Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, in lieu of paying local property taxes, a private light, heat and power company and an electric cooperative pay a license fee to the state based on a percentage of the company's or cooperative's gross revenues that are attributable to this state. A private light, heat and power company pays a license fee based, in part, on multiplying its gross revenues from the sale of gas services by 0.97 percent and multiplying its other gross revenues by 3.19 percent. An electric cooperative pays a license fee based, in part, on multiplying its gross revenues by 3.19 percent.

Under the bill, a private light, heat and power company and an electric cooperative pay a license fee to the state based, in part, on multiplying the company's or cooperative's gross revenues from the sale of wholesale electricity by 1.59 percent. The license fee applies to gross revenues from the sale of wholesale electricity that are earned during tax periods beginning on July 1, 2002, and ending on June 30, 2008. A private light, heat and power company will continue to pay a license fee under current law based on multiplying its gross revenues from the sale of gas services by 0.97 percent and multiplying its other gross revenues, except revenues from the sale of wholesale electricity, by 3.19 percent. An electric cooperative will continue to pay a license fee under current law based on multiplying its gross revenues, except revenues from the sale of wholesale electricity, by 3.19 percent.

SENATE BILL 506

Under current law, the property of a qualified wholesale electric company located in a municipality is excluded from the calculation of the municipality's shared revenue payments from the state. Under the bill, the property of a wholesale merchant plant located in a municipality is also excluded from the calculation of the municipality's shared revenue payments.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
