, DNR must release this information for free.

Under this bill, if DNR and the Lac du Flambeau band of the Lake Superior Chippewa have in effect an agreement under which the band agrees to limit its treaty-based, off-reservation rights to fish, the band may elect to issue fishing licenses and stamps that are equivalent to fishing licenses or stamps issued by DNR. These licenses and stamps include resident and nonresident annual and 2-day licenses and inland waters trout stamps. If the band chooses to issue any of these licenses or the trout stamps, it must collect the same fee as DNR charges. Although the licenses or stamps may be used wherever a DNR license or stamp is valid, they may be issued only on the Lac du Flambeau reservation.

If the agreement described above is in effect, the bill authorizes the band to issue DNR fishing licenses and the DNR trout stamp and to retain the fees that the band collects for these licenses and stamps and authorizes DNR to pay the band an amount equal to the amount that DNR collects from its agents who issue DNR fishing licenses and trout stamps on the reservation.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

The band must use the fees that it collects for its own and for DNR fishing licenses and stamps and any payment from DNR for these licenses and trout stamps for fishery management on the reservation.

Under current law, DNR must sell any wild animals or carcasses that are seized in violation of the fish and game laws and that are not destroyed by DNR. This bill allows DNR to distribute for free seized carcasses to programs that provide food to low-income persons or to the elderly. The bill also specifically allows DNR to sell seized animals and carcasses to certain businesses licensed by DNR, such as bait dealers, wholesale fish dealers and taxidermists. Under the bill, these businesses may resell the seized animals or carcasses. Resale is prohibited under current law except by eating establishments to their customers.

Under current law, DNR may limit the total number of certain types of fish and game that are harvested by establishing a system for issuing a limited number of permits. Under this bill, DNR may establish a permitting system for harvesting sturgeon, either by hook and line or by spearing or by both.

With certain exceptions, under current law any person born after January 1, 1973, must successfully complete a hunter education and safety course administered by DNR in order to be issued a license that authorizes hunting, either by firearm or by bow and arrow or by both. This bill requires DNR to include 2 components in the course: one in firearm safety and one in bow hunting safety. Under the bill, a person may take only the bow hunting safety component. However, if a person successfully completes only the bow hunting safety component, the person may only be issued a license authorizing hunting by bow and arrow.

RECREATION

Under current law, DNR charges a fee for admission to certain areas of state parks, state forests and certain other recreation properties that it operates. Under this bill, a person paying an admission fee must also pay an issuing fee. The bill reduces the base admission fees so that the total amount that a person pays for admission is no more than the amount that the person pays under current law. The bill authorizes DNR to appoint agents to collect admission and issuing fees. Under the bill, the agents may retain a portion of the issuing fees to compensate them for providing this service.

Under current law, DNR administers a registration program for snowmobiles and all-terrain vehicles (ATVs). Under this bill, if DNR and the Lac du Flambeau band of the Lake Superior Chippewa have in effect an agreement under which the band agrees to limit its treaty-based, off-reservation rights to fish, the band may elect to establish a registration program for snowmobiles or ATVs. If the band chooses to register these vehicles, it must collect the same registration fees as DNR charges, and the registration certificates must be valid for the same length of time as the DNR certificates. Although the registration certificates are valid for operation of the vehicles in the state wherever the DNR certificates are valid, the certificates may be issued only on the Lac du Flambeau reservation. The band must use the snowmobile and ATV registration fees that it collects for activities and facilities related to snowmobiling and ATVs respectively.

FORESTRY AND ENDANGERED RESOURCES

This bill authorizes DNR to award grants to owners of private forest land that is not used commercially to produce timber for the purpose of developing and implementing land management plans. The bill requires that the plans incorporate certain practices that will protect and enhance the natural resources on the forest land.

This bill requires DNR to award grants to cities, villages, towns, counties and fire fighting organizations for fire fighting services. The grants may pay up to 50% of the cost of acquiring fire fighting supplies, equipment and vehicles. Only entities that agree to assist DNR in fighting forest fires are eligible for these grants.

This bill appropriates moneys received by the state from the sale or lease of resources, such as timber, from land located in the state natural areas system to fund the endangered resources program. The purposes of the endangered resources program are to improve habitats for endangered or threatened species and to provide wildlife management services.

Under current law, DNR may charge a fee for providing information to 3rd parties under the natural heritage inventory program, under which natural areas and endangered animals and plants are inventoried and monitored. The fee is deposited in the conservation fund. This bill appropriates revenues from these fees to fund the endangered resources program and the natural heritage inventory program.

OTHER NATURAL RESOURCES

Current law prohibits trespassing. Generally, a person is guilty of trespassing if he or she does any of the following: 1) enters or remains on any land of another after having been notified (by "no trespassing" signs or otherwise) not to enter or remain on the land; or 2) enters enclosed, cultivated or undeveloped land of another, or any land of another that is occupied by a structure used for agricultural purposes, without the express or implied consent of the owner or occupant, except that, with respect to undeveloped private land that abuts a parcel of land that is owned by the United States, this state or a local governmental unit, a person is guilty of trespassing only if he or she enters or remains on such land after having been notified (by "no trespassing" signs or otherwise) not to enter or remain on the land. A person who is found guilty of trespassing is subject to a forfeiture (civil penalty) of not more than $1,000.

This bill reduces the penalty for trespassing to a forfeiture of not more than $500. The bill also provides that, with respect to undeveloped private land that abuts a parcel of land that is either leased by the United States, this state or a local governmental unit or subject to a public access requirement, a person is guilty of trespassing only if he or she enters or remains on such land after having been notified (by "no trespassing" signs or otherwise) not to enter or remain on the land. Under the bill, a public access requirement is any requirement under a federal, state or local law that land to which the law applies must be open to public access, including a requirement that the public have access only for specified purposes (such as hunting).

Under current law, DNR provides state funding for recreational boating projects. The Wisconsin waterways commission determines which projects receive funding. This bill authorizes DNR, with the approval of the Wisconsin waterways commission, to pay 100% of the costs of acquiring land for and constructing a harbor of refuge along the Lake Superior shoreline.

Under current law, DNR provides state funding to construct recreational boating facilities. This bill requires that DNR do all the following:

1. Provide up to $1,200,000 to Adams County for boat launching facilities and a harbor of refuge on Petenwell Lake.
2. Provide up to $750,000 to Fond du Lac County for boat launching facilities at Columbia County Park on Lake Winnebago.
3. Provide up to $700,000 to Calumet County to complete Stockbridge Harbor on Lake Winnebago.
4. Spend up to $500,000 to construct breakwater structures in Lake Winnebago at the entrance to High Cliff State Park harbor for boater safety.

This bill requires DNR and the department of transportation to jointly develop a plan to landscape highways in the state, with priority given to southern Wisconsin.

Under current law, DNR is appropriated moneys from the conservation fund to enable it to receive intra-departmental moneys from vehicle and equipment pools and spend these moneys for the operation, maintenance, replacement and purchase of vehicles and equipment. This bill amends this provision to cover information technology pools. The bill also requires DNR to submit a report to the department of administration (DOA) no later than January 1, 1998, detailing DNR's proposed expenditures from this appropriation necessary to conform to any information technology guidelines and standards established by DOA. In addition, current law allows a department to expend general purpose revenue from certain specified appropriations in an amount equal to the depreciated value of equipment financed under these appropriations. This bill adds the DNR vehicle and equipment pool appropriation to the list of specified appropriations, so that DNR may expend general purpose revenue from this appropriation equal to the amount of the depreciated value of vehicles and equipment financed by the appropriation.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100*OCCUPATIONAL REGULATION

Under current law, the department of regulation and licensing (DORL) or an attached examining board or affiliated credentialing board may not issue certain occupational and professional credentials if an applicant has been arrested for a pending charge or been convicted, and the circumstances of the charge or conviction are substantially related to the occupation or profession. This bill provides specific statutory authority that allows DORL to conduct an investigation to determine whether an applicant satisfies any of the eligibility requirements for a credential, including not having such an arrest or conviction record. In addition, DORL may require an applicant to provide any information that is necessary for the investigation or to complete forms provided by the federal bureau of investigation (FBI) or department of justice (DOJ) for the purpose of obtaining information about his or her arrest or conviction record. DORL must charge an applicant for any fees, costs or expenses incurred in conducting its investigation.

This bill changes the fees for initial and renewal credentials issued by DORL or a board for each of the professions, occupations and businesses that DORL or a board regulates, except for renewal credentials for charitable organizations, professional geologists, occupational therapy assistants, physical therapists and social workers.

Current law does not specify a renewal credential fee for real estate business entity licenses. This bill imposes a renewal credential fee of $70.

RETIREMENT AND GROUP INSURANCE

Under current law, all pension plan benefits provided by the department of employe trust funds (DETF), any retirement system of a 1st class city (currently, only the city of Milwaukee) and any retirement system established by a county government (currently, only Milwaukee County) are generally not assignable or subject to execution, levy, attachment, garnishment or other legal process. This bill makes any monthly annuity payment by DETF, any retirement system of a 1st class city or any retirement system established by a county government assignable and subject to execution, levy, attachment, garnishment and other legal processes that relate to child support and family or other maintenance support. In addition, the bill authorizes the department of industry, labor and job development (DILJD) to direct DETF, any retirement system of a 1st class city, any retirement system established by a county government or any private pension plan to withhold from any lump sum payment that may be paid to a person an amount owed by the person for delinquent support.

Under current law, with one exception, individual personal information in the records of DETF may not be disclosed.

This bill provides that individual medical information in the records of DETF may be disclosed only under one of the following conditions:

1. When a disability application or health insurance claim denial is appealed.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

2. Under a court order or an order of a hearing examiner duly obtained after notice to DETF and upon a showing to the court or the hearing examiner that the information is relevant to a pending court or administrative action.

3. Upon written request, to the employer of a person who applies for a disability annuity or duty disability benefit or who files a claim for income continuation insurance or, if the person is a state employe, to the department of administration for the purpose of managing the state employes' worker's compensation program. The only individual medical information that may be disclosed is information contained in the medical records of the person and any documentation submitted to DETF pursuant to certain applications for disability benefits.

4. Upon written request, to a participant in the Wisconsin retirement system or his or her designee, but only if the participant's or his or her designee's access to the individual medical information is not otherwise restricted by law. The only individual medical information that may be disclosed by DETF is that specifically identified in the written request.

STATE GOVERNMENT*DISTRICT ATTORNEYS

Under current law, this state pays for the salaries and various benefits for district attorneys, deputy district attorneys and assistant district attorneys. Among their other duties, district attorneys may, if the attorney general has declined to do so, bring a petition under the sexually violent person commitment law seeking the commitment for involuntary treatment of a person found to be a sexually violent person.

This bill specifies that 4 assistant district attorney project positions (one each in Brown, Dane, Marathon and Milwaukee counties) shall be used until June 30, 1999, to provide assistant district attorneys who will file and prosecute petitions anywhere in this state under the sexually violent person commitment law. The bill also requires district attorneys to maintain, during the period ending on June 30, 1999, records of the time spent on cases brought under the sexually violent person commitment law and to report that information to the department of administration (DOA).

STATE BUILDING PROGRAM

Currently, with certain limited exceptions, state construction projects that are estimated to cost more than $30,000 must be publicly advertised and awarded to the lowest qualified responsible bidder. Projects that are estimated to cost more than $250,000 must be specifically enumerated in the authorized state building program as set forth by law. These requirements apply regardless of the funding source for a project. As work progresses under a contract, the state makes partial payments to the contractor and if the work is satisfactorily completed, the state pays the contractor in full.

This bill permits DOA to contract with a qualified contractor for the performance of an energy conservation audit of any state-owned building, structure or facility. The contractor must then prepare a report recommending specific physical modifications to effect future energy savings and determining the minimum savings that will be realized by the state if the modifications are made. After receiving the audit report, and subject to approval of the building commission where required, the bill permits DOA to contract for construction work to be performed by the contractor on the building, structure or facility, at the contractor's expense, for the purpose of realizing potential savings of future energy costs identified in the audit if, in DOA's judgment, the anticipated savings to the state after completion of the work will enable recovery of the costs of the work within a reasonable period of time. Any such contract must provide for the state to pay a stated amount, which must include any financing costs incurred by the contractor. The amount may not exceed the minimum savings determined under the audit to be realized within the period specified in the audit. The state makes payments under the contract as the savings identified in the audit are realized by the state, in the amounts actually realized, but not to exceed the stated amount.

Under the bill, any such contract must include a provision stating in substance that the payments under the contract are contingent upon available appropriations. The bill exempts any such contract from notice and bidding requirements and from the requirement for enumeration in the authorized state building program.

STATE EMPLOYMENT

Under current law, the administrator of the division of merit recruitment and selection in the department of employment relations (DER) is responsible for administering state law relating to the recruitment, appointment, examination and certification of applicants for positions in the state classified service. Current law provides that the administrator may delegate any of these functions to an appointing authority of a state agency, within prescribed standards, if the administrator finds that the state agency has personnel management capabilities to perform such functions effectively and has indicated its approval and willingness to accept such responsibility by written agreement. Current law also provides that if the administrator determines that a state agency is not performing such delegated function within prescribed standards, the administrator must withdraw such delegated function.

This bill provides that, at the request of the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin (UW) System, the administrator must delegate to the board of regents any of his or her functions relating to the recruitment, appointment, examination and certification of applicants for classified, nonprofessional positions in the UW System. This delegation is not subject to prescribed standards and is not revocable by the administrator. Any personnel decision made by the board of regents, however, is subject to appeal to the personnel commission.

Currently, with limited exceptions, any change in the number of full-time equivalent positions for any state agency must be approved by law, by the legislature in budget deliberations, by the joint committee on finance (JCF) or by the governor, depending upon the funding source for the positions. This bill permits the secretary of administration, at the request of the secretary of employment relations, to authorize additional temporary positions for any state agency from any funding source to provide temporary staffing for the purpose of permitting the agency to loan the staff members to another state agency or to a state agency of another state, an agency of a foreign government, a federal agency, an institution of higher education or a local government. The bill does not define "temporary".

Under current law, any department, agency or instrumentality of the state or institution of higher education or any local government or municipal corporate agency may participate in an employe interchange program with departments, agencies or instrumentalities of a foreign government, the federal government, another state or local government, an institution of higher education, municipal corporate agencies or other agencies or instrumentalities of this state. Employes of the sending governmental unit, even though they report for work at the receiving governmental unit, are still considered employes of the sending governmental unit during the duration of the interchange. The employes' salaries and benefits are paid by the sending governmental unit during the duration of the interchange, except that a receiving governmental unit (except for a department, agency or instrumentality of the state) may provide supplemental salaries and benefits to the employe during the duration of the interchange.

This bill provides that a department, agency or instrumentality of the state that is a receiving governmental unit may also provide supplemental salaries and benefits to the employe during the duration of the interchange. In addition, the bill requires the compensation plan to provide for a supplemental salary increase of up to 10% of an employe's base salary for any employe who participates in the temporary interchange program, but only if the state agency to which the employe is assigned during the period of the interchange pays the cost of the supplemental salary increase. The bill affects only the compensation and conditions of employment of state employes who are included in collective bargaining units for which representatives are recognized or certified to the extent allowed under the employes' collective bargaining agreements.

This bill eliminates certain requirements for making promotional appointments to positions in the classified service at the UW System. (See EDUCATION, HIGHER EDUCATION.).

Under current law, the investment board is authorized to provide bonus compensation to the executive director of the board and other employes of the board for meritorious performance. This bill provides that an employe is not eligible to participate in the bonus compensation plan if the employe is hired by the investment board after the day on which the bill becomes law to perform functions primarily related to information technology.

STATE FINANCE

In addition to modifying the amounts of authorized bonding for existing state bonding programs, this bill authorizes bonding for several new programs including an educational technology infrastructure loan program. (See EDUCATION, OTHER EDUCATIONAL AND CULTURAL AGENCIES), a safe drinking water loan program (see ENVIRONMENT, WATER QUALITY), and a transportation infrastructure bank program (see TRANSPORTATION, TRANSPORTATION AIDS.).

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, the statutory purpose of the property tax relief fund is to provide state property tax relief “during the 1997-99 fiscal biennium”. This bill amends the language creating the fund to delete reference to providing tax relief “in the 1997-99 fiscal biennium”. In addition, the bill requires the secretary of administration to make annual transfers from the property tax relief fund to the general fund. The amount of each transfer equals the estimated total increase, if any, in anticipated expenditures from the appropriations for school aids and for the school levy tax credit from the previous fiscal year to the current fiscal year, not to exceed the balance of the property tax relief fund. If the secretary of administration overestimates or underestimates the amount of the increase, an adjustment to compensate for the overestimation or underestimation in the transfer is made for the next fiscal year.

Under current law, the governor is generally authorized to accept federal funding, on behalf of the state, and to designate the state board, commission or department to administer these funds for the purpose designated by the federal government. However, when a block grant is made to the state by a federal law enacted after August 31, 1995, the governor may administer the funds and the state board, commission or department may encumber the federal funds only if JCF does not schedule a meeting on the issue within 14 days of being notified by the governor of the receipt of the funds.

This bill instead provides for this notification and review upon receipt of any block grant if the secretary of administration determines that the block grant is not reflected in the estimates of federal revenues contained in the biennial budget act for the fiscal year in which the moneys contained in the grant will be encumbered.

Under current law, state operating notes may be issued only upon submission of a request by DOA to the building commission. If DOA determines that a deficiency will occur in the funds of the state that will not permit the state to meet its operating obligations in a timely manner, DOA may prepare a request for the issuance of operating notes and, after approval by JCF, may submit the request to the building commission.

This bill replaces the requirement for JCF approval with a 14-day passive review process. Under the bill, if DOA proposes to submit a request for the issuance of operating notes to the building commission, the secretary of administration must notify JCF in writing of the proposed action. If the cochairpersons of JCF do not notify the secretary that JCF has scheduled a meeting for the purpose of reviewing the proposed submission within 14 working days after the date of the secretary's notification, DOA may submit the request to the building commission as proposed. If, within 14 working days after the date of the secretary's notification, the cochairpersons of JCF notify the secretary that JCF has scheduled a meeting for the purpose of reviewing the proposed submission, DOA may submit the request to the building commission only upon approval of JCF.

This bill requires the arts board, the department of justice (DOJ), the department of public instruction, the historical society and the public defender board to submit a report to the governor and JCF no later than October 1, 1997. Each report must contain the agency's recommendations on how to allocate a specified appropriation reduction, resulting from budgetary efficiency measures, among the agency's sum certain general purpose revenue appropriations.

Under current law, the executive director of the investment board may appoint one division administrator and investment directors and must appoint a chief investment officer and all other employees necessary to carry out the functions of the board. The board must participate in the selection of the chief investment officer and the investment directors. The executive director of the board also may appoint an executive assistant.

This bill removes the authority of the executive director to appoint a division administrator. Instead, the bill authorizes the executive director to appoint a chief legal counsel, a chief financial officer and a chief risk officer. These positions are made subject to the state code of ethics for public officials and the employees in these positions are required to file annual statements of economic interests, as well as quarterly reports of economic transactions, with the state ethics board. Employees in these positions receive more liberal vacation and retirement benefits than are provided to most other nonrepresented state employees.

Also, under current law, the board must appoint an investment director to act as the assistant director. The assistant director acts in place of the executive director in his or her absence or disability. This bill allows the board to appoint any of the senior officers mentioned, as well as any investment director, to the position.

Under current law, the investment board may employ special legal or investment counsel in any matter arising outside of the scope of its investment authority. In addition, the board may employ professionals, contractors or other agents necessary to evaluate or operate any property if a fund managed by the board has an interest in, or is considering purchasing or lending money based upon the value of, that property. Expenses incurred by these special legal counsel, special investment counsel, professionals, contractors or other agents may be charged to the funds for which their services were provided.

This bill requires the board to submit quarterly reports to DOA detailing all costs and expenses charged to funds under these provisions. In addition, the bill prohibits the board from charging a fund for these expenses if the expenses are for data processing services, information technology and telecommunications services, accounting services other than actuarial services, or general management services.

Under current law, the division of trust lands and investments is under the direction and supervision of the board of commissioners of public lands and is attached for administrative purposes to the office of the state treasurer. This bill attaches the board to DOA for administrative purposes.

Under current law, the board of commissioners of public lands may exchange part or all of any parcel of public lands for any other land of approximately equal value if the board determines that the exchange will contribute to the consolidation or completion of a block of land, enhance conservation of lands or otherwise be in the public interest. This bill provides that an exchange is of "approximately equal value" if the difference in value between the more highly valued land and the less highly valued land does not exceed 10% of the value of the more highly valued land.

Current law allows the division of trust lands and investments to deduct from the gross receipts of the state trust funds the necessary expenses incurred in caring for public lands under the board's supervision. This bill specifically provides that these expenses may include expenses for reforestation, erosion and insect control, submerged log monitoring, surveys, appraisals and other land management practices that serve to protect or enhance the interests of the beneficiaries of the trust funds.

Under current law, the state reserves to itself title to and ownership of all logs resting on submerged lands owned by the state. The board of commissioners of public lands issues permits to persons wishing to raise and remove sunken logs resting on submerged state lands. The state receives 30% of the appraised market value of the logs raised under such permits, except that an applicant for a permit may propose projects for the use of logs raised and for the use of proceeds from logs raised and sold as an offset to the state's share of the value of the raised logs. The projects must have demonstrated potential to do 2 or more of the following: 1) increase tourism revenues in this state; 2) increase employment in this state; or 3) contribute to increased economic development and activity in this state. The board may, in its judgment, authorize offsets of up to 100% of value that would otherwise be received by the state.

This bill repeals the offset program and changes the percentage of value retained by the state so that the state receives 20% of the appraised market value of all logs raised from submerged lands owned by the state.

Currently, the information technology investment fund consists primarily of fee revenues received from prospective state vendors for information concerning future state procurements. This bill supplements the information technology investment fund by transferring from the general fund to that fund $2,000,000 on the day the bill becomes law and an additional $2,000,000 on July 1, 1998. (See also OTHER STATE GOVERNMENT.)

OTHER STATE GOVERNMENTLand use planning

Currently, the land information board is attached to DOA. The board consists of the secretaries of 4 state agencies or their designees, the state cartographer and 8 other persons appointed by the governor, 4 of whom are representatives of county or municipal governments in this state and 4 of whom are representatives of public utilities or private businesses in this state. The board serves as a state clearinghouse for access to land information and provides technical assistance to state agencies and local governmental units with land information responsibilities, reviews and approves county plans for land records modernization and provides aids to counties, derived from recording fee revenues collected by counties, for land records upgrading and modernization projects.

This bill abolishes the land information board and transfers its functions, together with its assets, liabilities and employes, to DOA. The bill revises the existing functions of the board so that DOA facilitates the provision of technical assistance, together with unspecified others, to state agencies and local governmental units, and facilitates the review, together with unspecified others, of county plans and applications by counties for land records modernization project grants. The bill also directs DOA to develop and maintain geographic information systems relating to land in this state for the use of governmental and nongovernmental entities, and appropriates money from the recycling fund for this purpose.

This bill creates a Wisconsin land council in DOA. The purposes of the council include the following: 1) to identify and recommend to the governor land use goals and priorities; 2) to study the development of a computer-based land information system and make recommendations to the governor in this area; and 3) to identify procedures for facilitating local land use planning efforts and recommend to the governor legislation to implement the procedures. The council is required to submit to both houses of the legislature, and the governor, a report that evaluates its functions and activities. The report must be submitted not later than September 1, 2002.

Under the bill, the council consists of the secretaries of various state agencies, or their designees; the state cartographer; public members, including a representative from the University of Wisconsin (UW) System; and members who represent the interests of cities, towns and counties. These public members are appointed by the governor and serve for 5-year terms. The bill eliminates the council on September 1, 2003.

The bill also permits DOA to levy assessments against state agencies in any amounts that DOA determines to be required to support DOA's land information functions and the functions of the Wisconsin land council.

State procurement

Currently, with several exceptions, if the estimated cost of materials, supplies, equipment or contractual services for any state agency in the executive branch of state government exceeds $25,000, DOA, or the agency if DOA delegates purchasing authority to the agency, must publicly solicit bids or competitive sealed proposals. With certain exceptions, DOA and other state agencies to which DOA delegates purchasing authority must make procurements from the person submitting the lowest responsible bid or most advantageous competitive sealed proposal. With certain exceptions, DOA and agencies to which DOA delegates purchasing authority must purchase certain materials, supplies, equipment and contractual services from state institutions or work centers for severely handicapped individuals. These requirements do not apply to any purchases made by the division of information technology services of DOA.

This bill provides that these requirements do not apply to: a) any purchases of educational technology materials, supplies, equipment or contractual services made by the division of information technology services of DOA for school districts, cooperative educational service agencies, technical college districts and the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin System; or to b) any purchases made by DOA or any other state agency to which DOA delegates purchasing authority when the agency purchases materials, supplies, equipment or contractual services for information technology purposes. Under the bill, "information technology" means the electronic processing, storage and transmission of information, including data processing and telecommunications.

State information technology planning and grants

Currently, DOA may award grants from the information technology investment fund to state agencies for information technology development projects. Before awarding grants for any fiscal year, DOA must submit proposed criteria for awarding the grants to the joint committee on information policy for the approval of the committee. This bill provides instead that DOA may award grants for any fiscal year in accordance with its proposed criteria if, within 14 working days after submittal of the proposed criteria to the committee, the cochairpersons do not notify DOA that the committee has scheduled a meeting for the purpose of reviewing the proposed criteria. If DOA is so notified, it may not award grants until the proposed criteria are approved by the committee.

Currently, DOA must promulgate rules concerning administration of grants for information technology development projects, including grant criteria. This bill repeals that directive. However, under general law, DOA is still required to promulgate rules concerning statements of general policy and interpretations of statutes that DOA specifically adopts to govern its enforcement or administration of information technology development project grant requirements.

Currently, DOA awards grants to state agencies from the information technology investment fund for information technology development projects once each fiscal year. Grants for each fiscal year must be awarded by May 15 of the preceding fiscal year. This bill permits DOA to award grants for projects to be conducted during the 1997-98 fiscal year after the bill becomes law but no later than a date specified by the secretary of administration. (See STATE FINANCE.)

Currently, each state agency in the executive branch must adopt, revise biennially and submit to DOA for its approval a strategic plan for the utilization of information technology to carry out the functions of the agency. The plan must identify all resources relating to information technology which the agency desires to acquire, the priority for such acquisitions and the justification for such acquisitions.

This bill instead requires each plan to identify all proposed information technology development projects that serve the business needs of the agency, the priority for undertaking such projects and the justification for each project, including the anticipated benefits of the project.

State penalty surcharges and assessments

Under current law, a person must provide biological specimens to be used for deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA) analysis if the person has been convicted of, adjudicated delinquent for or found not guilty by reason of mental disease or defect of certain serious sexual offenses, if the person has been institutionalized under the civil commitment law based on certain serious sexual offenses, if the person has been found to be a sexually violent person, or if a court orders the person to provide biological specimens. The crime laboratories of DOJ analyze the sample and maintain a data bank based on the DNA analysis of the specimens.

Current law imposes various surcharges or assessments to be levied against persons who violate certain laws; these surcharges and assessments must be paid in addition to any fine or forfeiture (civil monetary penalty) imposed and in addition to any other surcharge and assessment imposed. Current law also provides that any person who is convicted of burglary or of certain sexual assaults and any person who must provide biological specimens after being convicted of a crime must pay a DNA analysis this surcharge of $250. Money collected from this surcharge is used to fund the DNA analysis program conducted by the state crime laboratories; to maintain a state data bank based on that DNA analysis; to help pay for the salary and fringe benefits of one Milwaukee County assistant district attorney, who conducts prosecutions using DNA analysis; and to provide statewide training regarding prosecutions using DNA analysis.

This bill eliminates the requirement for a person convicted of burglary to pay the $250 DNA analysis surcharge. The bill also creates a crime laboratories assessment of $4 that must be imposed on any person found to have violated any state law or local ordinance, except a law or ordinance relating to restrictions on smoking inside buildings, to nonmoving traffic regulations or to safety belt use requirements. The money collected from the crime laboratories assessment must be used, along with money collected from the DNA analysis surcharge under current law, for the following purposes: 1) to fund activities of the state crime laboratories that relate to drug law enforcement assistance and drug investigations and analysis; and 2) to fund the DNA analysis program conducted by the crime laboratories, to maintain the data bank based on that DNA analysis and to conduct other activities related to the use of DNA in criminal prosecutions. The bill also eliminates the use of money collected from the DNA analysis surcharge to help pay for a Milwaukee County assistant district attorney and to provide statewide training regarding prosecutions using DNA analysis.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100Conduct of state administrative hearings

Under current law, the division of hearings and appeals in DOA must assign a hearing examiner to preside over certain contested case hearings of the departments of health and family services, industry, labor and job development, transportation and natural resources, as well as certain other specific types of contested case hearings. This bill authorizes the division of hearings and appeals to contract with any state agency to provide contested case hearing services to that agency unless the agency is prohibited, under current law, from contracting for contested case hearing services. The bill requires DOA to charge the other state agency for the total costs of providing the hearing services.

Composition of the public records board

Currently, the public records board consists of 8 members. Five members are state officers or designees of those officers and 3 members are appointed by the governor for indefinite terms. Of the gubernatorial appointees, one is a representative of a local government and one is a representative of a small business.

This bill increases the membership of the board to 10 members. The bill adds the secretary of administration and director of state courts or their designees as members, and also provides that, of the 3 gubernatorial appointees, one must be a representative of a local government and the other 2 members must have experience in records management or information technology. Under the bill, one of these 2 representatives must be an officer or employe of a state agency and one must be an officer or employe of a private business located in this state.

Payment of small claims against the state

Currently, the claims board receives, investigates and makes recommendations to the legislature concerning claims of $10 or more against the state that are not otherwise authorized to be paid. The board may pay certain claims without legislative approval. Other claims may be referred by the board to the legislature. Any claim of less than $10 may be paid by DOA without referral to the claims board. If the legislature does not allow a claim, a claimant may file suit on the claim if suit is authorized to be brought.

This bill specifically permits any person who has a claim against the state to file the claim with DOA. The bill permits DOA to pay any claim of less than $100 without referral to the claims board. Under the bill, the claims board is not required to consider any claim of less than $100. In accordance with current law, if a claim is not referred to the claims board, the legislature may still consider the claim and if the legislature does not allow the claim, the claimant may file suit on the claim if suit is authorized to be brought.

Executive assistants at public service commission

Under current law, the chairperson of the public service commission (PSC) may appoint an executive assistant. This bill allows each commissioner of the PSC, in addition to the chairperson, to appoint an executive assistant.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100Content of certain annual reports

Under current law, DOA must submit a report to the appropriate legislative standing committees, no later than January 1 and July 1 of each year, concerning the distribution and usage of gasohol and alternative fuels in this state. This bill requires that the report be submitted only once per year, no later than April 30.

Current law also requires DOA to submit an annual report to the recycling market development board regarding DOA's resource recovery and recycling activities during the preceding year. The report is required to include information concerning the level of compliance by DOA and certain other agencies and authorities with certain specified recycling law requirements, including requirements relating to: 1) the use of recovered and recycled materials in state construction projects; 2) the purchase of products made from recycled materials and recovered materials; 3) the purchase of products that are reusable or recyclable; and 4) the separation of specified materials from solid waste for recycling. This bill repeals the requirement that the annual report include information concerning the level of compliance by DOA and other state agencies and authorities with requirements relating to the separation of specified materials from solid waste for recycling.

Public records and forms

Currently, the head of each state agency is required to file an annual report with the public records board containing such information concerning records and forms management as may be required by the board. This bill deletes this requirement.

Currently, the public records board is directed to create a registry in a format that may be accessed by computer terminal, describing the records series maintained by state agencies that may contain certain personally identifiable information. The board may require state agencies to provide information required to create the registry. This bill deletes the requirement to create this registry.

Currently, a state agency may not use or allow the use of personally identifiable information under a matching program (a computerized comparison of information in one records series to information in another records series) unless the agency first creates a document that describes the purpose and authority for the program, the justification for the program, the anticipated results and a description of the information that will be matched, and sends a copy of the document to the public records board within 30 days of its creation. No state agency may take adverse action against an individual as a result of information obtained by a matching program unless the agency finds that the information contained in a records series that is matched under the program is "sufficiently reliable". This bill deletes all requirements and restrictions pertaining to the creation and use of matching programs by state agencies.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100Campaign finance filing fees

This bill imposes a biennial filing fee of $100 upon individuals, committees, groups and corporations registered with the state elections board that are subject to a campaign finance reporting requirement, other than candidates and personal campaign committees and individuals who, or committees, groups or corporations which, do not make expenditures exceeding $2,500 within a 2-year period. Any individual who, and any committee, group or corporation which, fails to pay the filing fee within the time prescribed is subject to a forfeiture (civil penalty) of $500 plus triple the amount of the delinquent payment.

Under the bill, revenues from fee collections are utilized for the general program operations of the elections board. Currently, the general program operations of the elections board are financed with general purpose revenue and no fees are imposed upon campaign finance registrants.

Settlement of claims and actions against the state

Currently, the attorney general may negotiate and settle actions brought against a state department or against an officer, employe or agent of this state acting within his or her duties. This authority also applies to actions brought against certain other entities, including the Wisconsin state public building corporation, the patients compensation fund peer review council, and the health care liability board of governors. The attorney general may negotiate and settle these claims even before an action is commenced on a claim. This bill requires the approval of DOA before the attorney general may settle these actions or claims.

Literacy improvement grants

This bill authorizes the governor to award grants to local governments or nonprofit organizations in support of programs to improve literacy.

Gifts for endangered resources program

Currently, under the code of ethics for state public officials (which applies to all elective and major appointive officials), no person may offer or give to a state public official, and no state public official may solicit or accept from any person, anything of value if it could reasonably be expected to influence the official's vote, official actions or judgment, or could reasonably be considered as a reward for any official action or inaction on the part of the official.

This bill provides that this prohibition does not apply to the offer or gift to a state public official who administers the endangered resources program in the department of natural resources, or to the solicitation or acceptance by such an official, of anything of value for the benefit of that program.

TAXATION*INCOME TAXATION

development zone program. These are economic development programs that provide tax benefits to businesses that operate in areas that fulfill certain requirements. Generally, after the department designates an area as one of the 3 types of development zones, a business that conducts or that intends to conduct economic activity in the designated zone may be certified by the department as eligible for certain income and franchise tax credits. This bill discontinues the following income tax and franchise tax credits: 1) the development zones day care credit; 2) the development zones environmental remediation credit; 3) the development zones investment credit; 4) the development zones jobs credit; 5) the development zones location credit; 6) the development zones research credit; and 7) the development zones sales tax credit. The bill establishes a new development zones credit based instead on the creation or retention of jobs and on expenses incurred to remediate environmental problems.

Under current law, a person who files an incorrect income or franchise tax return, or who fails to file a required income or franchise tax return, with intent to defeat or evade the income or franchise tax assessment required by law, is liable for a penalty equal to 100% of the tax on the entire underpayment.

Under this bill, a person who files a frivolous income tax return is liable for a penalty of $500 in addition to any other penalty for which the taxpayer may be liable. (This penalty is similar to a provision of the Internal Revenue Code that applies to the federal income tax laws.) A frivolous tax return is defined as a return that does not contain enough information to figure the correct tax owed by the taxpayer or that contains information that indicates that the self-assessment is substantially incorrect.

Under current law, for individual income tax purposes, qualified real estate agents and direct sellers of tangible consumer products, such as door-to-door salespersons, may be treated as independent contractors or as employees, depending on the individual application of 20 factors identified by the Internal Revenue Service. If such a person is treated as an employee, the employee's employer must withhold income tax. If such a person is treated as an independent contractor, the payer is not required to withhold income tax because there is no employer-employee relationship, although the individual is required to file and pay quarterly estimated income tax payments.

Under the Internal Revenue Code, qualified real estate agents and direct sellers of tangible consumer products are treated as "statutory independent contractors" for whom no income tax withholding is required.

This bill federalizes Wisconsin's treatment of qualified real estate agents and direct sellers. Under the bill, these persons are treated as "statutory independent contractors" for whom no income tax withholding is required, although they are required to file and pay quarterly estimated income tax payments.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, an individual's scholarship income is included in the calculation of household income for purposes of the homestead tax credit. The homestead tax credit is a refundable individual income tax credit that is based on property taxes or rent constituting property taxes, and income. The scholarship income is includable in the taxable year in which it is received. Under federal law, certain scholarship income is included in the calculation of federal AGI in the taxable year in which the academic period ends, which is usually in a different taxable year from the year in which the income is received. Because the calculation of Wisconsin AGI starts with a taxpayer's federal AGI, scholarship income is double counted for certain individuals who claim the homestead tax credit.

This bill eliminates the double counting of scholarship income for certain individuals who claim the homestead tax credit.

This bill exempts from income taxation the interest income generated by revenue bonds issued by a local governmental unit or units to finance a premier resort center in the Wisconsin Dells area. (See also LOCAL GOVERNMENT.)

PROPERTY TAXATION

Under current law, lottery proceeds fund a property tax credit only for owners of principal dwellings. That credit is determined by multiplying the school tax rate applicable to the property by an amount that is based on the amount of lottery proceeds that are available for distribution. This bill discontinues that credit.

Under this bill, the available lottery proceeds are allocated to municipalities in proportion to their total property tax levies. Then the amount allocated to each municipality is allocated to each taxable property in proportion to its assessed value.

This bill increases the amount of the school levy tax credit by $100,000,000 beginning with the 1999 payment. The credit is applied to reduce property taxes otherwise levied against all taxable property.

OTHER TAXATION

Under current law, when a person applies to the department of regulation and licensing (DORL) to renew a professional or occupational credential, the person must provide his or her social security number or, if the person is an entity such as corporation, its federal employer identification number. DORL must deny an application if a social security number or federal employer identification number is not provided. In addition, before renewing the credential, DORL must request DOR to certify whether or not the person is liable for delinquent taxes. If DOR certifies that the person is liable for delinquent taxes, DORL must deny the application for credential renewal. A person whose application is denied has a right to a hearing before DOR and a right to judicial review in the circuit court for Dane County.

This bill expands these provisions to cover certain licenses, credentials, permits, approvals, registrations and certifications (licenses) that are issued by the following departments: DORL; an examining or affiliated credentialing board in DORL; the department of agriculture, trade and consumer protection; the department of commerce; the department of financial institutions; the department of health and family services; the department of natural resources; the department of public instruction; and the department of transportation.

Under this bill, a person who applies for a license or for license renewal or continuation must provide his or her social security number or, if applicable, the applicant's federal employer identification number, to the applicable licensing department or board. If a social security number or federal employer identification number is not provided, the licensing department or board must deny the application. The bill also requires a licensing department or board to request DOR to certify whether an applicant for a license is liable for delinquent taxes. In addition, each licensing department, (but not a board), must enter into a memorandum of understanding with DOR that requires the licensing department to request that DOR certify whether a license holder is liable for delinquent taxes. DOR is required to make such a request on behalf of a board. If DOR certifies a liability for delinquent taxes, the licensing department or board must deny the application for issuance, renewal or continuation of the license or revoke the license. Such a denial or revocation is not subject to administrative review by the licensing department or board or to judicial review. Instead, a person whose application is denied or whose license is revoked has a right to a hearing before DOR. After a hearing, if DOR determines that a person is not liable for delinquent taxes, the licensing department or board must grant the application or reinstate the license, unless there are other grounds for the denial or revocation. If DOR affirms its certification of liability after a hearing, the licensing department or board must affirm its denial or revocation. Such an affirmation is subject to judicial review in the circuit court for Dane County.

The bill also allows DOR to deny an application for a property assessor certification or recertification or to revoke a property assessor certificate if the applicant or certificate holder is liable for delinquent taxes. A person whose application is denied or whose certificate is revoked has a right to a hearing and to judicial review as described above.

Finally, if the supreme court agrees, the bill's requirements and procedures also apply to licenses to practice law.

This bill increases the rate of the cigarette tax by 5 cents per pack.

Under current law, telecommunications services that originate in this state and are billed to a service address in this state are subject to the sales tax and use tax. This bill imposes the sales tax and use tax also on telecommunications services that terminate in this state and are billed to a service address in this state.

Under current law, mechanical telephone answering services are subject to the sales tax and use tax. This bill imposes the sales tax and use tax on all other telephone answering services and on voice messaging services.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, cellular mobile radio telecommunications utilities are subject to a transitional adjustment fee. This bill imposes that fee on providers of commercial mobile service, a broader range of utilities.

This bill imposes the sales tax on coin-operated laundry services.

Under current law, the sales tax and use tax are imposed on the sale of tangible personal property to contractors and subcontractors for use in real property construction activities. For those taxes, this bill limits real property construction activities to those that are conducted at a site where tangible personal property is affixed to real property and that fulfill certain other requirements.

Under this bill, the base for the sales tax and use tax on certain manufactured buildings does not include, at a retailer's option, either 35% of the sales price or an amount equal to the sales price minus the cost of materials. Currently, there is no such deduction.

Current law requires DOR to negotiate and, if possible, enter into reciprocal agreements with other states authorizing the shipment of wine directly to individuals in this state. No out-of-state source of alcohol beverages may ship alcohol beverages directly to an individual in this state except under such an agreement. This bill authorizes DOR to negotiate a withdrawal from such agreements and prohibits DOR from entering into new agreements.

This bill authorizes DOR to require electronic funds transfer of amounts withheld for individual income tax purposes if an employer is required to submit those amounts monthly or more frequently, of sales taxes if a retailer is required to pay those taxes on the 20th day of the month after they are collected, of cigarette taxes if the tax is $20,000 or more for the reporting period and of estimated payments of the corporate franchise tax if the instalment is $20,000 or more. The bill also allows DOR to prescribe other methods of paying taxes, filing forms and authenticating documents for other taxpayers.

TRANSPORTATION*HIGHWAYS

This bill increases the authorized level of revenue bonding for major highway projects and transportation administrative facilities from $1,123,638,100 to $1,263,424,800, of which not more than $1,220,499,900 may be used to fund such projects and facilities.

Current law requires that any major highway project, unlike other construction projects undertaken by the department of transportation (DOT), receive the approval of the transportation projects commission (TPC) and the legislature before the project may be constructed. A major highway project is a project having a total cost of more than $5,000,000 and involving construction of a new highway 2.5 miles or more in length; reconstruction or reconditioning of an existing highway that relocates at least 2.5 miles of the highway or adds one or more lanes 5 miles or more in length to the highway; or improvement of an existing multilane divided highway to freeway standards.

This bill adds 6 major highway projects recommended by TPC to the list of 69 projects already approved for construction.

DRIVERS

Under current law, most drivers' licenses and identification cards (ID cards) issued by DOT must be renewed every 4 years. This bill increases the renewal period of a driver's license or ID card from 4 to 6 years. The bill increases related fees as follows:

1. For initial issuance of a regular driver's license, from $15 to $18; for renewal, from $10 to $18.
2. For initial issuance or renewal of a license to operate commercial motor vehicles (primarily large trucks and buses), from $32 to $48.
3. For initial issuance of a license to operate most motorcycles, from $4 to $9; for renewal, from $4 to $6.
4. For initial issuance or renewal of an ID card, from $4 to $9.

The bill also increases the biennial registration fee for motorcycles and mopeds that weigh less than 1,500 pounds from $20 to $23.

Under current law, a person under the age of 19 is prohibited from driving or operating a motor vehicle if the person has any alcohol in his or her blood. This bill changes that age to the legal drinking age, which is currently 21.

Under current law, applicants for a driver's license are required to take a road test. This bill permits DOT, by rule, to waive the road test of an applicant for a regular driver's license who is under 18 years of age if the applicant has completed an enhanced driver education course, approved by DOT, if the applicant has satisfied the driving skills requirements of the course, and if the applicant has also completed a specified number of hours of additional driving time while accompanied by a qualified instructor or a licensed person at least 25 years of age with not less than 2 years of licensed experience. The applicant's parent, stepparent or other adult sponsor must certify that the applicant has satisfactorily completed this additional driving time.

Under current law, DOT may contract with 3rd-party testers to conduct road tests for commercial motor vehicle drivers, abbreviated road tests for school bus drivers and special examinations for school bus drivers. This bill permits DOT to contract with 3rd-party testers to conduct road tests for noncommercial motor vehicle drivers, except road tests for authorization to operate certain motorcycles.

Currently, if a court imposes a fine or forfeiture (civil monetary penalty) on a person convicted of an offense related to driving while under the influence of an intoxicant, the court must impose a driver improvement surcharge of $300. Approximately 70% of the revenue from that surcharge is kept by the county where the conviction occurred and the remainder is forwarded to the state treasurer. Part of that state money is used for state driver improvement programs and part is distributed by the department of health and family services to counties for driver treatment programs.

This bill increases the driver improvement surcharge by $15 and appropriates a portion of the surcharge to DOT for the purchase and maintenance of breath screening instruments.

This bill increases the annual fee for a driver school instructor's license from $5 to $25 and increases the fee for a driver school license (paid by the operator of the school) from $25 to $75 and to $95 after August 31, 1998.

Under current law, a nonresident who wishes to reinstate his or her Wisconsin operating privilege after a period of revocation must file proof of financial responsibility with DOT (proof of the nonresident's ability to respond in damages for liability arising from his or her use of a motor vehicle). This bill eliminates this requirement.

Current law generally requires drivers to remain at least 500 feet behind authorized emergency vehicles, including police cars, fire trucks and ambulances, that are responding to a call or alarm. This bill prohibits a driver from following closer than 200 feet behind a snowplow that is engaged in the removal or treatment of snow or ice upon a highway.

MOTOR VEHICLES

Current law specifically requires, with limited exceptions, that the owner of a motor vehicle register the vehicle with DOT if the vehicle is subject to registration in this state. This bill requires the lessee of a motor vehicle to register the vehicle with DOT unless the lease period is less than one year. The bill imposes on the lessee the same vehicle registration and financial responsibility duties that currently apply to the vehicle owner, but does not permit the vehicle to be impounded under the financial responsibility laws of this state.

Current law imposes upon the owner of a motor vehicle liability for certain traffic and parking violations, including fleeing a traffic officer, illegally passing a school bus or crossing a controlled school crossing, and parking in areas reserved for vehicles used by physically disabled persons. This bill imposes liability on the lessee of a vehicle if the vehicle is registered, or is required to be registered, by the lessee. The bill also provides that certain provisions relating to vehicle removal, seizure, impoundment, immobilization, towing or storage, or to the seizure of vehicle parts, also apply to the lessee.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

Under current law, DOT issues and delivers a certificate of title to the owner of a motor vehicle upon receipt of an application and the fee required for titling the vehicle. However, if a secured party holds legal title to a vehicle, the debtor is considered the owner of the vehicle and the certificate of title is issued and delivered to the debtor if the debtor has the immediate right of possession of the vehicle.

This bill requires DOT, if there is a perfected security interest in a motor vehicle, to deliver the certificate of title to the secured party having the primary perfected security interest in the vehicle. DOT may deliver a certificate of title by electronic transmission. The bill also permits an application for a certificate of title and related forms to be in an automated format.

Under current law, with specific exceptions, a person suffering damage caused by the negligent operation of a motor vehicle that is owned and operated by a political subdivision of this state may file a claim for damages and commence a lawsuit against that political subdivision. Under this bill, a political subdivision is not liable for damages caused by the operation of a snowplow if the damage occurred while the snowplow was engaged in the removal or treatment of snow or ice.

Currently, most motor vehicle registrants may obtain for their vehicles special license plates that identify the bearer as affiliated with a special group. No additional fee is assessed to issue or reissue special plates associated with endangered resources, but an additional fee of $15 is assessed to issue or reissue special plates related to certain campuses of the University of Wisconsin System and an additional fee of $10 is assessed to issue or reissue all other special plates. This bill provides that an additional fee of $15 is assessed for the issuance or reissuance of all special plates, including endangered resources special plates.

In addition, current law assesses fees of $5 or $10 for issuance or reissuance of license plates that identify the registrant as an ex-prisoner of war, national guard member, amateur radio station licensee or collector of special interest vehicles. This bill increases to $15 the fee to issue or reissue these license plates.

Under current law, a person who is required to demonstrate proof of financial responsibility for the future with respect to the operation of motor vehicles must submit or have submitted a written certification of insurance to DOT. This bill provides that, if an insurer submits more than 1,000 such certifications (or recertifications) of insurance in any year, the insurer must pay to DOT a transaction fee of $1.50 per certification or recertification that is not transmitted electronically to DOT.

Current law prescribes an annual vehicle registration fee of $12 for a mobile home that is 25 feet or less in length, and $18 for a mobile home that is more than 25 feet in length. The annual vehicle registration fee for a camping trailer that weighs more than 3,000 pounds is the same as the fee for a mobile home of the same length.

This bill establishes a single annual vehicle registration fee of $15 for a mobile home that is 45 feet or less in length and for a camping trailer that weighs more than 3,000 pounds.

The bill also prohibits DOT from registering or initially titling mobile homes that are more than 45 feet in length. The effect is that security interests given in these mobile homes must be perfected by filing a financing statement with the department of financial institutions, instead of DOT.

Current law prescribes a $5 annual registration fee for a semitrailer that weighs more than 3,000 pounds, that is owned by or leased to a farmer and that is used exclusively to transport farming supplies or produce. This bill allows such a semitrailer to be permanently registered for $50, except that the owner of a semitrailer currently registered under the annual registration fee may permanently register the semitrailer for $5.

Current law requires DOT to issue distinctive license plates for driver education vehicles. This bill eliminates this requirement.

TRANSPORTATION AIDS

Current federal law authorizes the U.S. department of transportation to distribute $150,000,000 in federal funds to up to 10 states accepted to participate in a transportation infrastructure bank pilot program. Federal funds, matched by a 25% contribution of funds from the participating state, may be provided by the state to cities, villages, towns and counties (political subdivisions) to assist with highway and transit capital projects. Such assistance may be provided in the form of loans, credit enhancements, interest rate subsidies or similar financial assistance.

This bill creates a transportation infrastructure loan and assistance program to be administered by DOT, with the approval of the department of administration (DOA), to provide loans and other financial assistance to political subdivisions for highway and transit capital projects. Recipients must repay any loans or assistance provided by this state under the program. The bill authorizes DOT to receive federal grants designated for the program, to meet federal requirements for contributions of state funds to the program and to issue $100 in revenue bonds for the program. The bill requires DOT and DOA to promulgate rules, consistent with applicable federal requirements, that establish eligibility criteria for applicants and projects and that establish the terms and conditions of loans and assistance under the program.

The bill also creates a segregated fund, called the transportation infrastructure loan fund, consisting of all moneys related to the program.

This bill allows DOT to make aid payments to a professional baseball park district for the state's share of costs for the development of transportation-related facilities, including highways and bridges, associated with the construction of a new stadium to be used by the Milwaukee Brewers.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100*RAIL AND AIR TRANSPORTATION

Under current law, the state may issue up to $14,500,000 in general obligation bonds for the acquisition of rail property and for grants and loans awarded by DOT for certain rail property acquisitions and improvements. This bill increases this authorized bonding limit to $19,000,000.

Under current law, the office of the commissioner of railroads (OCR) is primarily funded by collections of annual assessments against railroads. The assessments are based on expenditures of OCR, but may not exceed an amount equal to 1.75% of the prior year's gross operating revenues of the railroads that are derived from intrastate operations.

This bill bases the annual assessments collected from railroads not on the expenditures of OCR, but on an amount equal to 1.75% of the prior year's gross operating revenues of the railroads that are derived from intrastate operations. Any balance remaining after funding the operations of OCR is required to be used for railroad crossing protection improvements.

Under current law, DOT administers a rail passenger service assistance and promotion program. Under the program, DOT may contract with Amtrak and other railroads. DOT may also contract for marketing studies and promotional activities, subject to a local matching contribution requirement.

This bill makes changes in the program by permitting DOT to do any of the following:

1. Acquire equipment and to sell or lease the equipment.
2. Enter into agreements with other states to assist or promote rail passenger service.
3. Contract with other persons with respect to rail passenger service. The bill also allows DOT to enter into contracts with respect to rail passenger service without competitive bidding or competitive sealed proposals.
4. Conduct marketing studies and promotional activities related to rail passenger service. The bill also eliminates the local matching contribution requirement with respect to contracts for marketing studies or promotional activities.

This bill increases from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 this state's authority to issue general obligation bonds to finance grants awarded by DOT for harbor improvements.

Under current law, DOT administers several programs related to aesthetic and qualitative enhancements of transportation facilities. This bill creates a transportation enhancement activities program, to be administered consistent with federal regulations that govern the use of federal funds for such activities.

Under current law, DOT maintains a state traffic patrol to enforce and assist in the administration of traffic and parking laws. Among other duties, the state traffic patrol currently provides escort services, for a reasonable charge, to oversize or overweight vehicles traveling upon a highway whenever such an escort is considered necessary.

This bill allows DOT to impose a fee for security and traffic enforcement services provided by the state traffic patrol at any public event that charges spectators an admission fee, if the event is organized by a private organization.

VETERANS AND MILITARY AFFAIRS

Currently, a veteran is eligible for loans of up to $5,000 under the economic assistance loan program for the purchase of numerous items, including a business, the education of the veteran or his or her children and for repairing or adding to his or her business or property. Current law also provides for loans of up to $15,000 to veterans under the veterans trust fund stabilization loan program for the purchase of a mobile home, the payment of medical or funeral expenses, consolidation of debt or for the items included in the economic assistance loan program.

This bill abolishes these 2 programs and instead establishes a veterans personal loan program to make loans to veterans and veterans' dependents for some of the items covered in the 2 abolished programs. The bill limits a loan to $15,000, or a lesser amount if established by the department of veterans affairs (DVA) by rule, and eliminates use of the loans for home additions or garage construction. Under the new program, a veteran's remarried surviving spouse or the parent of a deceased veteran's children may receive a loan for the education of certain children of the veteran.

Currently, veterans applying for an economic assistance loan are subject to an income limit of $36,600 plus $500 for each dependent in excess of 2 dependents. This new loan program has no income limit. Currently, mortgage loans to veterans are provided from the veterans mortgage loan repayment fund. This bill permits DVA to loan moneys from the veterans mortgage loan repayment fund to the veterans trust fund in order to provide loans to veterans under the veterans trust fund loan stabilization program (renamed the veterans personal loan program under the bill).

Currently DVA makes loans to veterans for the purchase of a mobile home, a home, rehabilitation of a home, and other home-related improvements. This bill prohibits DVA from making a loan under this program for the purchase of a home that exceeds 2.5 times the median price of a home in this state.

Currently, all loans under this program must be secured by a mortgage on the real estate involved. This bill requires loans of $3,000 or less to be secured by a guarantor or by a mortgage on the real estate involved.

Currently, veterans who served in the U.S. armed forces during peacetime are not eligible for certain veterans benefits. Peacetime veterans are those veterans who served in the U.S. armed forces during a period when no war or specified engagement, such as in Bosnia, was occurring, for 2 consecutive years, for the full period of their initial obligation or who, during that period, were discharged by reason of hardship or a service-connected disability or released due to a reduction in the U.S. armed forces.

This bill requires county veterans' service officers to provide a decent and respectable burial for peacetime veterans. The bill adds the burial places of peacetime veterans to those that DVA is required to record. The bill makes peacetime veterans eligible for the veteran's tuition and fee reimbursement program, the veterans personal loan program, the correspondence and part-time classroom study program, the retraining grant program, the veterans housing loan program and admission to the Wisconsin Veterans Home at King. The bill also prohibits barring from public employment peacetime veterans who suffered a physical disability as a direct result of military service.

Currently, a veteran is eligible to receive reimbursement for 50% of the veteran's tuition and fees, other than textbooks and certain other costs, for classes as an undergraduate in the University of Wisconsin (UW) System or for classes in any state technical college. In addition, a veteran is eligible to receive reimbursement of up to $300 per course and reimbursement for the costs of necessary textbooks from the correspondence course and part-time classroom study program. In most cases, the course must be through a public or private high school or institution of higher education located in this state. The current retraining grant program allows DVA to give a veteran up to $3,000 for retraining to obtain gainful employment if the retraining takes place at an institution of higher education located in this state or in certain approved on-the-job training programs.

This bill expands the schools that a veteran may attend under the tuition and fee reimbursement program to include those institutions of higher education in Minnesota that waive nonresident tuition under the Minnesota-Wisconsin student reciprocity agreement. The bill allows a veteran to apply under the tuition and fee reimbursement program for courses completed within 10 years of his or her separation from service, instead of within 6 years of that separation, as currently provided. The bill limits the tuition and fee reimbursement to 50% of the cost for a resident to attend an equivalent undergraduate course at the UW-Madison. The bill also eliminates reimbursement for the cost of textbooks under the correspondence course and part-time classroom study program.

Currently, the health care aid grant program expires on June 30, 1997. This bill continues the program, which provides grants to veterans or their dependents to meet medical or hospital bills of up to $5,000 for a maximum of 30 days within a one-year period, until June 30, 1999. The bill requires DVA to deny a health care aid grant application if the combined liquid assets of the veteran and veteran's dependents who are living in the same household are in excess of $1,000. Currently, no limit is placed on liquid assets.

Currently, DVA makes a payment to each state veterans organization that maintains a full-service office at the U.S. department of veterans affairs regional office. The payment is equal to 25% of the organization's salaries and travel expenses paid to employes located at the regional office and engaged in veterans claims services. The payment is limited to a minimum of the lesser of the total salaries and travel expenses or $2,500 but not more than $15,000. This bill allows DVA to make an additional performance incentive award to an organization that receives a payment.

Currently, DVA administers a veterans rehabilitation program to assist veterans who are in need of services because of homelessness, incarceration or other reasons as designated by rule. Services may include medical care, dental care, education, employment and transitional housing. This bill eliminates the requirement that the services provided be rehabilitative and allows DVA to charge fees for services provided.

Currently, a veteran must be over 50 years of age to be eligible for admission to the Wisconsin Veterans Home at King, except that a disabled veteran under 50 years of age may be admitted if he or she is unable to obtain adequate care from the federal government. This bill eliminates this eligibility requirement.

Currently, DVA awards grants to counties to provide services to veterans through the county veterans' service offices. The award amounts are up to $1,000 for an initial year, up to $3,000 for the next year and up to $5,000 for any subsequent year. This bill changes the grant to a combination of a basic award, depending on the population of the county, and a production incentive award. The basic award ranges from $8,500 for counties with populations under 20,000 to $13,000 for counties with populations over 75,000. The amount of the production incentive award is determined by criteria to be promulgated by DVA by rule.

This bill raises the amount of general obligation bonds that the building commission may issue to fund veterans' housing loans by $40,000,000.

The department of military affairs (DMA) was given the authority in 1995 Wisconsin Act 27 to sell the national guard armory located in Whitefish Bay. The proceeds of the sale were to be used to pay any bonds related to the construction or purchase of the property and the remainder was to be used for tuition grants for national guard members. This bill provides that the remainder of the sale proceeds may be used for the payment of municipal assessments related to state-owned military property and the purchase, rental, repair and maintenance of state-owned military property.

Under current law, an eligible national guard member, upon completion of a course at a qualified school, is eligible for a grant equal to 50% of the tuition charged or 50% of the resident undergraduate tuition charged by the UW-Madison for a comparative number of credits, whichever is less. This bill increases the percentage paid from 50% to 100% of each tuition amount.

ASSEMBLY BILL 100

This bill requests the joint legislative audit committee to direct the legislative audit bureau to perform a financial and performance evaluation audit of the expenditures of the emergency response teams that respond to Level A releases of hazardous substances. Level A releases involve the release of the most dangerous hazardous substances, requiring the highest level of protection for the person involved in containing the releases.

OTHER

This bill will be referred to the joint survey committee on tax exemptions for a detailed analysis, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

Because this bill directly or substantially affects the development, construction, cost or availability of housing in this state, the department of administration, as required by law, will prepare a report to be printed as an appendix to this bill.

- 6 2. Maintenance.
- 7 3. Medical expenses of a child.
- 8 4. Birth expenses.
- 9 5. Any accrued interest on delinquent amounts under subsds. 1. to 4.

10 (2) CREATION OF LIEN; SATISFACTION. (a) Creation. If a person obligated to pay 11 support fails to pay any court-ordered amount of support, that amount is a lien in 12 favor of the department upon all property of the person. The lien is effective at the 13 time that the support is due and shall continue until the liability for the amount owed 14 is satisfied. The lien is perfected by being included in a support lien docket under 15 par. (b).

16 (b) Support lien docket. At least annually, the department shall provide to each 17 clerk of circuit court a statewide listing of all certifications of delinquent support that 18 the department provides to the department of revenue under s. 49.855. The 19 department shall also provide the listing to each state agency that titles personal 20 property. Upon receiving a listing under this paragraph, a clerk of court shall 21 promptly file the listing. The list constitutes a support lien docket in the office of each 22 clerk of circuit court. Each entry shall contain at least the following information:

- 23 1. The name of the obligor.
- 24 2. The social security number of the obligor.

2           (c) Updating support lien docket. A clerk of circuit court shall discard a list
3 under par. (b) when a new list is received from the department to replace the previous
4 list. The clerk of circuit court shall add or delete an entry in a support lien docket
5 in response to the directions of the department or a court.

6           (d) Amount of lien; satisfaction. The amount of any support obligation that is 7 a lien under this subsection may be determined by requesting that information from 8 the clerk of circuit court or county child support agency for the county in which the 9 support owed by the obligor is of record. Payment of the full amount that is 10 delinquent at the time of payment to that clerk extinguishes that lien. Upon request, 11 the clerk shall furnish to the payer of the delinquent amount a satisfaction of lien
12 showing that the amount of support owed has been paid in full and that the person 13 no longer owes any support with respect to the case number of the matter for which 14 the amount was paid. The satisfaction of lien may be recorded in the office of the 15 register of deeds for any county in which real and personal property of the person who 16 owed the support is located.

17           (3) NOTIFICATION AND APPEAL OF AUTOMATIC LIEN. (a) Notice and hearing. When 18 a delinquent support obligation is included in a listing provided to county clerks of 19 court under sub. (2) (b), the department shall provide notice to the obligor that a lien 20 exists with respect to the delinquent support obligation. The notice shall inform the 21 obligor that the lien is in effect and that the obligor may, within a 20-day period, by 22 motion, request a court hearing on the issue of whether support is owed by the 23 obligor. If the obligor makes a timely request for a hearing under this subsection, the 24 court or family court commissioner shall schedule a hearing within 10 business days
25 after the date of the request. If, at the hearing, the obligor establishes that the lien

ASSEMBLY BILL 100*SECTION 1987

1 is not proper because of a mistake of fact, the court or family court commissioner shall
2 direct that that the lien be withdrawn from the support lien dockets of all clerks of 3 circuit court and shall direct the department not to include the lien in future listings
4 provided under sub. (2) (b).

5 (b) Appeal. If a family court commissioner conducts the hearing under par. (a),
6 the department or the obligor may, within 15 business days after the date of the 7 decision by the family court commissioner, request review of the decision by the court
8 having jurisdiction over the action. The court conducting the review may order that 9 the lien be withdrawn from the support lien dockets of all clerks of circuit court. If 10 no appeal is sought or the court does not order the withdrawal of the lien, the 11 department may take appropriate actions to enforce the lien.

12 (4) POWERS OF LEVY AND DISTRAINT; GENERALLY. If any obligor neglects or refuses 13 to pay the support owed by the obligor after the department has made demand for 14 payment, the department may collect that support and the levy fees and costs under 15 sub. (11) by levy upon any property belonging to the obligor as provided in subs. (5)
16 to (7). Whenever the value of any property that has been levied upon under this 17 subsection is not sufficient to satisfy the claim of the department, the department 18 may levy upon any additional property of the obligor until the support owed and levy
19 costs are fully paid.

20 (5) LEVYING AGAINST FINANCIAL ACCOUNTS. (a) Definitions. In this subsection:

23 (b) Freezing of accounts. To enforce a lien under this section by levying against 24 an account at a financial institution, the department shall send a notice to the 25 financial institution instructing the financial institution to prohibit the closing of or

ASSEMBLY BILL 100*SECTION 1987

1 withdrawals from one or more accounts that the obligor owns in whole or in part, up
2 to a total amount that is sufficient to pay the support owed, financial institution fees
3 under par. (c) and estimated levy fees and costs under sub. (11), until further notice
4 from the department or a court.

6 (11) (a), a financial institution may collect any early withdrawal penalty incurred
7 under the terms of an account as a result of the levy. Financial institution fees
8 authorized under this paragraph may be charged to the account immediately prior 9 to the levy against the account under par. (e) and may be charged even if the amounts 10 in the obligor's accounts are insufficient to pay the total amount of support owed and 11 the department's levy costs under sub. (11) (b).

12 (d) Notice of intent to levy. No later than the next business day after the 13 department sends notice to the financial institution under par. (b), the department
14 shall send a notice of intent to levy to the obligor. The department shall also send 15 a notice to any other person in whose name the account is held. The notices required
16 under this paragraph shall be in the form determined by the department, however 17 the notice sent to the obligor must include language stating all of the following:

- 18 1. That the obligor has been certified as delinquent in paying support.

- 20 3. The financial institution to which the department sent the notice under par.
21 (b).

- 22 4. That one or more accounts owned in whole or in part by the obligor at the 23 financial institution have been frozen, up to a total amount that is sufficient pay the 24 support owed, the department's levy costs and financial institution fees, until further 25 notice from the department.

1           5. That, unless the obligor requests a hearing within 20 business days after the
2 date of the notice, the department may direct the financial institution to pay moneys
3 from one or more of the obligor's accounts to the department to pay the support owed.

4           6. The address to which the request for hearing must be mailed or delivered in 5 order to schedule a hearing.

6           (e) Notice of levy. If the obligor fails to make a timely request for a hearing, the 7 department shall provide the financial institution to which the department sent a 8 notice under par. (b) with a notice of levy ordering the financial institution to pay 9 moneys from one or more of the obligor's accounts to the department to pay the 10 support owed. A financial institution receiving a notice of levy under this paragraph 11 shall pay the moneys to the department in the manner, and within the time, specified 12 by rule or by agreement. If the department sends a a notice of levy to a financial 13 institution under this paragraph, the department shall send a copy of the notice of 14 levy to the obligor and to any other person in whose name the account is held.

15           (f) Hearings. A hearing requested under par. (d) 5. shall be conducted before 16 the circuit court rendering the order to pay support. Within 10 business days after 17 receiving a request for hearing under par. (d) 5., the court shall set the matter for 18 hearing. The family court commissioner may conduct the hearing. The sole issue at 19 the hearing shall be whether the obligor owes the amount of support certified. After 20 a decision in the hearing is issued, the department shall either send a notice of levy
21 to the financial institution under par. (e) ordering payment of the amount of support
22 owed or instructing the financial institution to release the accounts.

23           (6) LEVYING AGAINST OTHER PERSONAL PROPERTY. (a) When notice of seizure
24 required. If the department has enforced a lien under this section by levying against 25 personal property, the department shall immediately notify the obligor that the

ASSEMBLY BILL 100*SECTION 1987

1 property has been seized. The department shall provide the notice of seizure under
2 this paragraph to any person known to have a lien on the property and, if the property

17 request under par. (b) 4. If, at the hearing, the obligor establishes that the seizure 18 of the personal property was not proper because of a mistake of fact, the court or 19 family court commissioner shall direct that the department or its designee return the 20 seized personal property within 15 business days. If a family court commissioner 21 conducts the hearing under this paragraph, the department or the obligor may, 22 within 15 business days after the date that the family court commissioner made his 23 or her decision, request review of the decision by the court with jurisdiction over the 24 action. The court reviewing the decision may order the department to return the 25 seized property or may authorize the sale of the property by the department. If the

ASSEMBLY BILL 100*SECTION 1987

1 department is ordered to return seized property under this paragraph, the court
2 shall instruct any state agency responsible for titling the property that it may 3 transfer title to the property without receiving instructions from a court or the 4 department under par. (a).

5 (d) Notice of sale. As soon as practicable after seizing the personal property and 6 after any requested hearings are conducted under par. (c), the department shall send 7 a notice to the obligor indicating when and where the property will be sold. The 8 department shall publish or post the time and date of sale.

9 (e) Redemption. At any time after receiving the notice of sale under par. (d), 10 but before the property is sold, the obligor may redeem the property by paying the

13 that the agency may transfer title to the property without receiving instructions from 14 a court or the department under par. (a).

16 notice of sale under par. (d). The department shall give the purchaser of property
17 under this paragraph a certificate of sale upon payment in full of the purchase price.
18 If the property seized and sold is titled property, the department shall direct the state
19 agency that titled the property to transfer the title of the property to the purchaser
20 of the property.

21 (7) LEVYING AGAINST REAL PROPERTY. (a) When notice of intent to levy required.
22 To enforce a lien under this section by levying against real property, the department
23 shall provide the obligor with a notice of intent to levy. The notice shall be provided

14 commissioner shall schedule a hearing within 10 business days after receiving the 16 lien against the real property would not be proper because of a mistake of fact, the 17 court or family court commissioner shall direct the department not to proceed with 18 the levy. If a family court commissioner conducts the hearing under this paragraph, 19 the department or the obligor may, within 15 business days after the date that the 20 family court commissioner made his or her decision, request review of the decision

21 by the court with jurisdiction over the action. The court reviewing the decision may 22 direct the department not to proceed with the levy or may authorize the sale of the 23 property by the department.

24          (d) Final notice. Unless the department has been directed not to proceed with 25 the levy in a hearing under par. (c) or unless the obligor has paid the support owed

ASSEMBLY BILL 100*SECTION 1987

1 and any levy fees and costs under sub. (11), the department may send to the obligor
2 a final notice of intent to seize and sell the property. The final notice may not be sent 3 until 20 days after the date of the notice of intent to levy under par. (a) or after any 4 requested hearings under par. (c) have been completed. The final notice shall include
5 a date by which the obligor must vacate the premises and a date on which the 6 property will be sold, unless the obligor pays the support owed and any levy fees and 7 costs under sub. (11). The date in the notice by which the obligor must vacate the 8 premises must be at least 60 days after the date that the final notice is sent and the 9 date of sale must be at least 90 days after the date that the final notice is sent. The 10 department shall provide a copy of any final notice under this paragraph to the 11 register of deeds in the county where the real property is located. A register of deeds 12 receiving a final notice under this paragraph may not issue or transfer a deed for the 13 property, except on the instructions of a court or the department.

14 (e) Sale. The department shall publish a class 1 notice, under ch. 985, in the 15 county where the property is to be seized within 60 days after issuing the final notice
16 under par. (d). The obligor may redeem the property prior to the date of sale by 17 paying the full amount of support owed together with any levy fees and costs under 18 sub. (11). The department may proceed with the sale 30 days after the notice is 19 posted or published, unless the obligor has redeemed the property. If the obligor has 20 failed to redeem the property and has failed to vacate the property prior to the date
21 specified in the final notice, the department may issue an administrative order
22 directing a local law enforcement agency or official to escort the obligor and any other
23 residents off the property. The department may establish procedures for conducting 24 sales of property under this paragraph. The department shall instruct the county

ASSEMBLY BILL 100*SECTION 1987

1 register of deeds in the county where the property is located to issue a deed to any 2 person purchasing property sold under this paragraph.

3 (8) DUTIES TO SURRENDER; GENERALLY. Any person in possession of or obligated 4 with respect to property or rights to property that is subject to levy under this section
5 and upon which a levy has been made shall, upon demand of the department,
6 surrender the property or rights or discharge the obligation to the department,
7 except that part of the property or rights that is, at the time of the demand, subject
8 to any prior attachment or execution under any judicial process.

9 (9) NOTICE. Any notice required to be provided under this section may be 10 provided by sending the notice by regular mail to the last known address of the 11 person to whom notice is to be sent.

12 (10) FAILURE TO SURRENDER; ENFORCEMENT OF LEVY. (a) Proceedings against 13 obligor. Any obligor who fails or refuses to surrender any property or rights to 14 property that is subject to levy, upon demand by the department, is subject to 15 proceedings to enforce the amount of the levy.

16 (b) Proceedings against 3rd parties. A 3rd party who fails to surrender any 17 property or rights to property subject to levy, upon demand of the department, is 18 subject to proceedings to enforce the levy. The 3rd party is not liable to the 19 department under this paragraph for more than 25% of the support owed. The 20 department shall issue a determination to the 3rd party for the amount of the 21 liability.

22 (c) Surrender and discharge. When a 3rd party surrenders the property or 23 rights to the property on demand of the department or discharges the obligation to 24 the department for which the levy is made, the 3rd party is discharged from any

ASSEMBLY BILL 100*SECTION 1987

1 obligation or liability to the obligor with respect to the property or rights to the 2 property arising from the surrender or payment to the department.

3 (11) LEVY FEES AND COSTS. (a) Third parties. Any 3rd party is entitled to a levy
4 fee of $5 for each levy in any case where property is secured through the levy. The 5 3rd party shall deduct the fee from the proceeds of the levy.

6 (b) The department. The department may assess a collection fee to recover the 7 department's costs incurred in levying against property under this section. The 8 department shall determine its costs to be paid in all cases of levy. The obligor is 9 liable to the department for the amount of the collection fee authorized under this 10 paragraph. Fees collected under this paragraph shall be credited to the 11 appropriation account under s. 20.445 (1) (L).

12 (12) USE OF PROCEEDS. (a) Priorities. After paying any liens on a property that 13 have priority over a lien under this section, the department shall apply all proceeds 14 from a sale of that property under this section first against the support in respect to 15 which the levy was made and then against levy fees and costs under sub. (11).

16 (b) Refunds or credits. The department may refund or credit any amount left 17 after the applications under par. (a), upon submission of a claim therefor and 18 satisfactory proof of the claim, to the person entitled to that amount.

19 (13) RELEASE OF LEVY; SUSPENSION OF PROCEEDINGS TO ENFORCE LIEN. (a) Release.
20 The department may release the levy upon all or part of property levied upon to 21 facilitate the collection of the liability or to grant relief from a wrongful levy, but that 22 release does not prevent any later levy.

23 (b) Settlement. If the county child support agency accepts a plan for the 24 payment of support owed by an obligor, the department shall suspend all actions to

ASSEMBLY BILL 100*SECTION 1987

1 enforce a lien under this section as long as the obligor remains in compliance with 2 the payment plan.

3 (14) WRONGFUL LEVY. If the department determines that property has been 4 wrongfully levied upon, the department may return the property at any time, or may 5 return an amount of money equal to the amount of money, or value of the property,
6 levied upon.

7 (15) ACTIONS AGAINST THIS STATE. (a) Commencement of actions. If the 8 department has levied upon property, any person, other than the obligor who is liable
9 to pay the support out of which the levy arose, who claims an interest in or lien on 10 that property and claims that that property was wrongfully levied upon may bring 11 a civil action against the state in the circuit court for Dane County. If the county child 12 support agency has levied upon property pursuant to delegated authority under sub.
13 (17), any person, other than the obligor who is liable to pay the support out of which 14 the levy arose, who claims an interest in or lien on that property and claims that that 15 property was wrongfully levied upon may bring a civil action against the county child 16 support agency in the circuit court for the county where the court order for the 17 payment of support, upon which the seizure is based, was first entered or last 18 modified. That action may be brought whether or not that property has been 19 surrendered to the department or the county child support agency. The court may 20 grant only the relief under par. (b). No other action to question the validity of or 21 restrain or enjoin a levy by the department or a county child support agency may be 22 maintained.

23 (b) Remedies. In an action under par. (a), if a levy would irreparably injure
24 rights to property, the court may enjoin the enforcement of that levy. If the court

ASSEMBLY BILL 100*SECTION 1987

1 determines that the property has been wrongfully levied upon, it may grant a
2 judgment for the amount of money obtained by levy.

3 (c) Validity of determination. For purposes of an adjudication under this
4 subsection, the support obligation upon which the lien is based is conclusively
5 presumed to be valid.

6 (16) RESTRICTION ON EMPLOYMENT PENALTIES BY REASON OF LEVY. No employer
7 may discharge or otherwise discriminate with respect to the terms and conditions of 8 employment against any employe by reason of the fact that his or her property has 9 been subject to levy for any one levy or because of compliance with any provision of

7 professionals who are not involved in the patient's care, that the medication or 8 treatment is appropriate for the purpose of ameliorating the patient's condition and 9 represents exercise of treatment techniques and procedures that are reasonable and 15 patient's counsel, if any, the patient and the applicable counsel under s. 51.20 (4), the 16 court may enter the order if the court determines that the patient's interest in not 17 consenting to the treatment in question is outweighed by the interest of the public 18 and the patient in effective treatment of the conditions for which the patient was 19 admitted to the system. The hearing under this subd. 1. c. shall meet the 20 requirements of s. 51.20 (5), except for the right to a jury trial. At the request of the

1 (i) "Period of certification" means a period of not more than 17 years beginning
2 after the department certifies the environmental remediation tax incremental base
3 of a parcel of property under sub. (4) or a period before all eligible costs have been
