1 To renumber section 2 of article V; and to create section 2 (2) of article V of the
2 constitution; relating to: limiting the number of terms permitted for governors
3 (first consideration).

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Currently, there is no limit upon the number of terms in which a person may serve as governor.

This proposed constitutional amendment, proposed to the 2001 legislature on first consideration, prohibits any person from serving as governor for more than 2 terms. Under the proposal, service for at least 2 years in a partial term is subject to the limitation. Service for less than 2 years in a partial term is not subject to the limitation. The proposal initially applies to the first term that commences after ratification of this subsection.

A constitutional amendment requires adoption by 2 successive legislatures, and ratification by the people, before it can become effective.
