962.01 Security for good conduct. Judges of the courts of record and court commissioners and justices of the peace have power to enforce the laws for the preservation of the public peace and in the execution of that power may require persons to give security to keep the peace or for their good behavior or both, in the manner provided in this chapter.

962.02 Complaint of threats. When a complaint is made to any such magistrate that any person has threatened to commit a crime against the person or property of another, the magistrate shall examine the complainant and any witnesses produced on oath and reduce the complaint to writing and require the complainant to sign it.

962.03 Warrant and arrest. If upon the examination it appears that there is probable cause to fear that any such crime will be committed, the magistrate shall issue a warrant reciting the substance of the complaint and require the officer to whom it is directed to arrest the defendant and bring him before such magistrate or some other magistrate or court having jurisdiction.

962.04 Examination. The magistrate before whom the defendant is brought shall, as soon as may be, examine the complainant and the witnesses to support the prosecution on oath in presence of the defendant in relation to the charge. The defendant may cross-examine them.

962.05 Witnesses and counsel. The witnesses for the defendant shall then be sworn and examined. The defendant may have counsel.

962.06 Bail bond. If it appears upon examination that there is cause to fear that any such crime will be committed by the defendant, he shall be required to give a bond with sufficient sureties in such sum as the magistrate directs to keep the peace toward all of the people of this state and especially toward the person requiring such security for such time as the magistrate orders, not exceeding 6 months.

962.07 Discharge. Upon complying with the order of the magistrate, the defendant shall be discharged.

962.08 When committed. If the defendant fails to comply with the order, the magistrate shall commit him to the county jail during the period for which he was required to give security or until he gives security, stating in the commitment the cause, the sum and the time for which security was required.

962.09 Discharge; costs. If upon examination it does not appear that there is cause to fear that any such crime will be committed by the defendant, he shall be discharged, and if the magistrate deems the complaint unfounded, frivolous or malicious, he shall so certify in his docket and enter judgment against the complainant for the taxable costs of prosecution as provided in s. 960.22.

962.10 Costs in other cases. When no order respecting the costs is made, they shall be allowed and paid in the same manner as costs before justices in criminal prosecutions; but in all cases where a person is required to give security for good behavior, the magistrate may further order the costs of prosecution or any part thereof to be paid by him, and he shall stand committed until such costs are paid, or he is otherwise legally discharged.

962.11 Appeal. A person so required to give security for his behavior may appeal to the circuit court. The appeal shall not stay the order.
