Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, a person may not engage in the practice of pharmacy unless he or she is granted a license by the pharmacy examining board (board) in the department of regulation and licensing (DORL) and the license is renewed every 2 years. The practice of pharmacy does not include administering any drug products or devices by injection, ingestion or any other means. Currently, with certain exceptions, only health care professionals who are licensed as a physician, podiatrist, nurse, dentist or optometrist have such authority.

This bill requires a pharmacist who applies for renewal of his or her license to submit proof that, during the preceding 2 years, he or she has completed 30 hours of continuing education in courses approved by the board or in courses conducted by providers who are approved by the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education.

In addition, the bill expands the practice of pharmacy to include the administration of drug products and devices, including vaccines. Under the bill, a pharmacist may administer a vaccine only if the pharmacist and a physician have agreed to a written "vaccination protocol", which establishes procedures for the pharmacist to administer the vaccine for a period of no more than 2 years. In addition, the pharmacist must have completed 12 hours in a course in vaccination storage, protocols, injection technique, emergency procedures and record keeping. For drug products and devices that are not vaccines, a prescription is required for a pharmacist to administer the drug product or device. In addition, a pharmacist may not administer such a drug product or device by injection unless he or she has completed a course in injection technique.

If a pharmacist completes either the course in injection technique or the 12-hour course required for administering vaccines, the bill requires that he or she maintain proof of completion and, upon request, he or she must submit a copy of such proof to the board or DORL. Finally, either the course in injection technique or the 12-hour course may be used in satisfying the bill's continuing education requirements.
