Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, a local public official is prohibited from using his or her public position or office to obtain financial gain or anything of substantial value for his or her private benefit or for the benefit of his or her immediate family, or for an organization with which he or she is associated. Also under current law, no person may offer or give to a local public official, and no such official may solicit or accept from any person, anything of value if it could reasonably be expected to influence the local public official's vote, official actions or judgment, or could reasonably be considered as a reward for any official action or inaction on the part of the local public official.

Under this bill, if the governing body of a local governmental unit, which is defined to include a city, village, town, county, special purpose district or instrumentality or subunit of any of these units of government, is offered anything of value from any person, which could reasonably be expected to influence a local public official or any action taken, or not taken, by the governing body of a local governmental unit, or which could reasonably be considered as a reward for any official action or inaction by a local public official or by the governing body of a local governmental unit, the local governmental unit must hold a public hearing before the thing of value is accepted. The public hearing requirement applies if the thing of value is conditioned on an action being taken, or not being taken by the governing body of the local governmental unit or if the person offering the thing of value is likely to directly benefit from an action being taken, or not being taken by the governing body. The public hearing may not take place before public notice of the hearing is published. The notice must provide information on the value of the thing of value and any conditions which may be attached to acceptance of the thing of value.
