Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, no state crime is punishable by the death penalty. This bill provides for either a death penalty (by lethal injection) or life imprisonment (with or without restrictions on eligibility for parole or supervised release) for first-degree intentional homicide committed by a person who has one or more previous convictions for first-degree intentional homicide or an equivalent crime under federal law, prior law of this state or the law of another state. A first conviction for first-degree homicide remains punishable by life imprisonment.

The procedure for determining whether the death penalty would be imposed is the subject of a proceeding that is separate from the regular trial. After a second or subsequent conviction for first-degree intentional homicide, the court reconvenes the trial jury, or, if there was no jury trial or the trial jury is unable to continue, a new jury is summoned. The defendant may waive the right to a jury. Evidence is then presented regarding various aggravating or mitigating circumstances relating to the crime and the defendant.

If the jury is not waived, the jury hears the evidence and then gives an advisory sentence to the judge of either life imprisonment or death. If the jury recommends life imprisonment, it may further recommend a complete or substantial restriction of the defendant's eligibility for parole or extended supervision. The judge, not bound by the advisory sentence, then weighs the aggravating and mitigating circumstances and enters the sentence of either life imprisonment or death. If life imprisonment is imposed, the judge may completely or substantially restrict the defendant's eligibility for parole or extended supervision. If the judge chooses the death sentence he or she must set forth his or her findings in writing. Any death sentence is subject to automatic appellate review by the supreme court.

The judge that imposes the death sentence sets the execution date. The secretary of corrections designates the executioner. One physician and 12 citizen witnesses must be present at the execution.

This bill applies only to those offenses committed on or after its effective date (the day after publication).

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

15 supervision eligibility.

16 (3) (a) Notwithstanding the recommendation of a majority of the jury, the court,
17 after weighing the aggravating and mitigating circumstances, shall enter a sentence
18 of life imprisonment or death, but if the court imposes a sentence of death, it shall 19 set forth in writing its findings upon which the sentence of death is based as to the 20 facts:

21 1. That sufficient aggravating circumstances exist under sub. (5); and

23 outweigh the aggravating circumstances.

6 (4) If a death sentence is imposed, the judgment of conviction and sentence of 7 death is subject to automatic review by the supreme court within 60 days after 8 certification by the sentencing court of the entire record, unless the supreme court,
9 for good cause shown, extends the time for an additional period not to exceed 30 days.
10 The review by the supreme court has priority over all other cases and shall be heard
11 in accordance with rules promulgated by the supreme court.

12 (5) The court and jury shall consider one or more of the following as 13 aggravating circumstances:
