1 AN ACT relating to: grants to establish and expand graduate training in an
2 addiction specialty and making an appropriation.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Generally, this bill expands graduate medical training in an addiction specialty. The bill allows the Department of Health Services to award grants to hospitals under an existing graduate medical training grant program to increase the number of physicians trained in an addiction specialty. To receive a grant, a hospital must expand fellowship positions in addiction medicine or addiction psychiatry for physicians practicing in specialties for which a hospital may currently receive a grant. Those specialties are family medicine, general internal medicine, general surgery, pediatrics, or psychiatry. Currently, DHS awards grants to hospitals to add positions to their existing accredited graduate medical training program.

The bill also allows DHS to award a grant to a hospital for the development of an addiction specialist training program under an existing grant program designed to promote establishment of graduate medical training programs in rural hospitals. To receive a grant under the bill, the hospital must create a fellowship program in addiction medicine or addiction psychiatry for physicians in family medicine, general internal medicine, general surgery, pediatrics, or psychiatry, which are the specialties for which a rural hospital may currently receive a grant for establishing a graduate medical training program.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
