Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, a person who intentionally causes bodily harm to another, without the other person's consent, commits the crime of ordinary battery and, upon conviction, is subject to a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than 9 months or both. The current law provides higher penalties for other types of battery, such as battery to a law enforcement officer, probation and parole agent, fire fighter, witness or juror. This bill creates a new battery crime if a person intentionally causes bodily harm to an emergency room worker without the victim's consent. Upon conviction, the violator is subject to a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than 5 years or both.
